

Seaside

James McCune, Lewis drug store, Seaside, Journal agent, will deliver The Journal, including The Sunday Journal, for 15c a week, 65c a month.

SEASIDE, July 12.—Now that the fourth of July is past and a part of the great crowd has returned to their homes, Seaside has settled down to its summer pastimes and pleasures. All of the cottages are about taken and families are seen everywhere. More young people than ever before are enjoying boating and canoeing. The Necanicum is a lovely little river and some day the officials hope to have it in splendid condition, with the logs removed. One can now row down to the mouth and catch crabs with rakes or wait until low tide at which time mud clams can be dug. These are very tasty in spite of their name and resemble the little neck clams of California.

The visitors for the past week-end have been very numerous and the hotels have been crowded. Although Mr. Hardesty has enlarged his dance hall it is not large enough to accommodate all of the enthusiastic dancers. Astorians and guests from Gearhart motor over nightly to enjoy the music and watch the happy throng. Among those of Saturday night's contingent were the Felix Friedlanders, the Walter Cooks, the J. Cronins, the J. Harkins Smiths, the George Marshall, Judge Gantenbein and family, the Harry G. Thompsons, John Grotke and family and Jordan Zan.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Prouty were guests at Hotel Seaside, spending a bit of their honeymoon there. Mr. Prouty is president of the Prouty Lumber company of Seaside, but at present they are making their home in Portland at Hotel McMillan. They returned home Monday.

JOSEPH SIMON SEASIDE VISITOR
Joseph Simon, a well-known Portlander, spent the Fourth in Seaside, returning home the first of the week. Registered at Hotel Seaside this past week were: James J. Tray Jr., of Portland; J. B. Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Glen, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson and children, all of Portland; Mrs. R. H. Hammond of Spokane; L. E. Briggs and wife of Portland; Mrs. R. Felge and daughter of San Francisco; Mrs. Margaret Chesterfield of Detroit; Basil Hancock of San Francisco; Edith Burke of Portland and Captain F. H. Cooper of Camp Lewis.

R. H. Crozier of Portland is a frequent visitor to Seaside. United States Commissioner F. H. Drake was also a weekend visitor. Others enjoying a short vacation were: R. E. Roy, Walter Taylor, Sumner, Dan Freeman, Van Housen, Captain W. C. McNaught, Sam Foster, Morris Goldstein, Max Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schubert. Mrs. E. F. O'Rourke of Portland is summering at the "Martin" cottage. Mayor George Baker was a Seaside visitor. He delivered his Fourth of July address at Astoria and motored over here before returning to Portland. George Diezendorf and family are here in the "Cofish" cottage for the summer. Oswald, West and daughter Helen passed through Seaside on their way home for a short visit.

Cars from all parts of the northwest were noticeable here this week. There were license numbers from Montana, Idaho, Washington and California. The camping and parking grounds are very popular and have been crowded all week. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill motored in from Portland on the Fourth and after a brief stay they went on to Cannon Beach, returning to Seaside on Sunday. Mr. Hill was formerly Edith Knight Holmes, one of Oregon's best writers.

Those enjoying an outing and registered at Lockley Hall were: R. E. Rankin, A. K. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frail, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnson, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fehult of Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. George M. Norton with Charles Norton, Ruth Norton and Catherine Baker, who motored down from Portland; Mrs. Franklin Cooke, Flora Cooke and Dr. Frank Pearn.

Registered at Hotel Mears were: G. Riggs, A. Pederson, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hopkins, D. J. Healey, A. Ritter, R. L. Hardin, O. Holmquist, Earl McMillan, Harry Parker, George Serier, L. Kratzke, William Davis, L. O. Church, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wood, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. George Moore of Pendleton; Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Short, Eddie Johnson, Jean Silver, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cox of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bogart, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holt, Miss N. Metcalf, William R. Jackson, and Lola E. Miles of Portland.

At the McGuire hotel were: Mrs. A. E. Fuller of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lydick of Wheeler; Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Mercer, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Zimmerman of Wheeler; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Allen of Portland; Harry England, Elmer Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. R. Cliff and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cliff and baby, of Portland. They enjoyed the hospitality of Captain and Mrs. A. S. Foster. Another house party consisted of Dr. England, Elmer Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. R. Cliff and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cliff and baby, of Portland. They enjoyed the hospitality of Captain and Mrs. A. S. Foster. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fuller of Portland are summering at the Depot hotel, also L. L. Pagot. Other guests are Mr. and Mrs. William Chandler and Barbara Chandler of Walla Walla; E. P. Clary of Portland; C. D. McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murray of Portland; E. G.

Jones of Astoria, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cobbs of Portland.

Captain J. C. Smith with Mrs. Smith and baby were recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Hagmeier. Captain Smith was formerly with the Hammond camp, during the war. Their home is in Juneau, Alaska.

The next entertainment of interest in the chausauqua coming here July 22/27. The program is of unusual interest and on July 26 William Jennings Bryan will be heard.

Registered at the Natatorium hotel are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hollenbach, Miss Freda Dangel, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robison, and son Earl who motored from Vancouver; C. F. Venstrand, T. G. Johnston, Charles DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Young, Helen Young and William Young; H. Lind, C. Thompson, B. Avenbom, Len York of Portland, Marie Shortz, Bella Shaw, W. D. Sherwood, H. O. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Wimmer, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Holoyot, Mr. E. E. Nelson and Dan Duply of Portland.

Miss Bech, Miss Anna Bech of Portland and Miss Rose Sheddler of Chicago spent the week-end with Miss Harrison Ogden in the Woodland cottage.

Mr. Robert Warwick of Portland is domiciled at her cottage with her daughter Miss Mary. Mr. Warwick was a week-end visitor Wednesday they returned to Portland for two weeks, when they will return to Seaside for the summer.

Frank Spittle with his children are domiciled in their cottage on Seventh street.

"The Betty Lamp" tea room is proving most popular. The whole color scheme is carried out in yellow and black, with quaint brass candlesticks on the mantle and the old tea kettle hanging from the crane. A very lovely gift for a friend would be one of the dainty baskets filled with candied fruit, vegetables and flowers, made famous as the Phinbridge baskets from New York.

Late arrivals at the Colonial are H. W. Buckland of Wisconsin; L. Henderson, Alice Barclay and Ernest Dalton of Butte, Mont.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brazier and Joseph Jr.; Miss Maye Beard and Evelyn Beard of Columbia, Mo. Stopping at the Colonial are: F. E. Greer, Miss Ellen McComb, Miss Gertrude Lewis, Miss Marjory Lewis, T. V. Greer, L. K. Greer, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. McKean, all of Portland; Mrs. F. H. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Phillips and Bill and Elva M. Boyd, Lulu E. Boyd, all of Vancouver; Mrs. H. W. Brown and children of Cascade, Mont., will summer here; Fred Eastlund, Portland; W. E. Ramsey, Portland, and Eugene L.
