ENGLISH ARE AGAIN IN THE MARKET -CUBE BUTTER HAS A FAVORABLE TREND;

As Much as 591/4 Obtained for Extras in Limited Way With 59c the General Top-Cold Storage Movement Gradually Increasing.

SALES RULING HIGH

BUTTER WILL DROP There will be a drop of 2c a pound in the price of both butter and butterfat in the Portland market Saturday morning. This will place best extras in plain prints at 5c and in cartons 59c a pound, while butterfat will be 61 263c, Portland delivery, and 55 656 country of the delivery. The decline in print butter will be made in the face of the fact that late sale; of cubes have been made at higher prices than the new quotations on prints.

Market for cube butter is very erratic but leading handlers are inclined to hold their supplies for steady to firm values. During the last 24 hours sales were made in a limited way as high as 59 % c a pound for extras, but 59c appears to be the general selling price for this grade.

Receipts to date this week have been moderate and as the California markets failed to show the further decline expected, the trade here has assumed its normal activities at recent values.

Prints are being held steady at unchanged

Prints are being held steady at unchanged prices although local creameries continue to have a greater output than they are able to sell in this way. Storage operations are gradually increasing despite the fact that prevailing values are extremely high and that expectations have for some days been for lower price range. In the meantime the trade is inclined to watch very closely the fluctuations in California because they now have a direct bearing upon the entire Pacific Northwest trade.

FIRST RASPBERRIES RECEIVED First rapperries and also first loganherries of the season came forward from California dur-ing the day. Byan Fruit Co, received the ini-tial shipment, with sales of the former at $3 and the latter ar $2.50 per crate.

Trade in the local market for country-killed hogs and calves remains on a steady to firm basis along the street. Hogs continue generally at 26 @ 26 % o for best, with top calves at 20c. EGG TRADE IS RATHER STEADY

While "held" eggs are showing a very slow movement, demand for freshly laid stock it rather steady along the street. General purchases from the country are at 42 ½ c for current receipts, although some are said to be offering more. LOQUOTS ARE AGAIN OFFERING

Loquots from Southern California are again being offered on the local trade in lugs at 17 % c a pound. The stock is in quite fair condition, but the demand here is not very extensive.

Law Violated In Berries

The state law regarding the weight of strawberry packages is being violated on every side by growers, and some of them are likely to be called before the authorities before many days.

Strawberries should weigh 18 pounds to the crate, or 20 pounds with the box added. Much of the fruit that has been marketed here to date this season has run about two pounds per crate below the lawful standard and many complaints are being made by dealers and consumers regarding this violation.

The matter has already been called to the attention of the state authorities and quick action is expected to follow.

With the high prices in effect for begries and the fact that a year or so ago the making of a

Idaho Fruit Loss Is Greatly Exaggerated

Spokane, Wash., May 30.—Reports of fruit damage by frost in Southern Idaho have been greatly exaggerated, in the opinion of P. R. Parks, general manager of the Spokane Fruit Growers' company, who has returned from a trip through the fruit sections of that district. "Indications are that Southern Idaho will have a big crop of Jenathans," said Mr. Parks. "That represents the big part of the apple tonnage from that district. Later developments have shown that the frost damage is much less than first reports indicated.

"Prunes have been hit some, but there will be a big crop. In some iniplated sections heavier damage has been done."

Hood River Berry Crop Is Moving Democrats Indorse League of

Hood River, May 30 .- Fine, warm weather which has prevailed for the past three days, has ripened the strawberries rapidly, and from a few crates which came in last week, the quantity available has increased rapidly, until last evening the Apple Growers' association made up its first carload for the Middle West. There is a strong demand here for pickers and packers, the condition this year being abnormal. In past years plenty of pickers have been available, even before harvest time, but in spite of the higher prices for labor prevailing here, the abortage in help is so marked that it threatens to become serious. become serious. The price is good this year, early berries being quoted at $4.50 to $5.00, and there is every prospect of a strong market prevailing throughout the season. > Berry Market Fails to Break For First Time

For the first time in the local trade there was no break in the price of strawberries Memorial day. Growers for the first time appear to have anticipated the lack of a general demand, due to the holiday, and total receipts on the East Side Farmers' market were but a couple of hundred crates. These sold generally at $2.75 per crate. Along the street tales were made at $3.00 @ 3.25 per crate.

The apparent domestic consumption of wheat in the United States for the past 10 months averaged 35,700,000 bushels monthly, against 39,000,000 average for the same period a year In commenting on the figures for the week of May 9, Wheat Director Julius Barnes stated that similar authentic information, compiled from official reports will be given to the public each week, and it is hoped that these bulletins will be a guide to the consumer and the trade. Mr. Barnes said that these figures show what he had emphasized four weeks ago, that, in spite of the large contributions of wheat and wheat flour to our allies' needs and to the relieved countries of our allies' needs, and to the relieved countries of Europe, there is being preserved at home a suf-ficient supply of wheat and wheat flour for all ncient supply of wheat and wheat flour for all our people, and the excitement and advance in flour prices created by erroneous statements of the situation was at no time warranted. Consumers and the trades have realized this, and flour prices have relaxed, while the excited buying which some weeks ago bordered on the sensational has entirely quieted.

"It is the world's only hope," one highly placed American official said to me. Indeed the impression is growing among Americans of all ranks that the peace treaty is unsatisfactory and some of the American delegates are said to be outspoken in their disapproval.

IDEALS NOT REALIZED

There is reason to believe that President Wilson himself sees as clearly as anyone that the peace which is being made is far from the peace of which America dreamed when the war ended His attitude is undoubtedly that be ween breaking up the conference by holding out strictly for the American principles, thus delivering the world over to complete anarchy, or compromising on peace with the hope that the League of Nations will ultimately dren. save the situation, he felt obliged to choose the latter course.

The peace proposed to Germany is far from realizing American ideals. The features of the peace which will be made with Austria. Bulgaria and Turkey are still unknown but the indications at present are that they will fall even far ther short of what the Americans hoped and expected at the time of the armis

BEST OF BAD BARGAIN

This realization is causing disappointment around the Hotel de Crillon Many people feel that it is only with deep regret that America can put her name to these treaties. At the same time there is no suggestion that the treaties should be rejected. Practically everyone agrees that the only thing to do now is to accept them, bad as they are, and concentrate all energies henceforth toward making the League of Na tions compensate in the future for the evils of the present.

Fourteen Points of the Bond Business Are Typhoid Germs Ravaging Your Community?

Perhaps a city or town, lacking a modern water system, is cursed by an epidemic of disease that is traceable directly to impure water. Though the community is prosperous and has a bright commercial future, there are not sufficient funds in the city treasury to finance the construction of the pipeline needed of bring in fresh, pure mountain water.

A trust company, by concentrating the energies and talents of its engineering, legal and financial experts, can quickly and conveniently arrange and finance a bond issue that will furnish the funds necessary to enable the city to pay for the improvement which is to substitute pure for impure water in these homes.
