

TRIBUNE'S CHARGE DENIED BY FORD

Million Dollar Libel Suit News Articles Introduced by the Plaintiff Lawyers.

Mount Clemens, Mich., June 4.—(U. N. S.)—Henry Ford's defense of the charges contained in an editorial in the Chicago Tribune on June 23, 1918, that he is an "anarchist" was completed Wednesday, and the Tribune began submitting the evidence on which it hopes to prove its charges and avoid payment of the $1,000,000 libel for which Ford is suing.

Introduction of newspaper stories, editorials, etc., which appeared in the Tribune on various dates in 1918 comprised the final evidence offered by attorneys for Ford. These included the "Ford is an Anarchist" editorial, on which the suit is based. Attorneys for the Tribune objected to the introduction of much of this evidence, but were successful in excluding only a small part of it.

Two witnesses, Stephen Riordan, an investigator for the Ford welfare bureau, and Edwin Wallace, an advisor in the educational bureau, were the last to give oral testimony for Ford. They testified concerning aid given dependents of Ford employees called into military service.

Attorneys for Ford continued today to read depositions into the records attacking Edward S. Goldbeck, Tribune correspondent, who, according to the depositions, was formerly a citizen of Germany of royal blood.

According to Ford's attorneys, many of Goldbeck's contributions to the Tribune were "of pro-German sentiment."

The articles in question were said to have been written before the United States entered the war.

Goldbeck, in his testimony yesterday, declared that he did not "regard my work as pro-German."

Use of Oregon Side Of River to Goble Advised to Autoists

"On account of the good condition of the Columbia River highway on the Oregon side, traffic from Vancouver, Wash., to Kalama should not be inconvenienced to go on the north side of the river during the present season, but should be sent from Portland to Goble ferry at Goble, and then travel north," says Douglas Sholor, manager of the Automobile club of Western Washington in a communication to Sydney B. Vincent, publicity director of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Sholor says that he has just returned from a conference with the state highway commission in reference to travel from this section to Kalama. He says that three contractors have gone broke at work on the road on the Washington side, and that the bonding companies are completing the work as fast as they are able to secure labor.

Mr. Sholor says that the highway commission assured him that the Washington road will be gravelled and in fine traveling shape by September 1.

Man Thought Crazy Holds Out for Hour

Seattle, June 5.—(U. P.)—After stealing two pistols, barricading himself in his room on the fifth floor of the New Richmond hotel, and holding off city police and detectives for more than an hour with threats to shoot, M. I. Shanoff, alias Marshall, is in the city jail, pending investigation of his sanity.

TWO ARRESTED AND STILL IS SEIZED

Realty Board Will Take New Members At Friday Meeting

The question of increased dues and the adoption of an initiation fee of $25 will come up for discussion at the weekly luncheon of the Portland Realty board in the Crystal room of the Benson hotel Friday noon. The meeting will be confined to the discussion of business. No speakers are scheduled.

Applications for membership received Friday will be accepted subject to present rules, according to officials of the board, and such applicants will not be required to pay the initiation fee, should the proposed measure pass. Officials of the board call attention to the fact that an alleged real estate dealer, just arrested on a charge of fraud, is not a member of the Portland Realty board nor of the Interstate Realty association.

Special Deeds Issued

In hopes of securing a take-off their challenge issued in behalf of Frank M. Troch of Vancouver, Wash., for a 500-target match during the annual Northwest tourney to be staged June 21, 22, 23 and 24, the officials of the Portland Gun club have sent out a number of individual challenges.

Two of the shooters to whom the challenges have been issued are Mark Arle of Illinois and R. A. King of Denver, Colo.

To Come Via Brest

Washington, June 5.—(U. P.)—American troops in the Archangel region will be brought home via Brest instead of direct, Secretary of War Baker stated Wednesday.

Astoria, June 5.—Sheriff Ole Nelson Tuesday raided an illicit still, confiscated large quantities of moonshine whiskey, sour mash, sprouted corn and all the ingredients that go to make "squirrel whiskey." He also arrested the alleged operators of the still, one of whom is Ben Jarrell, arrested on a similar charge at Pendleton two years ago, and who is alleged to have served a term in jail at Portland. The other is Ben Clark, who is married and has a wife and child, living at the place on which the still was found.

The discovery of the still and the contraband business was accidental. Sheriff Nelson was out on the Young's River road early in the morning when he met two men in a horse and rig. He stopped them, and asked their business out at such an hour. Receiving a reply which aroused his ire he placed the two men under arrest and brought them to this city, placing them in the county jail.

After considerable persuasion they finally stated that they lived on the Jensen place on Young's River, about 5 or 6 miles from Astoria. Sheriff Nelson Wednesday took several assistants and went to the place. First he searched the house and spent several hours searching the place. The still was found on the shores of a creek. It was necessary to wade the stream for a considerable distance to reach the still, which was found in full operation, there being five sour mash vats, each of a capacity of 100 gallons. It required an auto truck to bring the confiscated still and moonshine ingredients back to the city.

Repeat Demanded

Sheboygan, Wis., June 5.—(U. P.)—The Wisconsin Liquor Dealers' Protective association Wednesday passed a resolution demanding congressional action on President Wilson's message suggesting repeal or amendment of the "war-time" prohibition act. Another resolution passed condemned gambling and "other unlawful acts" in saloons.

Steamship Men Lose Free Transportation

Railroad officials have been notified by the railroad administration that it will not be the policy of the federal management to issue tickets to officers and employees of ocean steamship lines. Local officials believe that this applies to trans-oceanic steamers, particularly on the Atlantic coast, which have been enjoying travel privileges on the railroads and that this order will not affect present privileges granted employees on such lines as the San Francisco & Portland Steamship company, which is directly under control of the railroad administration.

Starving Bourgeois Expelled From City

Vienna, June 5.—(U. N. S.)—The soviet government at Budapest has ordered the expulsion of 40,000 of the bourgeois on the ground that they cannot be fed. Refugees are streaming out of the Hungarian capital, and suffering recalls the days of Belgium, when the Germans overran that country.

Efforts Being Made To Supply Cars for Northwest Wheat

"Over 80 per cent of the 1918 wheat crop was produced in the territory served by railroads in the Northwestern region," according to a statement made in a letter from R. H. Alston, regional director of the Northwest section, "and to handle the enormous crop which will undoubtedly be harvested this summer, every effort is being made to furnish adequate car supply."

On the Northwestern railroads were 173,745 box cars on May 31. Instructions have been issued to hasten repair work to make cars fit for grain loading to the full capacity. Mr. Alston believes that this, with the normal system which will again be installed for handling of grain, will allow a steady flow to the terminal markets without congestion.

Army Canned Meats Would Hurt Market

Washington, June 5.—(U. P.)—The war department has been unable to find a satisfactory market in this country for the large amounts of canned meats it has on hand. O. W. A. Hare, director of sales, told the house military affairs committee Wednesday. Dumping the large amount of meat owned by the war department on the market would not only mean a big loss to the army, but it would be disastrous for many business interests, Hare said.
