Salt Lake Tossers Make Clean Sweep of Seven Games in Series With Portland Beavers

SALT LAKE SERIES WITHOUT LOOT FOR FALTERING BEAVERS

Bees Carry Off Double Cone to Add to Store of Victories Taken From Portland, Despite Persistent Struggle; Outfielder Frank Walker Quits Team Again.

SALT LAKE, July 21.—Salt Lake made a clean sweep of the series with the Portland Beavers by taking the long end of the score in both Sunday games, 6 to 5 and 10 to 5.

The Beavers garnered a dozen hits off the delivery of Gene Dale in the first game, but could not overcome the four run start the Bees got in the first inning as the result of loose pitching and erratic fielding.

In the second game the Bees pounded Sutherland and Schroeder hard and were easy winners.

Outfielder Frank Walker "jumped" the Beavers again, McCredie replacing him with Farmer in the middle of the first contest. Walker's loss will be sorely felt by the Beavers, as he has been hitting at a terrific clip during the past couple of weeks.

Salt Lake's four runs in the first game were the result of hits by Maggert and Krug, followed by errors by Siglin and Walker. Smith's homer, which scored Mulvey in the fifth proved to be the winning runs.

UNABLE TO HIT

The Beavers scored once in the second, twice in the seventh and twice in the ninth. With the tying run on second base in the ninth, neither Cox or Baker, pinching for Penner, were able to hit safely.

Salt Lake scored one in the first and two in the second of the second game and the Beavers went into the lead by scoring one in the third and three in the fourth. The Bees came back strong and put across five runs in the fifth inning, cinching the contest. Salt Lake added two more in the seventh. Portland's last run was scored in the same inning.

SUTHERLAND HIT HARD

Sutherland was touched up for eight runs and 11 hits in the five innings that he pitched.

The Beavers departed last night for San Francisco, where they open a seven-game series with San Francisco.

The second largest crowd of the season saw the contest, the paid admissions totaling over 6000.

Carpentier Is Willing to Meet Jack Dempsey

Paris, July 21.—(I. N. S.)—Georges Carpentier's manager announced today that the European heavyweight champion has agreed to meet Jack Dempsey in a bout for the world's title, if Dempsey can be persuaded to come here. The name of the promoter was not given, but it was said that he offered a purse of $100,000.

Though Carpentier won with ease in his bout with Dick Smith, former English light heavyweight, Saturday night, the few Americans present were of the opinion that Carpentier needs to learn a lot if he hopes to beat Dempsey.

The Frenchman showed plenty of steam but swung wildly and lacked the polish that gave him a pre-war reputation as a boxer.

SPEAKER BECOMES INDIAN BOSS

Tris Speaker, star outfielder who succeeds Lee Fohl as boss of the Cleveland Americans. Fohl resigned, so he says, so that it would be possible for Cleveland to win the pennant.

Playing Bosses Coming Back Fans to Watch Tris and Gavvy

By L. R. Blanchard

CHICAGO, July 21.—(U. P.)—The playing manager is coming back. After a period in which pennant hunters of the major leagues have been directed entirely by the corpulent, the gray-haired, but always retired player, there now is a movement to reinstate the athlete—the man who can take an active part in the physical battle as well as the mental.

The basis for the above statement, of course, is the appointment of "Gavvy" Cravath to manage the Philadelphia Nationals and the selection of Tris Speaker to direct the Cleveland Americans.

Each Is Slugger

A coincidence in the appointment of these two players is that each is a slugger of his team. Whether there is a general return to the playing manager depends largely upon the showing of these artillerists. Both are noted as "good" ball players, but the accent always was placed on their batting prowess, not so much on their headwork. Perhaps, if they lead their teams well to the front this year, there will arise a feeling that an ounce of example is worth a pound of direction and club owners will begin a search for managers who can keep the ball bouncing around the .300 mark.

Speaker is a quiet fellow, well liked throughout baseball. His only real row on a ball field occurred this year, when he battled a round with "Chick" Gandil of the White Sox. Perhaps his remark then is an example of how he will take hold of his new job.

"I don't like to fight," he said. "I didn't want to. But it looked like it was up to me, and I did the best job of it I could."

KEPT RIVALS WORRIED

Perhaps, Tris does not care much for the new job, but it's up to him, and he may do it. He's not out in front with his batting this year, and the job's effect on his slugging will be interesting.

Lee Fohl, retiring manager at Cleveland, has not won a pennant but he has kept rival managers running to heart specialists. Criticism of his work arose this year, when, with a good offensive club but a troublesome pitching staff, he has not been able seriously to hinder Chicago and New York.

GOLF

GEORGE GAMMIE forced Walter H. Nash to play an extra round in the finals of the second flight of the summer handicap of the Portland Golf club Sunday. The players were evenly matched and played exceedingly good golf throughout.

C. N. Sampson won the third flight, defeating Clayton Sharp, 5 up and 4. E. S. Higgins lost in the fourth flight to R. U. Shand, 1 up. H. B. Robinson beat Dr. C. C. Moore, 2 up and 1 up, in the sixth flight. George Schaefer won the seventh flight from H. B. Williams, 3 up and 2. The finals of the fifth flight will be played this week between Hart and Atkinson.

Sunday's play in the first elimination round of the Heitkemper trophy was postponed on account of the final round of the summer handicap. These matches will be staged next week.

Walter Nash won the ball sweepstakes tourney with a net score of 72 strokes. George Gammie was second with a 74 net.

Forest Watson was low player in the round robin golf tourney on the course of the Waverley Country club Saturday with a 69 net. Jack Straight registered a 71 net and Andy White scored a 73. The low scores: Forest C. Watson, 69; Jack R. Straight, 71; Andrew E. White, 73; Dr. A. A. Morrison, 78; F. W. Ellis, 79; E. W. Peterson, 80; S. E. Morris, 89.

Fishing in Wilson River Is at Its Best

Fishing in the Wilson river near Tillamook is at its best, according to Johnny Reed, who with his father landed 71 trout in a few hours Sunday morning. Reed landed 20 trout out of one hole. Forest fires around Silver lake prevented good fishing, according to a party of anglers. The fish are feeding on the ashes which have fallen on the lake and fail to respond to the fly.

Hot Off the Bat

ALLAN SOTHORON won his ninth straight game for the Browns when he pitched them to victory in the first game of a double bill with Washington. The Senators broke even by pounding five pitchers in the second game.

This week's campaign opens with the White Sox five and one half games in the van of the Yanks and the Giants one game ahead of the Reds.

Joe Jackson brought a pitcher's battle to an end at Chicago when he hit Ernie Shore for a homer in the tenth inning, enabling the White Sox to take the Yanks.

Jim Bagby allowed the most hits but managed to win his battle with Scott Perry. A triple by Chapman drove in Cleveland's winning run.

Herb Pennock kept five Detroit hits well scattered while the Red Sox bounded Boland, Ayers and Cunningham for eight runs.

Local Casters Call Off Team Tourney

All hopes of staging the team casting matches between a squad led by Jack Herman and one captained by Dr. E. C. McFarland at Oswego Sunday, were forced to be abandoned when the genial "Doc" could not muster his gang. Some of his stars wanted to go fishing, while one or two thought it was a little bit too warm, consequently it was decided to hold the program either next Sunday or some afternoon during the week. The original list of events called for an all-day affair, but this is thought to be too long. Members of both teams will be in attendance at the weekly casting tourney of the Multnomah Anglers' club at the Sellwood Park pool Wednesday evening, starting at 6:30 o'clock. The contests will be: Fishermen's distance bait, fishermen's accuracy bait and dry fly accuracy at unknown distances.

MINOR BASEBALL

A SORE toe due to an accident a few days ago is given as one of the reasons why Sergeant Ernest Frye was unable to get his fast ball to working against the Standifer Shipbuilders on the Vaughn street grounds Sunday afternoon. The sergeant has been signed up for a tryout with the Beavers when they return home. The Standifers were good for 21 runs while the best Battery A could gather was two markers. Frye showed flashes of "fine stuff" but he had to retire and Errol Wintherbotham finished the contest for the ex-service men. The battery for Standifer was Jocko Krause and Bob Marshall with Joe Barr on the receiving end of Frye and Wintherbotham.

Slaughtering the offerings of three pitchers, the Columbia Park baseball team walloped the Peninsula Baby Beavers 17 to 7 on the Columbia Park grounds Sunday. It was a return contest, the first having been called off in the sixth frame with the score 4 to 2 in favor of the Parkers. Ten errors on the part of the losers caused Manager Fergusson to lose interest in the match while Columbia Park athletes were charged with five miscues. Young, Pitzger, Welch and Wallace formed the battery for the Baby Beavers while Frank Koontz and Meyers worked for the winners.

Manager Lowry of the Hesse-Martin Iron work would like to secure a game for next Sunday for his contingent. Call East 7900.

After a much needed vacation, Max Walther, president of the Portland Commercial league, is expected back some time this week. Walther, since his operation for having his tonsils removed, has been recuperating at the seashore and he has fully recovered. He will resume the A. G. Spalding & Brothers' baseball booking agency which in his absence has been looked after by George A. Anderson.

Carpentier Stands Chance With Jack, Last Victory Shows

New York, July 21.—Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight champion, looms as a possible contender with Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight championship by reason of his victory over Dick Smith, the British light heavyweight, in Paris Saturday.

It was Carpentier's first ring appearance in nearly five years and his showing against the Britisher gave the lie to the stories of his having gone back and not being fit for a hard battle.

The real test of his fitness, however, will come when he goes against Jack Beckett, holder of the British heavyweight title, in London on September 25.

In the Paris bout Carpentier showed himself to be possessed of his oldtime punching power and whirlwind speed. He had things his own way from start to finish. He floored Smith twice before the knockout came in the eighth round.

Canada Will Be Represented in New Ball League

Spokane, July 21.—(U. P.)—Plans for a new international baseball league in 1920, composed of teams from Spokane, Butte, Great Falls, Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge, Alberta, and possibly Missoula and another Canadian town, are slowly taking shape here.

Nick Williams, former manager of the Spokane Indians in the Northwest league, is chief backer of the new project and he is busy now in Canada looking over the situation there and lining up support. Reports he is sending in indicate the Canadian towns will welcome the new league with open arms. The Montana towns are also favorable.

CARL MAYS LIKELY TO BE TRADED

Yankees Said to Have Inside Track on Getting Red Sox Hurler.

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, July 21.—(U. P.)—Carl Mays stands a chance of enjoying a unique position this year—that of winning a pennant for some likely American league club and thus catapult himself into another world's series, to the intense dissatisfaction of other members of the Red Sox.

Mays is now idle, having detached himself from the Red Sox payroll, ostensibly because the Red Sox could not win games with him in the box. He expects, of course, to be transferred to either the White Sox, Yankees, Indians or Tigers, any one of which would be pointed straight to pennantville with the submarine star on the staff.

TRADES ARE IN AIR

Indications are the Yankees will land the star. The New Yorkers have a surplus of pitching and other talent, which could easily be juggled very satisfactorily for the Sox, it appears. Kid Gleason is moving all his checkers in an effort to get close to the king pitcher but his material is limited. Turning over of a player amounting to very much would seriously interfere with his pennant ideas.

Big trades, it is believed, are in the making. John McGraw is not satisfied with the Giants and is trying hard to land some strengtheners. The deal involving Ferd Schupp, Frank Snyder and a flock of St. Louis and Philadelphia players is not completed. The Braves, it is now intimated, are gathering together a bunch of chattels for a dicker.

The Braves and Red Sox, more than any other clubs, with the exception perhaps of the Athletics, need a change of faces most.

Moran Dodges Pennant Query Red Boss Praises His Players

By Jack Velock

NEW YORK, July 21.—(I. N. S.)—"Do you think the Reds can win the pennant?"

Pat Moran, hustling manager of the Cincinnati Nationals, dodged the question when it was put up to him today.

"Predictions are out of my line," smiled Moran. "I never make them. We're after the pennant, of course. We'd like to win it and we are fighting hard every day. That's all I can say."

Pressed for the "low down" regarding the success of the Reds the genial Patrick loosened up.

PLAY TOGETHER

"The boys are playing together," he said. "They are playing today's game today and tomorrow's game when the time comes. None of the players are talking about the pennant or speculating on getting some of the world's series money next fall. They simply go in there and fight hard for every game and I'll hand it to them, they're some fighters."

"But you don't have a fight on your hands against everybody with a club going like the Reds," suggested the writer.

"That's where you're mistaken," replied Moran. "Every club in the league has been giving us a battle. We've already beaten St. Louis one series, but we had to fight for it. Boston gave us a battle every day while we were there. Fact is, we haven't found a club in the league that is easy to beat."

MAGEE'S ABSENCE HURTS

Moran refuses to take more credit for the success of the Reds this season than he attributes to any of his regular players. He has praise for all of them.

"Because we've been winning is no sign we have had all smooth sailing," he explained. "The fact that Sherry Magee was sick and unable to be in the line-up has weakened us. Bressler had to be sent to the outfield and that detracted from the pitching staff. Bressler has been doing good work. He is trying hard and he stands up well for a pitcher. I've been trying to get another outfielder but there is nobody willing to part with one. We are going to do everything we can to stay in the race and the club is willing to spend money for talent. But talent isn't easy to get."

PITCHERS GOING GREAT

"Our pitchers have certainly been doing their share to keep us in the race," Moran continued. "Eller, Ring, Reuther and Sallee are all doing good now. Fisher has also been pitching fine ball."

Moran is enthusiastic over the work of Rousch and Neale, who have been starring in the outer gardens.

"Rousch is hitting in wonderful form," he said. "He hits all kinds of pitching hard and he has always been a good fielder. Neale, too, is going great."

Weather permitting, the Reds were slated to tackle the Giants at the polo grounds today in a double-header. There is more interest in the series than a Cincinnati team has ever create in New York before.

Lacrosse Series Evened Up

Vancouver, B. C., July 19.—The New Westminster lacrosse team, world's champions, defeated the Vancouver team today by a score of three to one, in the series being played for the Minto cup, before the largest crowd of the season. Today's results even up the series 3 to 3.
