CONGRESS WOULD AVOID DELAY IN ACTION AGAINST HIGH COST

Congress today was preparing to speed up its legislative program designed to bring down the high cost of living., In response to demands not only from the people at large, but from members of congress themselves, the committees before which various bills are pending today had decided to grant no protracted hearings.

"It is a time for action," declared Representative Goodykoontz of West Virginia, who has introduced in the house a resolution demanding that the house judiciary committee report forthwith bills punishing profiteers, whether manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers or retailers, and providing a plan for reducing the money in circulation in order to restore its value to the dollar and prevent additional trouble because of in-

The agriculture committee received the Gard bill, introduced in the house Tuesday, which provides for a "necessaries control act," which brings under control of the federal government foods and foodstuffs, feed, clothing, fuel, shoes and other necessities; provides drastic penalties for profiteering, hoarding and speculating, and otherwis trading in necessities, in accordance with the recommendations made to congress by President Wilson.

It is believed by members of th mittee that the Gard bill, coupled with the proposed cold storage legislation, covers quite completely all proposals that could be made by the committee to the house by way of remedy for existing conditions, and they are prepared to rush action on these measures.

Influences of cold storage on the high cost of living and the danger to the storage business through drastic legislation will be discussed by Louis F. Swift of Swift & Co., Chicago packers, before the committee Friday, Chairman
