

AQUATIC STARS TO VIE HERE

National One Mile Swimming Race Scheduled for Next Saturday.

OUTSIDE entries for the annual national one-mile swimming championship of the Amateur Athletic Union next Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, are coming in too slow to suit those in charge of the affair, according to O. J. Horsford, chairman of the swimming committee of the "Winged-M" institution. Entries close next Wednesday night at midnight, and to date but one out-of-town star has sent in his signed blank and entrance fee.

W. L. Wallen Jr., present title holder, will come west from Chicago to enter the race, according to messages received here Thursday. Wallen made a big record for himself last year while a chief yeoman at the Great Lakes Naval Training station. He now represents the Illinois Athletic club.

IS STAR SWIMMER

Some of his achievements in national events last year found him fourth in the 10-yard swim under the auspices of the Neptune A. C. at Alameda, Cal., on April 28, and three days before he finished third in the 320-yard swim at Los Angeles. On August 24 he showed some advantage by winning the 440-yard national swim title at the South Shore Country club straightaway and his time was 5 minutes, 57 4-5 seconds.

TO MEASURE COURSE

Work of measuring the course will take place Monday. Arrangements have been made through Lewis V. Woodward of the Windermere Yacht club to use the huge float of the pavilion to make the jump off and the finish will be near the Hawthorne bridge. Suggestions have been made to have the finish between the Morrison and Hawthorne bridges so that spectators can be accommodated more readily, but this will be determined Monday. Chairman Horsford will be assisted by Jack Cody, swimming instructor, of the Multnomah Athletic club, in laying out the course.

KRUEGER MAY ENTER

Harold "Stubby" Krueger is in San Francisco at present, and along with several other members of California may enter. Mike Konaowaloff of Seattle may be among the starters. The fact that Norman Ross remained overseas prevented his entry in the event. Ross will attempt to swim the English channel in the near future.

Chairman Horsford is certain that eight or 10 of the best swimmers in Portland will enter to make competition as keen as possible under the circumstances. The "Winged-M" tank has been in use constantly getting ready for the occasion and even though the race will start about 10:30 instead of in a tank, the Cardinal and White mermen hope to carry off some of the prizes.

Roger Hornsby Plays Good Game at Third For St. Louis Cards

Roger Hornsby, the Cardinals' sensational young free hitting infielder, who was shifted from shortstop to third base when Doc Lavan was obtained by the St. Louis club, has become accustomed to his new post and is now playing as neatly under the ball around the far corner. Hornsby had had a brief experience as a third sacker in St. Louis, three or four years ago, but had much to learn about guarding the far bag when he was assigned to it this season.

Buddy Wallen Wins Annual River Race

Chicago, July 26.—(I. N. S.)—L. W. "Buddy" Wallen of the Illinois A. C. won the eleventh annual Chicago river marathon today, covering the one and three eighth miles in 39 minutes and 24 seconds. Herman Laubis of the Chicago A. C. was second and Frank Peckell of the Chicago A. C. was third. Fifteen-year-old Florence Gaither of Chicago won the woman's race that preceded the marathon.

BASEBALL

CLARENCE (POPPY) SMITH, who refused to report to Portland this spring, is down and out with tuberculosis, according to word received here. Fans and writers in the southern city recently gave him several hundred dollars.

DeWitt Lebourveau, former Seattle and Oakland outfielder, who was turned over to the Peoria club of the Three-I league, has been purchased by the New York Nationals. Del Howard, the Oakland manager, figured on bringing the youngster back to the Coast league next season, but McGraw took a liking to the way he was hitting the ball and grabbed him.

"Bullet Joe" Bush has rejoined the Red Sox, after being out of the game for several weeks on account of a sore arm. His visit to "Bonesetter" Reese aided him a little, but it is doubtful whether Bush will be of much value to the Sox during the remainder of this season.

Pete Daniels, who was traded to the New Orleans club this year by Portland, recently established what is believed to be a world's record in baseball by throwing two men out at first base on clean hits in one inning. Daniels is playing right field.

George Tyler, who aided the Chicago Nationals in winning the 1918 championship, is at his home in Boston, suffering from neuritis in his pitching arm. Many believe his baseball days are over.

Reports that Freddie Schupp, who was traded to St. Louis for Frank Snyder by New York, would not report have been denied by Manager Riskey of the Cardinals.

The Milwaukee club of the American association has purchased pitchers Enzemann and Petty from the Cleveland Americans.

Charles Wagner, former star shortstop of the Boston Americans, has quit the Portland team of the New England league.

NO NEED FOR MORE TENNIS BODIES NOW

Umpires' Association Issues Publication to Guide Sport's Devotees.

NEW among tennis publications is the National Umpires' Association Manual, copies of which have been received in Portland during the last few days. The manual is being sent to all the association members, players and club officials throughout the United States. For the first time, the laws of tennis are supplemented by suggestions to spectators, players and officials which will make the association's slogan, "Know the Rules," a reality.

Accompanying the booklet is a letter from Edward C. Conlin, who, as chairman, had charge of the publication. Mr. Conlin writes:

"The main object of the National Umpires' Association is to secure better conditions for tournament play throughout the country, tournaments representing the highest development of tennis. This can be accomplished only by widespread knowledge and application of the rules. Players, young and old, must know the rules of the game. Officials in letter and spirit. This is particularly essential when so many beginners are taking up tennis, for its future welfare depends that they learn the game right."

Frank Farrell Is Back in Race Game

Frank J. Farrell, for many years president of the New York American racing association club and for some years previous the owner of a formidable stable of thoroughbreds, has gone back to the turf in a pretentious way.

TOURNEY ATTRACTS PLAYERS

Australian Stars Will Enter National Tennis Championships; Competition to Be Close.

NEW YORK, July 26.—(I. N. S.)—Competition in the coming national lawn tennis championships at Forest Hills, L. I., is going to be enlivened by the introduction of Australian talent, and interest in the annual singles tourney will undoubtedly be greater than at any time since the outbreak of the European war.

From London comes the information that Norman Brookes, C. I. Patterson, R. Lycett and R. V. Thomas, a quartet of Antipodean stars, will be among the competitors for honors. This quartet recently booked passage on the Aquitania and the four players will have had some three or four weeks to become acclimated, not to mention the chance of playing on various courts throughout the east as well as at Forest Hills.

BROOKES KNOWN HERE

Of the Australian players Brookes is the only one who is well known to followers of the net game on this side of the pond. He came to this country in 1914 with the late Anthony Wilding, who was killed in action in France early in May of 1915. These two stars defeated R. N. Williams II, Maurice McLoughlin and Thomas Bundy for the Davis challenge cup. Brookes was beaten by McLoughlin in the singles, but on the following day defeated Williams. In the doubles Brookes and Wilding won from McLoughlin and Bundy.

Robert Lindley Murray of Niagara Falls, who holds the national singles title, will find plenty of opposition this year, not only from American players but the Antipodeans and the Japanese as well. Ichiya Kumagae and Seichiro Kashi will be among the contestants.

YOUNGSTERS TO ENTER

R. N. Williams II, who held the title prior to the entrance of the United States in the world war, and relinquished it only because of absence in the service of Uncle Sam abroad; William T. Tilden Jr., Frederick E. Alexander, the "youthful" veteran; Nat Niles of Boston; Walter M. Hall; Edward Vogelbeil; Elliot Binsen, Theodore Fell and L. E. Mahan of New York; Craig Biddle of Philadelphia; Walter Hayes and Ralph Burdick of Chicago and many other seasoned veterans of the courts will undoubtedly compete.

In addition, there is a formidable crop of youngsters arising to the point of competitive excellence and keen for tournament play in the most important events, not excepting the national singles. Vincent Garland of Pittsburg; Vincent Richards of New York; Harold Throckmorton of East Orange; Harold Taylor of Spokane and a number of other youngsters are compelling recognition.

FOOTBALL

THE University of Utah football team scheduled for the 1919 season has been announced by the school. On October 21—Colorado college, at Salt Lake. On October 18—Colorado Aggies, at Fort Collins. On October 25—University of Idaho, at Salt Lake. On November 2—Montana Aggies, at Salt Lake. On November 9—University of Colorado, at Salt Lake. On November 16—U. S. C., at Los Angeles. On November 27—Utah Aggies, at Salt Lake.

Leon McCarthy, former Ohio state football star, has been made coach of the University of Kansas. In 1917 he coached the Kansas freshmen. McCarthy is a lieutenant in the 110th engineers of the Thirty-fifth division, and saw service in the Argonne.

It is understood that Harvard, Yale and Princeton propose to have training camps for football candidates this fall, notwithstanding the resolution of the National Collegiate A. A. last fall that they should not be revived.

Walter Trumbull, captain of the Harvard football team of 1914, and Charlie Coghlan, one of the star ends of the Crimson eleven, have been named as assistant coaches by Head Coach Robert Fisher of Harvard.

Joe Brooks of New York, who coached the Williams college football team in 1917, will take up the same duties this fall.

Huggins Says Team Will Be Up There at Finish of Season

New York, July 26.—(I. N. S.)—Miller Huggins has expressed the opinion that his ball club would remain a leading factor in the race for the American League pennant right up to the end of the campaign.

Sport Gossip From All Fields

Portland Develops Net Stars

By George Berts

PORTLAND leads the Northwest in developing boy tennis champions. Three times the Northwest boys' championship tournament has been staged under the supervision of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, and each time local raquet wielders have annexed the crown.

Phil Neer, the present junior champion, won the first tourney, which was staged in 1917, and the following year Corwin Buffington annexed the crown. This year's championship was won by Isadore Westerman, who defeated Herbert Little of Spokane in easy fashion.

AGGIES IN FOOTBALL RUMPUS

THERE is a possibility of the annual football game between the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Washington being cancelled this year on account of a hitch in the negotiations between the graduate managers of the two institutions. The game is scheduled to be played November 8, but as yet no field has been named.

Graduate Manager Meinest of Washington wants to play the game at Seattle, while the Aggies are holding out to have the game staged at Eugene. The Aggies have no college game scheduled for their campus this coming season, but will play the Multnomah club and Willamette at Corvallis.

THEY WILL DEFEND TITLE

THEY, who annexed the world's middleweight wrestling championship from Walter Miller, may meet George Walker, former Vancouver (B. C.) Athletic club wrestler, in the near future. Walter has been hurling challenges left and right recently, and if any promoter desires to stage a mat contest, he can count on They appearing for a reasonable price.

Walter Miller is clamoring for a return match with They, but there is little likelihood of the event taking place before next spring, as They contemplates journeying East for a series of matches.

TROEH BROTHERS BUNCHED FOR HONORS

THE Troeh brothers—Frank M. J. Blaine and J. Arnold—are racing neck and neck for high amateur honors in the American Trapshooting association. Frank is leading his brothers—as well as the rest of the shooters in the country—with an average of .9744, having shattered 2972 out of 3050 targets. Arnold has an average of .9725 on 400 targets and Blaine has broken 1157 out of 1200 for a mark of .9641.

James W. Seavey of Portland, holder of the Oregon state championship, is fifth among the shooters who have shot at more than 1000 targets, his percentage being .9708. Seavey has shattered 1746 out of 1800 targets. Seavey is anxious to win a place on the team which will represent America in the next Olympic games.

BIG MEET PLANNED IN BRAZIL

American Athletic Teams Invited to Participate in International Meet Next Year.

RIO DE JANEIRO.—(By Mail).—Amateur competitive athletic sports have arrived in Brazil, and they have come to stay. The new Brazilian trait was brought out strongly during the past month, when the Brazilian athletes cleaned up in the entire program of the South American Sports Confederation held here. Brazil was returned champion in all events, swimming, water polo and association football, the national major sport.

The victors defeated the best sent here by Argentina, Uruguay and Chile, and did not lose a single football or water polo game or swimming meet. In the water the Brazilians outclassed all competitors and former crack American and British swimmers here as well as the Brazilian swimmers as good as any produced in the world.

WINS GRIDIRON TITLE

On the football field, Brazil, after a hard struggle, wrested the laurels from the Uruguians, twice South American champions.

The most noteworthy feature of the series of sporting events was not Brazil's victory, but the great interest taken in sports by the people of all ages.

The games were held on the great field of the Fluminense club. This club is one of the largest athletic organizations on the continent. The huge stadium seats nearly 40,000 people, and thousands were turned away from at least four of the seven big football games of the series.

A hill overlooking the playing field was black with people, much like the famous Coogan's Bluff of the old days of the Polo grounds in New York.

WANTS AMERICANS TO ENTER

Twenty years ago outdoor sport in Brazil did not exist, as it is known and recognized in the United States. A few foreigners played tennis. Members of the English colony played cricket and a little football, but the handicrafts were not so well spent their holidays on the baseball diamond, and there entertained the sailors from visiting Yankee ships.

Brazil is ambitious for its athletics. The people are not satisfied with merely staging a South American championship tournament. They want to make the next meet a Pan-American, or even an international one, open to the whole world. As the first step to such a realization, Arnaldo Guinle, director of the Fluminense club, has asked the cooperation of United States Ambassador Edwin Morgan in transmitting an invitation to the Bethlehem Steel Works football club to send a team to Brazil, or to provide a team of the best amateurs that can be secured to meet the Fluminense club.

TENNIS

The Americans are offered all expenses for the trip.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 26.—(I. N. S.)—Playing a steady and brilliant game, Fred Wallen, St. Louis club today Voshell, veteran Eastern tennis star, proved too much this afternoon for Axel Graven and Robert Kinsey, sensational youngsters from San Francisco. In straight sets Voshell won the first sectional tennis doubles and thereby captured the right to enter the national doubles play at Forest Hills, N. Y. The scores were 6-2, 6-1 and 6-1.

Boston, July 26.—(I. N. S.)—In the singles at Longwood Cricket club today Richard Hart defeated Josiah Wheelwright, 3-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

R. Norris Williams II defeated R. S. Seaver, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

P. J. Sulloway defeated the Japanese player, K. Yamasaki, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Six tennis championships will be decided at Forest Hills, L. I., beginning August 25, namely, singles, juniors and boys in singles and doubles, veterans championship and father and son championship.

Johny Kumagae, the celebrated Japanese lawn tennis player, is the only man who has been able to beat William T. Tilden II this summer.

Rockhill Tennis club of Kansas City, Mo., will hold the western championship, starting Monday, July 28.

Jersey City to Erect Pershing Stadium

Jersey City will utilize the site of an old reservoir to erect a modern athletic field known as Pershing field. It is expected to take its place among the nation's greatest athletic centers. The construction of the field has been started. A cinder path will measure one-third of a mile with a 320 straightaway. It will measure 24 feet to its widest point and 20 feet around the turns. The first meet to be held there will be given under the auspices of the Metropolitan Athletic club, the New York Amateur Athletic union being their senior championships.

TRAPSHOOTING

TRAPSHOOTERS are born, not made, say some people. Others claim just the reverse. This difference of opinion among the "experts" caused the writing of many pieces for the papers during the past few years. Maybe they are both right. We don't know, but we want to put something before you that just came to our notice. One year ago last May Paul R. Earle of Starr, S. C., was in Jacksonville, Fla., at the Duval Gun club and he picked out a gun and shot at some targets. It was his first trial at the clay target sport. He averaged about 70 per cent. Just a few weeks ago Mr. Earle won the championship of South Carolina and averaged 97 per cent. That after 13 months' shooting. This performance speaks for itself.

No amateur trapshooter has improved as much this year as Sam Sharman of Salt Lake City, Utah. Sharman hovered about the 90 per cent mark in the state shoots and was runner-up in the Utah state championship event. In the Wyoming state shoot Sharman broke 444 out of 450 targets, closing out with an unfinished run of 25. We'll say that is a considerable improvement.

John R. Jahn, the former Iowa amateur trapshooting champion, now in the professional ranks, has just turned in a straight run of 503 targets. Four hundred and twenty-eight of these breaks were made at registered targets and the remainder were made in practice events. This is the best string of breaks that has been compiled by a trapshooter in 10 years.

Dan Bray has competed in all 43 Nebraska state trapshooting tournaments.

Grand American handicap trapshooting tourney entries close July 26.

An amateur national trapshooting organization is talked of.

YANK TEAM MUST FIND NEW HOME

Contract for Sub-Lease on Polo Grounds Expires This Year; Sunday Ball Helps.

NEW YORK, July 26.—(I. N. S.)—The Yankees must find a new home for next season. Owners of the Giants, who are planning some big improvements on the Polo Grounds, and when the 1920 season rolls around they expect to use the big stadium exclusively for giant games.

WANT EXCLUSIVE PARK

No ill-feeling prevails between the owners of the two clubs, it is said, but the Giant magnates, in planning to make the Polo Grounds an even bigger ball park in the near future, are planning to plan for Olympic games in Antwerp, but for the present nothing is being done in that regard.

President Grant of the Boston Nationals is patiently waiting for the promised climb of the Braves in the National league race. George Stallings, who holds a contract said to call for $12,500 a year as manager, told President Grant early in the present campaign that if Outfielder Walton Cruise could be obtained from the Stalling's Boston team would rush to the front. The team is still in the second division and apparently has no chance to get out of the mire. Will the Braves have another manager when Stallings' contract expires next October, or will Grant decide to make a change before the end of the season? Grant is a smart baseball man. He doesn't jump at conclusions, but it is safe to say that he is beginning to wonder whether Stallings is worth a salary of $12,500 a year.

Increase in Salary Granted Soccer Stars

Soccer enthusiasts of Great Britain will have to pay more to see their favorite players in action next fall. First class matches were formerly witnessed for the humble "tanner." The price of admission had been raised to ninepence, an increase of three pence. The increased wages to players, whose minimum now is $1170 divided over the playing season, with three weeks for special training, is accountable for the increase in the price of admission. The playing season will begin on the last Saturday in August and close on the first Saturday in May.

OLYMPIC HAVE BIG PROBLEM

Allied Countries May Not Enter Big Meet if Germans Are Entered.

NEW YORK, July 26.—(I. N. S.)—If Germans are permitted to take part in the Olympic games at Antwerp next year, provided, of course, that the plans mapped out by the International Olympic Federation are carried through, there are likely to be grave discussions in amateur sport circles in England and France, and also in the United States.

There appears to be some doubt as to whether or not the international committee will be able to carry forward its plans for the games, but in the event that the meet does take place it is not at all improbable that the entries from the allied countries will be extremely small, if indeed they send any athletes at all to take part in the meet.

N. Y. A. C. OPPOSED

While there has not been the same intense anti-German feeling in this country as has found expression in France and England, nevertheless any effort to recruit an American team for the meet is almost certain to result in a division among the various athletic clubs of the country. The New York Athletic club, it is said, on good authority, will not lend its aid to any effort to send a team to the Olympic meet next year if Germans are permitted to compete. This feeling has not taken definite or official expression at the club, but the sentiment of many of the leading members of the organization that if the Amateur Athletic union attempts to recruit a team, athletes belonging to the New York A. C. should be barred therefrom.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN

From reports that have reached athletic circles here from England and France the proposal to hold the Olympic games next year has not received as much consideration as might have been expected, save in respect to the meet in almost certain to result in a division among the various athletic clubs of the country. The New York Athletic club, it is said, on good authority, will not lend its aid to any effort to send a team to the Olympic meet next year if Germans are permitted to compete. This feeling has not taken definite or official expression at the club, but the sentiment of many of the leading members of the organization that if the Amateur Athletic union attempts to recruit a team, athletes belonging to the New York A.
