ODDS AND ENDS IN THE NEWS

OF TRAVELERS AND HOMEFOLK

Here From New Orleans

J. C. Price, late of the 48th engineers, likes the Northwest so well he has decided to make his home in Portland. Mr. Price is a native of New Orleans, where it is so hot they must move out every summer. He and his father have been engaged in the lumbering industry in the South, but about four years ago when Price made his first trip to the Northwest, Southern lumber lost all its attractions. Then the war came on and he went to France. A few weeks ago he received his discharge at Fort Harrison, Ind., and decided now would be a good time to remove to the West, so Portland instead of New Orleans became his destination. Price is staying at the Seward.

Academy Graduates

Hold Exercises and Are Given Diplomas

The Immaculate academy high school graduates held their closing exercises Tuesday evening at the academy on Stanton street. Reverend Father Christopher Christie gave diplomas to 11 graduates and addressed them. Father graduates appeared in an opera, "The Wild Rose," which was greatly enjoyed by a large number of friends and relatives of the students. The academy orchestra rendered a number of selections during the evening.

The grammar grades graduates of the academy held their closing exercises last Sunday evening, and entertained their friends with drills and choruses. Reverend Father Daly gave diplomas to 25 graduates and addressed them.

Similarity of Names

Causes an Error in Woman's Identity

Due to the similarity of names, the report that a Mrs. Maud Seguin, taken to a local hospital Saturday suffering from poisoning, was a woman who has figured prominently in police court recently, was erroneous. Mrs. Seguin, who lives at 472 East Yamhill street, is in no way related to the unfortunate woman whose husband is now serving a jail sentence for teaching her the drug habit.

The Mrs. Maud Seguin who was taken to the hospital had called on friends at the Clifford hotel on East Morrison street and mistook a bottle of poisonous pills for water. She took several, but due to prompt medical attention, her life was saved.

Former Mrs. Bushman

Sues for Alimony

Josephine F. Bushman, who obtained a divorce from Francis X. Bushman, has begun suit against him for $818.04, the amount of alleged unpaid alimony, including a $1000 claim for unpaid counsel fees assigned to her by Robert Elger and Scott Offutt, Baltimore attorneys. In connection with her suit Mrs. Bushman obtained from Supreme Court Justice John M. Tierney an attachment against property valued at $150,000, recently removed by Bushman from Baltimore to New York, she alleges. The Baltimore decree directed the defendant to pay $46,000 to the plaintiff in installments of $10,000 each.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness, sympathy and contributions of flowers in our recent bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. N. Waldron and family.

He Knew
Teacher—Don't you know that punctuation means that you must pause?
Willie—Course I do. An auto driver punctuated his tire in front of our house Sunday and he paused for half an hour.

Part of Credit for

Displays Is Given

Labor Union Men

Members of labor unions rendered valuable assistance to the committees in charge of home industry window displays in downtown stores during the Rose Festival, according to George L. Rauch, chairman of the Ad club committee. Space for a large portion of the 70 exhibits of Portland manufactured goods was secured through personal solicitation of labor union men, according to Mr. Rauch.

Committees in charge of this work were: Ad club, George L. Rauch (chairman), William S. Block, Sam Connell, M. Lee and A. G. Clark. Progressive Business Men's club, M. E. Lee (chairman), K. C. Eldridge, J. C. Gripper, Frank Hilton, George L. Rauch, E. W. Pearson, J. S. Sikes and Byron Beattie. The Ad club committee solicited the manufacturers and the committee of the Progressive Business Men's club.
