

ILLINOIS CARRIES WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Suffragettes in Galleries Cheer as First State Ratification Is Announced.

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—(L. N. S.)—Illinois went on record today as favoring woman suffrage. She set the pace for all the other states in the Union when the general assembly voted for the adoption of Senator Cornwell's joint resolution ratifying the suffrage amendment as passed by congress, a few days ago.

Pandemonium broke out in the galleries when the vote was announced. Suffrage leaders from all parts of the country were present. They cheered lustily as the clerk read the ballot.

This gives Illinois the prestige of being the first state to ratify the amendment. But little speech making preceded the adoption.

The house adopted the amendment by unanimous viva voce vote immediately after convening.

The senate shortly afterward unanimously adopted the amendment by roll call.

WOMEN CIRCULATE PETITIONS ASKING FOR EXTRA SESSION
San Francisco, June 10.—(L. P.)—Undaunted by Governor Stephens' statement that he does not believe it advisable to call an extra session of the legislature to ratify the suffrage amendment, women are continuing the circulation of petitions asking Stephens to call the session.

Stephens voiced his stand in a telegram to Carrie Chapman Catt, head of the American Woman Suffrage association. After reviewing his support of suffrage in congress and in campaigns, Stephens said:

"I do not think it advisable to call an extra session of the legislature at this time. If later developments make an extra session advisable I will call it."

Wisconsin Ratifies
Madison, Wis., June 10.—(U. P.)—The senate today concurred in the assembly ratification of the woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution, 24 to 1. The assembly ratified the amendment 54 to 2.

KNOX DEMANDS U. S. QUIT LEAGUE

time thoroughly to digest the bulky document, Borah said he had already made two important discoveries.

First, that all German rights and interests in Chinese Shantung had been absolutely and unconditionally surrendered to the Japanese and to a far greater degree than the American people had been led to believe.

Second, that the valuable and extensive Saar valley mines had been handed over to the French under conditions which virtually deprived the Germans of any voice in the matter or regardless of the principle of self-determination.

LOOKING FOR MORE
Borah added that he hoped to be able to further inform himself as to the text of the treaty before the end of the day, especially with regard to the addendum affecting the internationalization of labor upon which stress was laid by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts after his declaration in the senate that he had held a copy of the treaty in his hands in New York city.

That phase of the treaty involving immigration, Senator Johnson of California said, he was naturally particularly interested in because of the Japanese-Chinese situation on the Pacific coast. Other Republican senators stated they were studying the many worded document with all the expedition possible in view of its staggering bulk.

COVENANT IS SAME
The League of Nations covenant, as embodied in the treaty, Borah and other Republican senators said they found to be virtually the same as that previously made public separately. There was nothing, therefore, to alter their opposition to the United States becoming a party to the covenant, they said. On the other hand, they not only expected to renew their opposition in the senate, but they expected to be aided by their possession of the treaty, even though its form was only that originally submitted to Germany, in their avowed demand that the covenant be stripped from the rest of the treaty by the senate.

A resolution providing that the senate separate the two, which Senator Sherman of Illinois sponsored, was still pending before the senate. Sherman may move to have the resolution called up for action before the week end, thereby adding fresh anti-league fuel to the fires of senate debate revolving around the peace treaty which Republican senators predicted would "last all summer, at least."

LITTLE WAS ACCOMPLISHED
Administration senators declared today that they were of the opinion that the Republicans had not accomplished much in forcing the publication of the original text of the peace treaty, as that text was expected to differ in several material respects when the document was submitted to the senate in its final, official form for ratification or rejection.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, who has been the chief spokesman for the administration in the bitter controversy raging in the senate, declared that the "Republican mountain" labored over brought forth a mouse. He added that their "struggle to force the publication of the treaty had availed them little."

SAY THEY DON'T CARE
To the Democratic declarations the Republicans replied they were "satisfied if only because they had succeeded in furnishing the American people with a copy of the peace treaty which had fallen into the hands of certain financial and industrial interests."

The cost of each of these schools is estimated at $500,000; the cost of the site for Peninsula high school is estimated at $25,000 and for the Northeast high school, $50,000.

The proposed new elementary schools are: Alameda, Hawthorne-Buckman, Willamette Heights, Hosford, Laurelhurst, Linton, Multnomah and Overlook. It is proposed that sites be purchased for the Linton, Overlook and Willamette Heights schools at an estimated total of $145,000. A total of $250,000 is included in the bond issue budget for sites.

Schools to which additions are proposed at Fernwood, Hudson, Kellogg, Kenton, Mt. Tabor, Rose City Park and Woodstock.

The school board has reached the conclusion that it must provide for imperatively needed construction of additional school facilities, by giving the taxpayers of school district No. 1, an opportunity, first, to vote the $2,500,000 in bonds, and if that should be rejected, to return later for authority to increase the tax for school purposes.

The interest on the proposed bonds would be about $125,000 a year, or 40 cents on each $1000 of property assessed. An interest rate not to exceed 5 per cent is contemplated. School bonds cannot be sold for less than par. The present bonded debt of the school district is $18,000. Seattle's bonded school debt is $6,000,000; Spokane's, $3,000,000.

A school director is also to be elected at the school election of June 21.

BONDS NEEDED FOR PROPOSED SCHOOLS

Voters Must Pass $2,500,000 Issue June 21 to Alleviate Crowded Conditions.

The school board has submitted a bond issue of $2,500,000 to be voted on June 21.

The purpose is to build two new high schools, nine elementary schools and additions to seven existing schools. The building program contemplates an aggregate of 155 school rooms for 8200 children. The immediate need is said to be additional school capacity for 9000 children, but 2200 are being instructed in portable schools and the remainder are being provided for by overcrowding school rooms.

Provision for immediate needs alone is asked in order that the public schools may keep pace with the rapid growth of the city. The school population is now 55,000 children.

The proposed new high schools are the peninsula high school to take the place of the James John high school, which is intended for use as an elementary school, and a Northeast high school, between Washington and Jefferson high schools.

The cost of each of these schools is estimated at $500,000; the cost of the site for Peninsula high school is estimated at $25,000 and for the Northeast high school, $50,000.

pect to get away with the fight he inaugurates."

"The daily newspapers," the Record says, "did not seek the quarrel that was forced upon them by Mr. Watson as four different times, neither did they forget the damage done them when the chance came to even up the score."

The "four different times" mentioned by the Record probably has reference to Judge Watson's refusal to pay a balance of $1585 remaining unpaid on the conspiracy compensation when he took office, his refusal to permit an overcharge for the publication of the delinquent tax list in 1915, his institution of the suit to recover the money paid under the unlawful contract and his open advocacy of the repeal of the delinquent tax publication statute preceding the last general election. The text of the Record's editorial is as follows:

"THE SLATE IS CLEAN"
"After a fight which has attracted the attention of the whole of Oregon, following outbreaks of bitterness which have extended to almost every corner of the state, an issue has been passed upon by the electorate of Coos county and James Watson has been recalled from office. That the newspapers had considerable to do with Mr. Watson's removal it were folly to deny. He put up a hard fight, took his punishment in a game way and gave many a hard knock to his enemies in return for those he received. As to the merits of the issues and charges involved it would serve no good purpose at this time to discuss. The friends of Mr. Watson have insisted, and despite the fact that the newspapers have insisted, that Judge Watson was within his rights in taking the stand he did. The other side will just as strongly maintain he was in the wrong, but this is neither here nor there. There is a moral taught in the results that all must recognize and that is this: No man can go out openly gunning for newspapers and expect to get away with the fight he inaugurates. Four years ago Mr. Watson undertook to punish the two daily newspapers of Marshfield and he used all of the power he had in his office to accomplish what he started out to do. He did hurt the newspapers, but when the final accounting was registered it found James Watson, once the strongest man politically in Coos county, hurled from an office of trust. Two years ago Pete Watson, undoubtedly one of the most competent officers in the state, was overwhelmingly defeated for office, not because the voters disliked or discredited him, but because they did not approve of his brother, James Watson, at whom they could not get away with the fight he inaugurated. The daily newspapers did not seek the quarrel that was forced upon them by Mr. Watson at four different times, neither did they forget the damage done them when the chance came to even up the score."

"This page at no time in the controversy took any other stand than it was unalterably opposed to James Watson and would do all that it could to defeat him, because he was and is an enemy of his newspaper and the Record is immensely pleased at the result. It deeply regrets Commissioner Philip was recalled, but his was a case of being in bad company."

BRIGHT LIGHTS TO SHINE TONIGHT

The official dedication of the new Portland rose, produced by Albert Clarke, will be an event of much interest on Wednesday evening and will be in charge of the Royal Rosarians, who will assemble at The Auditorium for the dedicatory ceremonies.

LANE O'LAUGHTER OPEN
Though the formal opening of the Victory Rose Festival was still 40 hours away, Lane O'Laughter, the gallery of fun and amusement, opened its gates at 6:30 o'clock Monday night, and did its best to furnish Portland with something new in the line of joy.

The Lane O'Laughter is a carnival, one of the largest on the coast, and was brought to the city for the Rose Festival. Ten of the park blocks are turned over to the various kinds of fun and amusement. Despite the threatening weather, a large crowd found its way into the grounds, took up the carnival spirit, and thoroughly enjoyed itself.

WILHELM BETS CIGAR
The roar of the lions, cries of the hawkers and barkers, the rattle of mechanical fun making devices, the smell of sawdust, the "hot dog" and lemonade stands, the hundred and one different things about a carnival that help cause a crowd, were all there.

The show, Worthan Waugh & Hofer West's best, finished setting up its tents early in the afternoon and by 6 o'clock it was ready for business. Stands that dispensed scantily attired billikens seemed to be in the majority, though there were a number of other institutions vending everything from sofa cushions

"Twenty attractions, including four riding devices, opened their doors Monday night. The principal attraction is the animal show, with real lions, tigers and other beasts of the jungle. A collection of diving Venuses, who disport in a glass tank; the Alabama minstrels, and the various freaks of the animal kingdom are among the other exhibits. Woman Takes Life By Drinking Poison

Mrs. Lillie Erickson, 24 years old, committed suicide Monday night at her home, 800 East Nelson street, by drinking carbolic acid. The coroner said no inquest will be held. The family physician told the coroner that Mrs. Erickson had acted queerly since the birth of her child about two months ago. The coroner ascribed the motive to mental derangement. Mrs. Erickson leaves her husband, John Erickson, and the baby.
