

FREIGHT SWITCHING CHARGES ARE TO BE PUT IN BRIEF FORM

Preparations Are Being Made to Simplify Complicated Matter by Chamber of Commerce.

Preparations are being made by the department of industries of the Chamber of Commerce to compile a comprehensive brief on freight switching charges in and about Portland so that representatives of industrial plants seeking a location here may be able to determine the sites suited to his business.

The statement was made by W. H. Crawford, manager of the bureau, that great difficulty has been found recently in handling industrial prospects because of the inability to supply them with immediate information on switching charges in Portland.

In the past representatives of industrial concerns desirous of locating in Portland have had to spend many days working out the switching charges from the 14 volumes of freight tariffs compiled by the railroads to cover freight charges in this district.

"There are seven districts within Portland in which various local freight switching charges are effective in addition to the inbound and outbound rates from the separate zones," said Crawford. "It is the intention of this department to compile maps and explanations so the entire district can be made clear with 15 minutes' study."

"Each district has its advantageous points for various classes of industrial work. One district is more suited to handling California shipments than another and yet this same district would be disadvantageous for the location of a factory sending out a majority of Eastern shipments."

The department of industries intends to prepare 11 maps in explanation of the district. One will make an explanation of all local shipping charges and the other 10 will treat each switching district separately in the matter of inbound movements of freight.

Two Boy Runaways Of Portland Home

Salem, Aug. 4.—Picked up as runaways at Newberg Friday, Milton and Weston Coates, aged about 8 and 10 years, respectively, have been returned to their home in Portland. John Wilson of Coquille, 10 years old, picked up at the same time, is being held. The boy was committed to the St. Mary's home at Beaverton on July 15, by the county judge of Coos county. Since his commitment he has escaped twice, and officials of the home Sunday refused to accept him again.

Lumber Company and Four Other Concerns File to Incorporate

Salem, Aug. 4.—The Ward-Lewis Lumber company of Portland, capitalized at $100,000, has filed articles of incorporation. The incorporators are A. G. Lewis, William B. Ward and Arthur H. Lewis. Other corporations filing articles Saturday were: Pacific Logging and Timber company, Portland, $10,000; H. C. Thompson, F. C. Tornou and J. Thornton Ross, Modern Printing company, Portland, $22,500; W. L. Rickman, Claud H. Sheeley and Lester W. Humphreys, Buster Brown shoe store, Inc., Salem, $10,000; George M. King, George L. Arbuckle and F. L. Wisner.

The Palmer-Owen Logging company, Portland, has filed a certificate showing an increase in its capital from $50,000 to $70,000.

Resolutions of dissolution were filed by the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company.

Cure for Habit
From the Reading Telegram
Fairmont, W. Va.—Unable to pay a fine imposed upon him for spitting on the sidewalk, George Morris was sentenced by Judge Anthony Bowen to clean up the sidewalk. Morris was provided with a bucket of water and a mop, and the job was done under the supervision of a policeman.

Second Day!—

August Exposition and Sale of Furs at Summer Prices

The big outstanding features of this August Exposition and Sale of Furs are: dependability—variety—vogue—value. The advantages of buying now will commend themselves to every woman conversant with the fur situation—the increasing scarcity and corresponding increase in price of fine furs. Furs purchased now will be held until October 1, if desired, provided a reasonable deposit is made, and stored free in our vaults. —Meier & Frank's: Fur Shop, Fourth Floor.

Second Day!—

Oneida Community Reliance Plate Less Than ½
