

Champion Willard Whooping Things Up in Training Camp in Preparation for Dempsey

CHAMP PUTTING HEART AND SOUL IN HIS WORKOUTS

Four Sparring Partners in Willard's Camp and They Are Needed; Will Be in Real Fighting Condition for Battle With Dempsey; No Pulling of Punches in the Camp Ring.

By Frank G. Menke

Toledo, Ohio, June 18.—(I. N. S.)—Jess Willard is whooping it up in his training camp these days as he never whooped it before.

F. G. Menke

The champion, working at last with his whole heart and soul in the tasks before him, is wallowing and being wallowed into what now promises to be real fighting condition on July 4.

Apparently Willard became alive to the fact a few days ago that tempus is fugit rather hurriedly and that the remaining training days are few. Or perhaps it was the feverish behest of his most ardent admirers of "Speed it up, Jess; speed it up," that was the influence. But no matter what the cause, the fact is indisputable that Willard now is zipping along at full speed ahead.

And the promise that he has made—"I will be in real shape when I fight Jack Dempsey"—seems possible of fulfillment.

Four sparring partners now hold forth in Willard's camp, where two reigned before. And each serves a different function in conditioning the champion.

HEINEN IS PUNCH TAKER

Jack Heinen, beaming around 220, is the punch taker. It is his job to slug with Jess—to hit the champ with all he's got and take everything that the big fellow sends back. Both jobs are rather difficult for Heinen, big and rather slight though he is. He lands often enough on the champion, because Willard isn't using much defense against him. He wants to let Heinen hit so as to toughen him for the Dempsey smashes. But Heinen's punches never even bring a wince on Willard's face.

On the other hand, whenever the mighty Willard paws, even though encased in 15 ounces of padding, thrust against the dome or amidships section of Heinen something happens—to Heinen. It used to be his boast that he could take any body's wallop and still retain his equilibrium. But he boasts no more.

CHIP THERE FOR SPEED

Joe Chip, who looks like a bantam alongside of Jess, is the boy that provokes speed outbursts. It is his job to try the hit and get away system. He hasn't been uniformly successful at it either. But his speed pleases Jess and makes Chip a valuable addition to the camp because any game of chase must be suited to speeding up the champion, who hasn't practiced much on the shifty stuff so far.

Walter Monahan and Jack Hempel are the general all-around athletes. They do anything that Jess elects. If he wants to slug, they slug it with him; if the champion wants prancing exercises, the veteran standbys oblige; if Jess wants to test the resistance of his jaw and tummy, they hurl themselves, hands first, in the specified direction.

It is a good squad that Jess has now—and it needs to be. For the champion has cut loose at last, working at top speed, and with splendid earnestness—something in him that sort of mood it requires the services of at least four men to keep step with him.

Joe Chip Joins Willard's Camp Toledo, Ohio, June 18.—(I. N. S.)—Certain changes in the architecture of the fight arena now make possible to house nearly 80,000 persons on July 4 when Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey mix it for the world's championship. The original plan called for seating about 50,000.

Jess Willard added Joe Chip, a 155 pounder, to his corps of sparring partners Tuesday, making a total of four. Chip, brother of George Chip, one time middleweight champion, was hired for the purpose of giving the champion some speed workouts.

It is possible that Willard may increase his boxing to 10 rounds daily from now on.

Meanwhile Dempsey remains in idleness, as far as wallowing is concerned. Outside of acting as host at a spaghetti luncheon to newspapermen Tuesday, he will do nothing hard but shadow boxing and bag punching.

SAM BOHNE WINS GAME FOR OAKS

Pinch Double in Eighth Frame Spells Defeat for Walter McCredie's Beavers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Pinch-hitter Sammy Bohne scored the Beavers into a tie with Sacramento for sixth place in the pennant race when he delivered a double in the eighth frame of Tuesday's contest that gave Oakland a 4 to 3 victory.

The Portlanders were breezing along with a two-run lead until the eighth inning when Del Howard's men staged a rally after two players had been retired and put across three runs. After Lane and Murphy had been retired, Willie singled and went to third on Roche's single, Roche taking second on the throw. A. Arlett was sent in to run for Roche. Cooper beat out an infield hit that scored Willie. Cooper stole second and crossed the plate after A. Arlett on Bohne's smash.

GET EARLY START

The Mackmen made a desperate attempt to tie the game in the ninth, but both Maisei and Siglin failed with the stick after Wisterzil had reached second on his walk and Blue's sacrifice.

Portland opened with two runs in the first inning on Wisterzil's single and steal, a passed ball, Maisei's walk and Mize's high throw to centerfield and Siglin's single. Another run was added in the fourth on Cox's walk, two outs and Wisterzil's single.

BAKER FAILS WITH STICK

Oakland scored its first run in the second on Cooper's infield hit, Ware's sacrifice and Mize's single. Del Baker had a couple of chances to bat in runs, but failed. Oldham pitched good ball for the Beavers until the eighth inning, while R. Arlett was taken out in the third after he had walked Maisei and Siglin.

BATTING ORGY OF ANGELS AND SALT LAKE IS CLOSE

Salt Lake, June 18.—Batsmen touched their pinnacles Tuesday, when Los Angeles and Salt Lake sluggers made a mess of the opposing pitchers. The final score was 18 to 17 in favor of the Salt Lake club. Homers, three baggers and two baggers were to be had almost for the asking. Fournier carried off prime honors for long poling, driving out three home runs. The score:

Dempsey Tells of Ambitions Will Try to Knockout Jess

By Ed W. Smith

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 18.—The thing's all pretty far as Jack Dempsey is concerned. He's the winner and an easy one at that, the battle so slightly concerning him that already he is making a number of plans for the future, always with "Jack Dempsey, champion of the world," the big slogan on his banner.

He told me so yesterday in a little chat I had with him walking from the Oakland club out to the beach of the bay shore on the Maumee. "What's your feeling about this battle?" I asked him. "Just what do you mean by that?" he said, "do you mean do I feel that I will win? Well, I think it's the biggest cinch I ever saw in my life and there never was a bigger one."

"Here's exactly how I feel and I want you to let my Chicago pals know just what my feelings are in the matter. Willard never has met a fellow like me, a tough fellow, don't you understand, who doesn't exactly box by the book but who keeps on going all the time. "Willard is a slow moving fellow himself, but he has a great deal of speed and is slow to take advantage of a situation. I've learned the game in a different school. They've drilled me for speed and punching force and the combination is going to be a winner in this fight."

Just before this conversation the challenger had hopped on the scales in the camp to show the big crowd of newspapermen what he weighed. To the astonishment of all Jack weighed exactly 201 pounds. Several times he stepped off and then came back, and each time there was a fresh gasp from the spectators. Not one out of 10 of the visitors could believe what they saw. Several got on for the purpose of testing the scales and then knew Dempsey was right.

After Lane and Murphy had been retired, Willie singled and went to third on Roche's single, Roche taking second on the throw. A. Arlett was sent in to run for Roche. Cooper beat out an infield hit that scored Willie. Cooper stole second and crossed the plate after A. Arlett on Bohne's smash.

"I've been hopping up and up for some time and expect after I am champion for a year or so that I will be up around 215," he told me.

But one match will be played in the annual spring intercollegiate tennis tournament of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club women's annex this afternoon because the courts will be after the first of the inter-club contests. For the first of the inter-club contests, Miss Irene Campbell, chairman-coach-manager-director of the tourney, will arrange the schedule so as to have the finals completed by Saturday afternoon. Miss Mildred Willard will play Miss Inez Fairchild today.

Miss Madeline Steffen won her way to the semifinals of the singles tournament by defeating Mrs. Jessie Deute 6-1, 6-1, and Miss Natalie Harrison 6-3, 6-3, and in the doubles, paired with Miss Inez Fairchild, she won over the day's opponents by winning from Miss Marian Gloyd and Miss Ann Simpson 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Tuesday's results follow: SINGLES Miss Madeline Steffen beat Mrs. Jessie Deute, 6-1, 6-1. Miss Madeline Steffen beat Miss Natalie Harrison, 6-3, 6-3. Mrs. Ethel Warner beat Miss Ann Simpson, 6-1, 6-1. Miss Ruth Carlson beat Mrs. Frances Myers, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4. Miss Bess Clark beat Miss Ann Mannion, 6-2, 6-1. Miss Augusta De Witt beat Mrs. Constance Meyer, 6-2, 6-4. Miss Marion De Witt beat Miss Catherine Stearns by default.

DOUBLES Miss Madeline Steffen and Miss Inez Fairchild beat Miss Marion Gloyd and Miss Ann Simpson, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5. P.)—Twelve thousand women and men saw Joe Beckett win the British middleweight championship by knocking out Frank Goddard in the second round of a scheduled 20-round bout at the Olympia Athletic club here last night. They fought for a purse of $25,000.

Beckett, who was stopped by Goddard several months ago, was immediately matched to meet Georges Carpentier for the European title, September 22. Included in the spectators were several members of nobility. Captain Alcock and Lieutenant Brown, transatlantic aviators, also were present.

SAMPSON WINS PRO GOLF PLAY

Rudolph Wilhelm and Claire Griswold of Seattle Tied in Amateur Medal Play.

SPOKANE, June 18.—(U. P.)—Playing consistently, with a precision and neatness that brooked no opposition, Harold Sampson, professional of Pebble Beach, Cal., won the open championship yesterday in the Pacific Northwest Golf association tourney with a score of 294 for the 72 holes of the two days' play.

Ernie Martin, professional of Tacoma was his nearest competitor with 299. Joe Novak, the Spokane pro, was third with 302 and Robert Leger of San Francisco fourth with 302. George Turnbull, champion last year, scored 307.

Only in fifth place did the amateurs qualify when Bob Stein of Seattle and Rudy Wilhelm of Portland tied with 305. Dick Fleeger and Heinie Schmidt, amateurs, who had been regarded as championship contestants, were far down the list.

The final 36 holes of the open championship yesterday afternoon constituted the qualifying round for the amateur championship which will be fought off in match play commencing today. Wilhelm of Portland and Griswold of Seattle tied for first place with 152. Barker of Butte was second with 153; Stein of Seattle third with 154, Schmidt of Aberdeen fourth with 157 and Spiers of Seattle fifth with 158.

Match play with the women for those who qualified in the open championship yesterday started today. Miss Phoebe Tidmarsh and Mrs. E. B. Curran tied for first place and are regarded as strongest match contenders. Mrs. M. B. Kegley of Seattle was second, Miss Frances Turner of Butte third and Mrs. G. W. Lane, fourth.

Centralia Courts Finished Soon Centralia, Wash., June 18.—The building committee of the Centralia Tennis club, composed of E. A. Hollingsworth, E. J. Lindley and G. E. Adams, announced yesterday that two courts under construction by the club will be ready for play the first of next week. The courts are located on West Main street near the Milwaukee depot.

Hot Off the Bat

ONLY 23 points separate the three leading teams in the American league, the White Sox, Yanks and Indians. Want to know why the Browns are getting wallowed by the Yanks? Twenty-three of them were left on base in the last two games. Nuf sed.

Babe Ruth got himself another homer in the rag end of a two-day staged and lost by the Red Sox to the Indians. It was Bunker Hill day holiday in Beantown.

Horn runs drives by Ribner, Perkins and Burns featured the White Sox defeat of the Athletics. Incidentally, the Old Roman made a clean sweep of the series.

The Pirates made it three straight on the Phillies which is our idea of nothing to brag about. Walter Johnson did it some more. This time he hit the Tigers down with four swats while his teammates were amassing 11.

The Cubs finally beat the Giants, but it required the eighth effort to turn the trick.
