

The Social Calendar

Saturday, June 7

Tea for Miss Geraldine Courson, given by Miss Genevieve Butterfield at her home in Flanders street.
Dance at the clubhouse of the Oregon State Motor association.

Many to Hear Dramatic Reader

Dr. Southwick at Little Theatre
Tonight; Readings to Be Given in Homes.

By Helen H. Hutchison

MUCH interest is manifest in the appearance of Dr. Henry Lawrence Southwick in a reading of Sheridan's "The Rivals" at the Little theatre this evening. Dr. Southwick will be presented by the Drama League of Portland. He is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Babcock during his stay in the city and on Thursday evening was the guest of honor for a smart dinner party at the Waverley Country club.

A number of line parties have been planned for this evening's reading and on Saturday Dr. Southwick will be the speaker at the luncheon of the Professional Women's League at the University club. On Saturday evening he will again be presented in a reading of "Richelieu" at A. H. Eilers' residence, 87 North Sixteenth street. More than 100 people have been invited to this function. A motor party will be a feature of Saturday afternoon in honor of Dr. Southwick.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Ghirardelli and Percy Lee Menefee was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Ghirardelli, in San Francisco, on Wednesday evening. Details for the ceremony were carried out with the greatest simplicity. Only a few close friends and relatives of the bride couple were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Menefee are spending a few weeks at the beach resorts near San Francisco, after which they will come to Portland to make their home.

One of the notable events of the week was the marriage Thursday of Miss Ruth Trowbridge and Frederick Huxton Strong at the home of the bride's parents. More than sixty guests were present. The Rev. John H. Boyd of the First Presbyterian church performed the ceremony at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Strong will make their home in Rose City Park.

Mrs. Phil Metchan Jr. was hostess on Wednesday evening for a gay little party honoring Louise Irving on the occasion of her birthday. The evening was spent in dancing and the guest list included a group of the young friends of Miss Dorothy Metchan.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae association will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of four of its members, the Misses Mary and Grace Reed, Marie Williams and Mrs. Ada Ingalls at 94 East Seventeenth street.

Invitations have been sent out for a smart tea at the home of Mrs. George T. Gerlinger for Monday afternoon after Dr. Bertha Stuart speaks on the work of the Red Cross in France at the Little theatre. David Campbell, pianist, will assist with the program.

An informal dancing party will be given at the clubhouse of the Oregon State Motor association on Saturday evening. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and a buffet supper will be served following the dancing.

Mystery Shrouding
Murder of Wealthy
Woman Is Unsolved

Pescadero, Cal., June 6.—After 48 hours of investigation by detectives, deputy sheriffs and lawyers, the murder of Mrs. Sarah S. Coburn, multimillionaire widow of Loren Coburn, multimillionaire of Pescadero, today remained as much of a mystery as when the body was found early Wednesday morning.

Shriners of Coast
On Way to Council
Parade in Spokane

Spokane, Wash., June 6.—The "dancing girls" of the harem of Al Kader of Portland and two shrine patrols, one from Al Kader and the other from Nile, Seattle, with bands from both temples.

Teach Children to Use
Cuticura for Hair and Skin

That they may have good hair and clear skin through life. Try this treatment for the hair. At night rub Cuticura Ointment into partings all over the scalp. Next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Nothing better than Cuticura for all toilet purposes.

Best children's skin with Cuticura Talcum, a delicately perfumed skin powder. At all drug stores.

WHEN IS A GIRL NOT A GIRL?—SEE NEXT SUNDAY JOURNAL MAGAZINE

Women's Clubs and Society

DRESS
by Annie Rittenhouse

SKIRTS continue to absorb the public attention. Whether in France or in America men and women talk excitedly of this one garment.

No one subject so delights the returning soldier. He insists upon telling his womanfolk all the time how short the French women wear their skirts. And all the women, now that they realize that brevity of line is a fashion they must contemplate with approval or disapproval, turn their attention to the possibilities of width.

In France the skirts grow wider and shorter. Here they are growing wider. The knee-length skirt is not worn by the majority; therefore, it attracts extravagant attention when it is seen. Those who have returned from France with the five-inches-below-the-knee skirt have run home to have the hems let out after the first appearance on the street.

One nurse who has arrived home with a set of new French clothes as a relief from her hospital work, says that the attention she created in New York when wearing her new skirt compelled her to take cover much more quickly than she had been accustomed to do in the hospital near the front. She tried to be brave and run the gauntlet, but one morning's experience sent her to shelter.

Whether or not we will become accustomed to the knee-length skirt as we did to the sheath skirt when it was exploited, time only can tell, but we are rapidly adjusting ourselves to wide skirts.

FLOUNCES AND PUFFS APPEAR. There are all sorts of experiments made to give skirts width. Flounces dash themselves like surf over the surface of a slim foundation, and immense puffs, in a Spanish manner, stand out over the hips.

One might say the Elizabethan manner. If speaking of England, but the dress historians believe that this idea originated in Spain, for it was during that epoch of history that Spain led the world in fashions, as France does today.

Callot has launched a skirt which is different from her February attempt to give width; it is straight and full from hips to hem, but it gives the appearance of being wired at the hips because the three immense puffs made of taffeta are pulled out to their fullest dimensions.

Those who do not care for the balloon effect are timidly attempting width through flaring flounces. The sketch shows an unusual frock of black taffeta which has a flounced skirt, each ruffle finished with a bias binding. The square vest and the petticoat are of green and white dotted organdy.

This stiff muslin, you know, is put with all manner of summer frocks. The fashion was attempted last year, but did not gain as wide a following as the dressmakers wanted; so they exploit it this season with better success.

The bodice of this taffeta frock has two features worth copying: the roll collar, and the double gauntlet cuffs.

The world should be tired, if it isn't of the collarless Renaissance neckline and the straight negligee sleeve, unadorned and usually unbecoming. The modified Medici collar used in this gown, and the swirl of the double bodice that is as straight in its lines as though it were boned to disguise the curves of the figure.

Glass Play Tonight. Oregon City, June 6.—The annual play by the senior class of the high school, a four act comedy, "The Village Postmaster," will be staged tonight at Shively's opera house.

For use where current is not available a ceiling electric light operated by a dry battery has been invented.

SHE WAS OBESE. The shadow of this picture gives you an idea how she looked before she took Oll of Kora and following the easy directions she reduced 38 pounds in three months. Now she is agile, attractive, mentally alert and in better health. Request a small book at the drug store. Oll of Kora is coming in capsules. Many women have reduced easily, losing 10 to 40 pounds. Safe and pleasant as endorsed by physicians. For free book of advice (in plain wrapper) write to Kora Co., N.F.312, Station F, New York City.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Words flew, threatening gestures were made and then the police appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bullard demanded the arrest of Miss Bell, but changed her mind when informed that she would have to go to court.

Officer Engle, using all his persuasive powers after listening to both stories, finally settled the matter by returning wearing the new hat. She hung it up, and when ready to leave, found it gone. Thursday night, while on her way home, Mrs. Bullard saw what looked like the same hat upon another head, and without further ado seized it. The hat was being worn by Miss Marie Bell of 211 East Twelfth street.

Parent-Teacher
Associations
Picnic

Summer Work Is Outlined, Volley
Ball Played and Supper
Served in Park.

By Vella Winner

OVER 500 members of the Parent-Teacher associations of the various Portland schools, teachers, principals, children and visitors, gathered Thursday afternoon in Sellwood park for the annual picnic given by the Parent-Teacher council. A business session was held at 2 o'clock, presided over by Mrs. William N. Akers. This being the final meeting of the council for the year, the various presidents made their reports showing a large amount of valuable work accomplished. The summer activity of the associations will have to do with the industrial club work, of which Mrs. E. H. Palmer of Montavilla is chairman.

There are a large number of canning clubs already organized and in addition to those there are garden, poultry, rabbit, sewing and cooking clubs in the Linton school; garden, poultry, rabbit and sewing clubs in the Clinton Kelly school; garden, rabbit and poultry in the Creston, Failing, Fulton Park, Glenhaven, Highland, Kerns, Lents, Richmond, Sellwood, Shaver, Sunnyside and Woodmere schools; there are garden and poultry clubs in the Beaumont and Central schools; garden and rabbit clubs in the Buckman school; poultry and rabbit clubs in the Irvington and Thompson schools; garden and goat clubs in the Peninsula school; garden clubs in Woodstock and Rose City Park; a goat club at Joseph Kellogg and a rabbit club at Arleta.

Following the business session the women played a game of volleyball. The children made good use of the apparatus and playgrounds. At 7 o'clock a sumptuous picnic supper was served. The Sellwood association serving hot coffee. Mrs. W. H. Knapp headed the picnic committee. The large number of associations represented and the record attendance attested the splendid work done by her.

Following are the directions for cutting and wrapping roses to be shipped Saturday, June 7, to the Shriners' convention in Indianapolis. Clarke Bros. who will have charge of the shipping, ask that all who are contributing cut them early Saturday morning. Cut only close buds, with long stems as possible. Put two or three dozen in each bunch and wrap in newspaper, leaving top open. Deliver to Clarke Bros., 287 Morrison street, by 10 a. m.

Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp will return to Oregon after a 6 as national representative for the W. C. T. U. Jubilee drive. Mrs. Kemp will be entertained with a number of luncheons by the county W. C. T. U.

The county W. C. T. U. will meet Monday in room G of the Portland library. Miss Mary Brown, state president of Washington, will be the guest for the afternoon.

Gauld Company Is Sold to Manager Of Seattle Plant

Announcement was made Thursday of the sale of the business, stock and equipment of the Gauld company, wholesale plumbers and dealers in machinery, to Thomas J. Nickerson of Seattle. Mr. Nickerson is manager of the Seattle branch of the Woolworth Manufacturing company, and it is presumed that he negotiated the purchase as agent of this concern. The business will be continued in Portland under the old firm name.

The Gauld company is located at 69-75 North Twelfth street. Offices of the company are: J. G. Gauld, president; Elizabeth A. Gauld, vice president; William B. Roberson, secretary, and Frank O. Gray, manager.

Widow Wins $7500. Greeley, Colo., June 6.—(I. N. S.)—Mrs. Carrie H. DeMendoza, a widow of Chicago, Thursday afternoon was awarded $7500 in the district court here by a jury in her suit against Andrew J. Smille, a stockbroker. Smille is said to be worth $250,000. Mrs. DeMendoza alleged that Smille had urged her to marry him and later "threw" her down.

Women Doctors
Seek Fund of $2500

Dr. Mae Cardwell Appointed to Raise Money for Serbian Hospitals.

OF THE $250,000 which the Medical Women's National association is raising in America for the establishing and equipping of additional hospitals in Serbia, Oregon has been asked to raise $2500, and Dr. Mae Cardwell has been named chairman for Portland, as it is expected the greater amount of this apportionment will be raised in this city.

The first effort toward raising this sum is a benefit entertainment to be given Thursday evening, June 13, in the ball room of the Multnomah hotel, the artists being Miss Roxika Reinhold, dancer, and Miss Eloise Anita Hall, vocalist. Miss Reinhold is a professional dancer of unusual attainments and rare personal charm, and happens to be visiting relatives in Portland at this time. Miss Hall, whose beautiful contralto-voice is well known among Portland musicians and music lovers, especially through her work in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and "Mignon," has recently returned to Portland to live.

The entire proceeds of the performance will go to the Woman's hospital fund. Tickets will be $1 and the time and place of sale will be announced next week.

Women physicians, not being available for military medical service, have done wonderful work during the past two years in France and Serbia among the civilian population. There are more than 50 women physicians now giving their time to this humanitarian work. The need just now is especially urgent in Serbia, and after careful survey of the situation had been made by one of the national officers of the organization, the campaign was immediately launched. "This is the first time the women physicians of Oregon have ever come before the public for funds," said Dr. Cardwell, "and we are hopeful that the people will respond as generously as all women physicians invariably do to patriotic, philanthropic and civic causes."

Woman Thinks She Can't Talk Enough

"I had nail stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestion. Doctors wanted me to go to the hospital, but I took May's Wonderful Remedy instead, and am now feeling fine and better than I ever did. I can't talk enough about this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Garden
Hints
BY SHEBA CHILDS HAROREAVES (OF PORTLAND)

Destroy ant hills in the garden; they carry aphids from place to place.

Do not allow seed pods to form on the rose bushes; if the petals drop, cut off the pods, as they take the strength of the plant.

Dig the tulip and hyacinth bulbs now and reset them in the fall. These bulbs separate into bulbets if left in the ground all summer.

A moderate amount of sifted coal ashes is good to work into the soil around the dahlias; clay soil is especially benefited by sharp sand and coal ashes mixed.

Now is the time to prune early flowering shrubs, as the blooming season is over for this year. Such shrubs begin the formation of next year's flower buds very soon, and fall cutting will destroy much of the blooming wood.

If the birds eat the ripening strawberries, a few bright pieces of tin put where it will reflect the sun will sometimes keep them away, but this is by no means infallible. If the bed is small it can be covered with mosquito netting.

respond as generously as all women physicians invariably do to patriotic, philanthropic and civic causes."

Woman Thinks She Can't Talk Enough

"I had nail stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestion. Doctors wanted me to go to the hospital, but I took May's Wonderful Remedy instead, and am now feeling fine and better than I ever did. I can't talk enough about this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Druggists everywhere.—Adv.

K C BAKING POWDER
25 Ounces for 25¢
for over 25 Years
Quality First

Quality food was selected by the Government officials during the Great War.

They bought K C Baking Powder because the quality and price were right.

Select your baking powder with the same care.

The K C label is your guarantee of the same quality baking powder used by the Army—Navy—Marine Corps and Government Hospitals. Then—

Why Pay War Prices?

Millions of pounds of K C Baking Powder were bought by the Government for our troops overseas—more than of all other brands combined.

What's good for the American Soldier Is good for the American People

JACQUES MFG. CO., CHICAGO

Jantzen
Knit Wear

"So that's a Jantzen rib-stitch Bathing Suit! It is certainly a wonderful fit. You must go with me to select mine today!"

You can't help but envy the girl who wears a Jantzen Bathing Suit. Your eyes tell you how much style and grace it has.

Yes, and it helps swimming, too! A Jantzen fits perfectly at all times without binding—gives your swimming muscles a real treat.

Ask your dealer for a genuine Jantzen.

JANTZEN KNITTING MILLS

SOLD BY

Woodward, Clarke & Co.
Portland, Ore.
The Hotel & Frank Co.
Portland, Ore.
Bonham & Carter, St. Johns.
Bannon & Co., Oregon City.
Portland Knitting Store, 150 Third and 146 Broadway.
Baker & Co.,
Olds, Workman & King,
E. & W. Clothes Shop, Vancouver, Wash.

YOU ALWAYS NOTICE — A GENUINE JANTZEN