Phil Neer Annexes Northwest Junior Tennis Championship From Jack Wright of Spokane

NORTHWEST NET TITLE IS WON BY LOCAL SENSATION

Phil Neer Triumphs in Junior Event Over Jack Wright of Spokane; Westerman Wins Boys' Championship; Mrs. Cushing to Meet Mayme McDonald in Women's Singles.

PORTLAND made a clean sweep in the finals of the Northwest junior and boys' tennis tourney Friday on the courts of the Laurelhurst club, the former winning the junior title from Jack Wright of Spokane in a hard fought, five set match and Westerman annexing the boys' championship from Joe Livengood of Seattle in straight sets.

The Neer-Wright match was one of the most sensational contests ever played on a local court. It was replete with thrilling rallies throughout, the local boy coming out on top by his ability to recover when in danger. His serving was somewhat erratic in the first three sets, due to the fact that he endeavored to put everything he had on the ball. The other parts of his game were well nigh perfect.

COX PILOTS TWO

Wright played great tennis and got away to a flying lead in the first set, capturing the first three games. Neer made the count three-all and Wright won the next two games, when the local lad rallied and cap-tured the next four games, giving him the set 7-5.

The Spokane lad played brilliantly in the second and third sets, while Neer was apparently off his game. Neer was off badly in his serving, making six doubles faults in the sec ond set and seven in the third.

WRIGHT WEAKENS In the fourth set, Neer played wonderful tennis. Wright was noticeably off his game, while Neer was as steady as a clock. The final set was a hard fought one, Wright having the edge until Neer again rallied and with the aid of some great smashing and driving came through with flying colors. DETAIL OF MATCH

Westerman's variety of play was too much for Livengood. The local boy never stopped a minute but kept pounding the ball and each shot

Mitchell Expects Cubs to Win Injuries Big Setback to Team

NEW YORK, July 19.3 - (I. N. S.—The champion Cubs have not given up hope of repeating. They are going to give the Giants and Reds a battle to the finish for the pennant, according to Fred Mitchell, their two-fisted manager.

"The race is as tight as a drum and the season is only half over," can see, it's anybody's pennant and I am confident that the Cubs will be heard from. We're due to make a strong finish. We have a lot of games to play at home and we will finish on our own grounds. "If it hadn't been for Charley Hollocher's broken thumb we would have done much better to date. HOLLY'S ABSENCE HURT

"Hollocher was out of the game for, a month and I attribute the loss of a good many games to his absence from the line up. Killifer's injury and absence from the game hurt us, too, but both players are back now and we have our full strength. "George Tyler is the only member of the pitching staff who is not going good now. Alexander looked mighty good in Boston the other day and I think he'll win many

York series at Chicago.
"I can't account for the fact that the Cubs are not hitting as well as last year. You never can explain those things. Deal, for instance, was the weakest hitter we had last This year he is hitting harder than anybody. HAS BETTER PITCHING

"Our club isn't as strong as the Giants and Reds with the bats but we have superior pitching and I think this will be demonstrated Mitchell added that the Giants have been the hardest club for the Cubs to beat. In fact, Chicago has won only one game from New York this season, while the Giants have beaten the Cubs eight times. Against the Reds, Mitchell's club has held its own, winning six and has held its own, winning six and losing six.

"We're due to pick up," concluded Mitchell. "The players are full of of fight. They refuse to admit that anybody has the edge on them and they'll have to be shown. I feel sure that we will be in there battling them all at the finish. I'm not predicting that we'll win the pennant because it will be an uphill fight, but the club that beats us out will know that it has been in a pennant race." A
