FULLY EQUIPPED STILL DISCOVERED

Sheriff Reports Finding of Cleverly Hidden Whiskey Plant Under Portland House.

What is said to be one of the most elaborate moonshine stills ever discovered in this part of the country was uncovered by Sheriff Hurlburt and a party of his men Friday night, said to have been at the home of Alex Ferravis, an Italian shipyard worker, at 279 Argyle street.

According to Sheriff Hurlburt's description of the place, the still was built in an excavation under the front part of the house, a tunnel having been originally dug in from one side for a distance of about 50 feet to the front of the house, where the excavation was made. This tunnel, used to install the equipment, was afterward filled in and sealed, and as the entrance was in a shed built onto the house, it could not be noticed at all. Ferravis, according to the sheriff's party, had then dug a small tunnel starting from a small hole in the floor of a closet, giving just room enough for one man to crawl in.

The moonshine still was so completely installed, according to the report, that it was not possible to take it out at the time of the raid, but will have to be demolished in the excavation. It had two sets of kettles, four 50-gallon and two 60-gallon mash tanks and other equipment proportionately large. About the house, according to the report, were found 35 gallons of moonshine hidden in the attic and in the bedroom and so well covered that it could not have been found without the aid of a tip, and two 10-gallon tanks buried in the yard, besides.

Switzerland Thinks It Might Be Well to Keep Out Bolsheviki

Geneva, May 24.—(I. N. S.)—The Swiss government has decided to prevent the entrance of Bolshevik revolutionists into this country to avoid straining relations with the entente, it was learned today.

The Swiss have a knotty problem on their hands with 30,000 Germans and 20,000 Austrians, in every station of life from princess to peasants, seeking to live here.

It is announced that at Berne a new government department, consisting of 200 attaches, will be created to deal with this question. All applicants for admission will be closely investigated.

Texans Vote Today On Equal Suffrage And on Prohibition

Dallas, Texas, May 24.—(I. N. S.)—Voters of Texas are at the polls today deciding whether they will adopt four important constitutional amendments. Chief interest attaches to the outcome of the vote on the prohibition and the equal suffrage amendments.

Proposals to increase the salary of the governor from $4000 per year to $10,000, and the creation of a state fund to encourage home owning also are on the ballot.

Rain is falling throughout the state and it is believed this will result in a light vote.

By a special act of the legislature discharged soldiers are permitted to vote in today's election.

Wickersham Wants Soldiers Helped to Settle in Alaska

Seattle, May 24.—(I. N. S.)—James Wickersham is here today en route to Washington to be present at the contest proceedings for the seat in congress as delegate from Alaska.

He states that he will present a bill to congress appropriating $4,000,000 for the completion of the government railroad in Alaska and will also ask congress for the settlement in Alaska of returned soldiers who lack the financial means to pay their passage or living expenses for the first year or so.

He predicts the passage of the coal, oil and gas act, which was killed at the last session of congress, opening up to individuals government lands on which there is either coal, oil or gas. This bill was passed by the house but was shelved in the senate during the rush of business that required attention during the closing days.

Alleged Ransacking Of House by Police Being Investigated

Police Inspectors Coleman and Morak are busy trying to find out who the policemen are who are alleged to have broken into the house of S. Panoff at 192 North Fourteenth street on Thursday. Panoff reported to the detective bureau Friday that the padlock had been broken off the rear door of his house and the rooms ransacked. Nothing was taken. Mrs. D. Francisco, a neighbor, told the detectives she had seen a uniformed and plain clothes officer walking about in the house.

Someone walked into the yard of Mrs. B. F. Hansgen at 590 Couch street Friday and stole her garden hose. Daniel Napera of the Esmond hotel reported the theft of two suits of clothes from his room.

I., who are scheduled to start today for the West, and 93 from Newport News, who left there Thursday. The group leaving Thursday should arrive here about Wednesday and those leaving today should arrive here about next Friday. Their identity is not known here, but it is probable that they are from units that arrived in the East about two weeks ago.

Settlement Sought In Shipyard Strike

San Pedro, Cal., May 24.—(U. P.)—The shop committee, representing 600 machinists on strike at the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock company's yards, went into conference with representatives of the company at 9 o'clock this morning in an effort to settle the strike. The possibility of the Metal Trades council calling out all crafts in the yard if a settlement is not reached, was the outstanding feature looming behind this morning's meeting.

LABOR NOTES

The Central Labor council Thursday night indorsed the resolution of the San Francisco Central Labor council "in favor of the calling of a national industrial conference to be composed of an equal number of representatives of organized labor and of organized capital," to consider industrial matters. This is along the same lines as many labor organizations have demanded in Great Britain of the British government.

The Boilermakers' union has arranged for a picnic at Crystal Lake park on Decoration day and has sold many tickets among the organized workers of the city.

The Central Labor Council Thursday night donated by a three fourths vote $25 to aid the Soldiers' and Sailors' union of Tacoma in its fight in the courts growing out of the street riots some time ago because that organization undertook to sell tags without permission from the Tacoma city council.

Control of German Emigration Sought

By Paul Scott Mowrer
Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.
(Copyright, 1919, by Chicago Daily News Co.)

Paris, May 24.—Confirming the idea prevalent here that the economic terms of the peace treaty will result in widespread German emigration dispatches from Switzerland announce the formation in Berlin of a great emigration organization patronized by eminent personages. The purpose of the organization is to prevent German emigrants from dispersing themselves over a wide territory, thus weakening their influence. It is hoped to be able so to direct emigration so as to keep the Germans in dense national groups which will later form kernels of so many new Germanys.
