

NO-4 TRIP HALTED BY HIGH WIND

Commander Read Sends Word Machine Is O. K. and That He Expects to Continue to Vigo.

Winds Bother Flyer When Trip Is Begun From Lisbon; Will Resume His Flight Tomorrow.

London, May 30.—(I. N. S.)—The American seaplane NC-4 alighted at the mouth of the Mondego river, 92 miles from Lisbon, shortly after she started from the Portuguese capital at 1:30 New York time this morning on the 776-mile flight to Plymouth, England.

She is undamaged, according to wireless messages received here. Strong cross winds forced the NC-4 to land on the water, said a wireless message received at Plymouth. She will resume the flight tomorrow.

Lieutenant Commander Read hopes to reach Vigo, Spain, in the NC-4 today, and will fly from there to Plymouth, England, tomorrow, according to word reaching American naval headquarters here.

"All is well," the commander of the NC-4 messaged from the Mondego river, where he was forced to land this morning after starting from Lisbon.

(Vigo is situated on the Bay of Vigo, on the western coast of Spain, about 125 miles north of the Mondego river, where the NC-4 was forced down.)

A message from Lieutenant Commander Read of the NC-4, sent at 5:50 this morning, New York time, was picked up by the station at Bristol. It read: "NC-4 at Mondego river. Must wait."

HEARING TO BE HELD JULY 21

Petitions of Inland Empire Shippers and Local Interests to Be Heard.

July 21 is the date set by the interstate commerce commission for hearing the Columbia river water grade petition filed in Portland at the courthouse.

The petitions of the Inland Empire Shippers' league and of the port and business bodies of the Inland Empire received this morning both by Dr. C. J. Smith, president of the Inland Empire Shippers' league, and Joseph N. Teal and W. C. McCulloch, counsel for the Portland interests.

It is also anticipated that a member of the interstate commerce commission will hear the case rather than the commerce examiner ordinarily sent by the commission to represent it.

At this time of the hearing Vancouver and Clark counties, Wash., will appear as intervenors friendly to the contentions of the Inland Empire shippers and Portland. They will appear as a neutral intervenor, asking for the Inland Empire to be benefited by any orders that may be issued in connection with the petition.

The Inland Empire Shippers' league asks that the interstate commerce commission recognize the water grade route of the Columbia river by granting a rate based on the cost of transportation.

Portland's petition is that the rate between Portland and the inland Empire be made less than between Portland and Sound and the inland Empire, pleading the well known fact that the cost of transportation via the water grade is substantially less than via the hazardous and steep mountain routes.

National interest will be given the trial of the rate issue. The recognition of the Columbia water grade will constitute a precedent in which every other shipping point having the advantage of water grade location will have direct interest. Likewise the cost of transportation has never directly entered into the scheme of rate making, but competitive influences have ruled directly in fixing charges for the transportation of freight.

Warden Stevens And Jos. F. Keller File Resignations

Superintendent R. E. Lee Steiner to Have Charge of State Penitentiary.

Salem, May 30.—Warden Robert L. Stevens of the state penitentiary and State Parole Officer Joseph F. Keller have handed their resignations to Governor Olcott today and both have been accepted. Both gave press of private business interests as the reason for their action.

Stevens will be replaced immediately by Superintendent R. E. Lee Steiner of the state hospital, who will manage the prison until a permanent successor has been chosen.

That he may be free for the prison work, Dr. Steiner will resign temporarily from the state hospital staff and will be succeeded by his chief assistant, Dr. L. F. Griffith. Both men will resume their present positions when Governor Olcott names a new warden.

Keller will continue in office until July 1, that he may complete installation of a new system of parole records which he has evolved following a study of systems in various states. No successor to Keller has been selected.

Stevens, who has been warden of the state prison since December 1, 1913, was formerly sheriff of Multnomah county for three terms and for many years connected with Portland banks. He came from New York to accept the warden'ship.

Keller was appointed parole officer by Governor Whythe March 8, 1915.

Superintendent Steiner, a native of Ohio, came to Salem in 1888, entering the drug business. He secured his medical degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1912 and took a post graduate course in the New York Medical school, practicing his profession in The Dalles, Lakeland and Klamath Falls. He represented Wasco, Klamath Lake and Grant counties in the 1905 legislature.

Steiner is organized as superintendent of the state hospital in September, 1907, serving in that capacity continuously since under Governors Chamberlain, Smith, Bowerman, West, Whythe, and Olcott. The hospital is in the city hospital at Pendleton recognized as one of the best appointed institutions of its kind in the United States, was planned by Steiner and the state hospital at Salem has developed into one of the best in the country under his management.

It is because of his exceptional organization ability and his capacity to handle men that he has been chosen to manage the state penitentiary in 1919.

Patrolmen Coulter and Officer Schmidtke, members of the police department's war emergency squad, and other officers for nearly 10 years, were this morning recommended for immediate discharge from the force by a police efficiency board which heard charges of conduct unbecoming an officer. Schmidtke was also a member of the dry law enforcement squad.

PRESIDENT GIVES TALK IN FRANCE

World Must See That Americans Shall Not Have Offered Their Lives in Vain, Asserts Wilson.

It Can, It Must, It Will Be Done, Is Keynote of Speech at Cemetery on Banks of the Seine.

Washington, May 30.—"This can be done. It must be done. It will be done."

President Wilson, speaking today at the Suresnes cemetery, in the suburbs of Paris, with the words expressed his conviction of the ultimate success of the League of Nations.

"I look for the time," he added, "when every man who now puts his counsel against the united service of mankind under the League of Nations will be just as ashamed of it as if he now regretted the union of the states. Private counsels of statesmen cannot now and cannot hereafter determine the destinies of nations."

The text of the address, cabled from Paris to the White House, follows:

Mr. Ambassador, Ladies and Gentlemen, and Fellow Countrymen: No one with a heart in his breast, no American, no lover of humanity, can stand in the presence of these graves without the recognition of their sacrifice.

Service in France For Men Who Gave Up Lives Oversea

PARIS, May 30.—Impressive memorial services for America's dead in the war were held in France today. The feature of the occasion was an eloquent address by President Wilson at Suresnes, a suburb of Paris, where there is a great cemetery holding the mortal remains of many American soldiers.

Religious ceremonies were held in a number of churches in the Paris district.

In addition to the president, the new American ambassador to France, Hugh C. Wallace, General John J. Pershing and numerous other army officers took part in the observances throughout France.

Many French army officers attended the religious services and were deeply touched by American's heartfelt devotion to her soldier dead.

ALL ARE REMEMBERED

At the request of Elin Livingstone, head of the American Boy Scouts, the president directed the placing of 10 wreaths in 10 American military cemeteries, including the burning ground at Chateau-Thierry, where so many gallant marines gave up their lives to stem the German rush on Paris. The wreath placed at Chateau-Thierry bore the words:

"To the memory of our gallant fathers and brothers who gave their lives for liberty."

While the ceremonies in which the president and General Pershing took part were impressive, it was the scenes enacted at the little cemetery plots in out of the way corners of France that went straight to the heart.

BATTLEFIELDS ARE VISITED

From tiny villages in the Picardy, the line on both sides of Soissons, where the First and Thirty-second divisions first threw the Germans back. All these places were remembered today.

In the meantime every weapon at the command of the allied and associated governments is in readiness for immediate action in the event the Germans refuse to sign.

MARSHAL FOCH REJECTS PROTESTS AGAINST COMMANDER

Berlin, May 29, via London, May 30.—(I. N. S.)—Marshal Foch today rejected the protest of the Germans against the actions of the French commander in the Palatinat. While the state of war continues, he declared the allied generalissimo, only the military authorities can pass on actions that are opposed to their interests.

Dr. Matthias Erzberger, head of the German armistice commission, was thereupon instructed to renew the protest.

The chief German objection was against the alleged deportation of residents of the Palatinat by the French military authorities.

CONGRESS MAY GIVE OREGON TO OREGON

Representative Butler Ready to Introduce Necessary Resolution at Washington.

Washington, May 30.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Congressman Britten of Illinois announced he is ready to introduce a resolution to transfer the battleship Oregon to the state of Oregon for preservation as a relic.

The annual naval appropriation bill now before the naval committee should provide for the permanent assignment of the battleship Oregon to Oregon.

Representative Butler, who is expected to introduce a resolution, is currently in Washington.

Paris, May 30.—(I. N. S.)—A speedy reply will be returned to the counter proposals presented by the Germans yesterday, it was stated in official circles today.

All of the economic experts of the allied and associated powers are holding continuous meetings for the preparation of memoranda bearing on the German contentions.

When this data is completed and approved it will be handed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, with the demand that the allied terms must be accepted within 48 hours.

In the meantime every weapon at the command of the allied and associated governments is in readiness for immediate action in the event the Germans refuse to sign.

Shipbuilders Go to New York for Day

Washington, May 30.—Oregon shipbuilders, after a day of conferences Thursday, which apparently brought them nearer to needed contracts but produced no definite statement of results, have gone to New York. They will return Monday to resume meetings with the shipping board.

Threatens Wife And Is Promptly Locked in Jail

Following his wife to the police station, where she ran for protection, Harry Norwood was arrested at the entrance of the office of the Women's Protective bureau by Captain Inskip, when he had just finished making a statement that he intended killing both himself and his wife.

The Norwoods have been separated for some time and Thursday night, meeting his wife on the street, Norwood assaulted her. She ran to the police station for protection, and was sent to the Women's Protective bureau. Meeting the woman as she emerged from the office, Norwood began hurling threats at her. She was promptly arrested and locked up. The police have been called, on previous occasions, to settle the domestic difficulties of the couple.

Big Handley-Page Falls Into Ocean Off French Coast

Bayonne, France, May 30.—(I. N. S.)—A big Handley-Page airplane, flying along the coast after starting from Madrid, fell into the sea near here this morning. It was reported that nearly all her crew were rescued.

Bayonne is in southwestern France, 18 miles northeast of the Spanish frontier.

LARGE SUM FOR LAND PROJECTS

Secretary Lane Predicts $10,000,000 Will Be Allotment for Oregon.

Washington, May 30.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Whitney L. Boise conferred Thursday with Secretary Lane on cooperative plans with the Oregon land settlement commission upon an anticipated enactment of federal legislation now under consideration by the house public land committee.

Secretary Lane expressed confidence that the allotment of funds for Oregon under the federal law will be at least $10,000,000, and said cooperation with the state will be welcomed. It was agreed that the Oregon settlement commission can do valuable preliminary work by receiving and classifying applications for land for Oregon soldiers, as an early start can be made when the federal law takes effect.

Mr. Boise was much pleased with the results of the conference at which Chairman Boise of the public lands committee was present.

The outlook favors reporting of the bill to the house by the end of next week and its passage next thereafter. All members of the committee will possibly one exception are believed to favor it. Witnesses yet to be heard include Governor Brown of Pennsylvania, Director Davis of the reclamation service, Mr. Boise and representatives of several congressional delegations.

Boise also saw Dr. H. C. Taylor, chief of the farm management bureau, department of agriculture, and arranged for the cooperative work with O. A. C. in connection with pending legislation.

Every voter should read carefully the explanation of the ballot measures published on Page 3 of this issue of The Journal. The election will be held next Tuesday, June 3, and many of the measures are of serious importance. Bond issues are proposed by the state, the city and the Port of Portland. They deserve careful study before election day.

PORTLAND HONORING HERO DEAD

Flowers Placed Upon Graves of Soldier and Sailor Dead; City Joins Nation in Mourning.

Veterans of 4 Wars and School Children Visit Cemeteries; Parade Is Tribute to Dead.

Commemorating the service of the men who have cheerfully given freely of their time, their labor and even their lives to their country, Portland today joins the nation in mourning. Appropriate ceremonies, including the placing of flowers on the graves of those who came back to their homes after their service and after a few months or years joined their comrades who had gone before, and including a parade in honor of those who live after their high service, are taking place in the city today.

Notwithstanding the rain, which started about 1 o'clock, the veterans insisted that they would march. Asked his opinion, Colonel Henry E. Doeh replied, laconically: "We marched!"

Last night all the morning ceremonies at the graves, conducted by Grand Army of the Republic veterans and assisted by Spanish American war veterans and school children, were full of expressions of respect for the dead. Starting at 1:30 this afternoon from the courthouse, and under the leadership of Adjutant General John L. May, the parade of veterans of '98 and '01, their services to pay tribute to those of her sons who gallantly responded to the call of the colors.

The parade marched in the following order:

The Audubon, immediately following the parade, with Betsy Ross Tent No. 1, Daughters of Veterans, carrying the gray-haired veterans.
