

EFFORTS ARE MADE TO OBTAIN PERMANENT BUILDING FOR SCHOOL

Bishop Sumner in Address Before St. Helens Hall Pupils Says Negotiations Pending.

Negotiations for permanent control of the building now used by St. Helens Hall, said Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner, who addressed the students and friends of the school on Tuesday evening in connection with the pageant which was a part of the golden jubilee commencement exercises of the school.

Since the destruction of the original building by fire in 1914, the building formerly used by Portland academy has been used by St. Helens Hall on the site. It is the desire of the trustees and alumnae of the institution that this building become a part of the present school property.

The exercises were held on the lawn in front of the school. The bishop spoke in appreciation of the excellent work of the sisters of St. John the Baptist who conduct the school, and of the good financial condition of the institution.

First testimonials were presented to Miss Catherine Overbeck. Those receiving second included: Philina Bartlett, Frances Baker, Janice Barker, Mary McAllister and Mary Vandewater. A brief history of the school and its work was given by Joseph N. Teal, whose sister was one of the first students of the school. The pageant was written by Fath Newton and Mary Greenlee, members of the 1919 class.

Included a number of artistic interpretative dances and its portrayal required the use of many charming and elaborate costumes. Every member of the student body of the school participated. A delightful number of the program of dancing was the Valse Triest, which was given by eight girls in cowls and monkish hoods, with the fire spirits, three charming maids in flame colored robes—the Misses Harriet Breyman, Marlin Farrell and Thyra St. Clair. This number depicted the fire which destroyed the school in 1914.

Boy 17, Girl 16, Are Found Through Picture in Paper

After seeing the picture of Miss Jewel Morris in The Journal Tuesday evening, several persons notified police headquarters that they had seen the girl at different places, which developed clues leading to her being found at Hood River Wednesday morning.

Late Tuesday evening Miss Morris, 16, left Portland on a river steamer for Hood River with Austin Mann, 17, of Milwaukie. The police say that the couple intended to falsify as to their ages upon reaching Hood River and to get married. The girl has been missing from her home since Thursday evening, when she left supposedly for The Oaks amusement park.

The mother of the Mann boy told police this morning that Jewel had been stopping at her home since Thursday, and that the family had taken pity upon her, as she claimed to be a girl in poor health and destitute circumstances. The boy's sympathy advanced further than that of the parents.

A long distance call was sent to the county clerk's office at Hood River, advising him not to issue the marriage license, and a telegram was sent to the chief of police asking him to hold the couple until relatives arrived. Jewel's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morris, 1303 East Twelfth street.

WEB OF DANUBIAN EMPIRE IS BEING STEALTHILY SPUN

Monarchist Movement Would Make Hapsburgs Rulers of New Confederation.

Paris, June 19.—(I. N. S.)—Information furnished to me exclusively today from one of the most reliable European sources reveals the existence of a powerfully backed plot to secretly build up a Danubian confederation and restore the Hapsburgs to kingship.

The confederates have been at work for two months, and so far their activities have been the sacking of the Hungarian embassy at Vienna, and the theft therefrom of 200,000,000 kronen; the sapping of impoverished Austria; the restoring of Emperor Karl as Count Czernin, former Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs; General Schoenberg; and Baron Smezeranyan. Further powerful support is being lent by the order of Jesuits in Switzerland and the Christian Socialists of German Austria. The former Emperor Karl and his consort, the beautiful Empress Zita, are in almost daily communication with the conspirators, who are swarming all through Switzerland and maintaining constant contact, thanks to the imperfect watch maintained by the Austrian republican government, on the Swiss frontier.

So far the monarchial intrigue has produced no tangible results, but I have the very best authority for saying that it is proceeding relentlessly. A small but devoted force which suffered by the downfall of the old regime is being welded together and furnished arms and equipment. The plan of the leaders is to wait until the people of German Austria touch the lowest depths of despair and then to attempt a coup d'etat designed to result in the young emperor (who has never abdicated) riding victoriously back to Schonbrunn castle.

News of the plot in all its ramifications reached Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian delegates, while he awaited of the allied peace terms at the chateau of St. Germain. Renner refrained from communicating his fears to the conference. His hurried departure from Paris after receiving the draft terms to meet Herr Eauer, the secretary of state for foreign affairs at Innsbruck, was due to his anxiety to get first hand information on the progress of the monarchial movement.

It is beyond all doubt that the Austrian chancellor entertained grave doubts as to the loyalty of some of his cabinet colleagues of the new republic. He was particularly angered by circumstantial reports reaching him at St. Germain that two of his colleagues—Dr. Fink, leader of the Christian Socialists, and Herr Fingule, under secretary of state for foreign affairs—were engaged in treacherous dealings. These reports alleged that these two politicians were not only fully aware of the conspiracy, but were actually taking part in it.

Bonds Taken From Bank In a news dispatch from Salem Tuesday referring to the probable refuge of "Red" Rupert, escaped convict, in the arms of General Villa, the statement was made that he had been sent to the penitentiary because of theft of Liberty bonds from the "United States National bank." This was an error, as Rupert's speculations were from the Northwestern National bank, where he had been employed as trusted messenger.
