TODAY'S FORECASTS Portland and vicinity-Tonight and Friday, ir: northwestariy winds. Oregon and Washington-Tonight and Fri-y, fair west portlon, fair and cooler east por-on; gentle hortilwesteriy winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

A low pressure area of unusual importance is apparently central in northern Saatatchewan, extending southward over all of the western half of the United States except the north Pacific slope. High pressure areas are central over the lake region and off the north Pacific coast. Precipitation has occurred on the north Atlantic coast and at scattered gations in the Gulf states. Arizona, Utah, British Columbia and Al-berts. The weather is much warmer over a belt reaching from northern Nevada to North Dakota and is much cooler in ports of Wash-ington, British Columbia and Alberta. In parts of Idaho and Montans the temperature is more than 20 degrees above normal. The tem-ned southern states and on the extreme north Pacific coast. EDWARD L, WELLS.
