

PRE-IVY ALLEGORY TO TELL HISTORY CITY OF PORTLAND

Playground Children in Fantastic Costumes of Many Colors Will Participate in the Spectacle.

FOURTEEN HUNDRED IN CAST

Antique Rifles and Interesting Indian Relics Will Be Used in Scenes From Pioneer Days.

Eighteen city parks will be represented by more than 1400 children from all parts of the city, who will be garbed in fanciful costumes of every pastel and primary color for the "Pageant of Portland," which, at 7 o'clock this evening, will be given in Laurelhurst park.

The pageant, which is being produced by the city park board and the War Camp Community service, will give in allegorical mood the history of Portland up to the present time. It is being given as a mark of appreciation for the world war veterans of this city. For the children who have been daily attending playground classes in 18 city parks, it will be the annual demonstration of work. Folk dances and songs which they have learned will figure conspicuously throughout the pageant.

Special costumes have been designed for the various groups. Several hundred little girls between the ages of 8 and 12 years will take part in a dance, each child wearing a tulle skirt of pastel pink, yellow, blue, green or violet. These children will represent each of the city parks. The same colors will be used in another dance, but the costumes for this will be of silklike in Grecian style. The parks represented will be Mount Scott, Irvington, Laurelhurst, Sellwood and Foresty, in which the following playground directors have had shares: Miss Alta Armstrong, Miss Esther Wellington, Miss Edna Metcalf and Mrs. Elsie Shockley.

Brighter colors will be brought into the pageant by the Dutch, tarantella and the peas-cod dances. Costumes for the Dutch folk dance are of light blue with white aprons, caps and blouses for the girls and brown trousers, blue tams and jackets for the boys. Red skirts, black shawls, white blouses and yellow headkerchiefs will be worn by the girls who dance the tarantella while their partners will be in black knickers, yellow shawls, red hats and white blouses. The peas-cod dance which is English will be in red and white, the little girls wearing white dresses and red half bows and sashes. An Irish dance in which the colors worn are green, black and white will be another colorful part of the pageant.

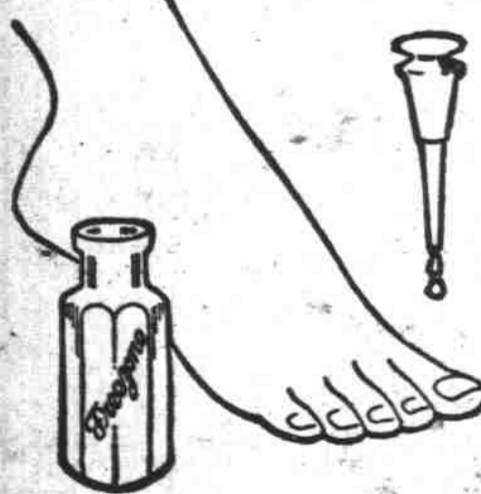

City parks which will be represented in these four dances will be Lincoln, where Miss Margaret Weeks is director; Mascot, under supervision of Miss Ada Armstrong; Johnson Creek, under Miss E. Stephens; Mount Taber, under Miss Ella Dewa; North Park, under Miss N. Reichard; Dunlap, under Miss Loretta Sheehan; Peninsula, under Miss Jewel Tozier, and Brooklyn, under Miss Ruth Sussman.

W. H. Knapp, director of city playgrounds, has organized the work for the pageant. He appointed as a costume committee the following playground directors: Miss Margaret Weeks, Miss Ella Dewa and Miss Thecla Carvey. Miss Edna Metcalf was appointed in direct charge of the dancing. Mrs. W. H. Knapp has had charge of all the costumes, having made them during the last five days with the help of three assistants. Each of the 21 men and 21 women employed by the city as playground directors has had an active part in the pageant.

The Oregon Historical society has loaned its antique rifles and Indian relics to the pageant. They will be carried by five backwoodsmen, who will be enacted by Roy Lapham, Edward Spitzki, Edward Hansen, Sigurd Grandt and Harold Pitgibbons. Howard Hopkirk will play the part of the big chief who will meet the Lewis and Clark company. The Indian chiefs with him will be negroes.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet. A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

DESCHUTES SHERIFF BELIEVES CONVICTS HAVE FLED COUNTRY

Attempt to Find Reported Hiding Place of Brichoux and Southwick Is Without Result.

Bend, Aug. 20.—Warned by stories appearing in Portland papers, D. C. Brichoux and Edward Southwick, convicts who escaped from the state asylum August 13, who were thought to have taken refuge in the vicinity of Bend, have left this section, Sheriff S. E. Roberts believes. He declared that he was unable to find any trace of the men suspected of being the escaped convicts. Early in the week Sheriff Roberts received information which led him to believe that the convicts were in hiding in Deschutes county, and immediately telephoned to the penitentiary at Salem, asking that men and bloodhounds be sent. Receiving no encouragement from the officials, Roberts has been working alone, endeavoring to locate approximately the hiding place of the men before calling a posse. In order that his work might be effective, he has used the utmost secrecy. Brichoux was committed to the penitentiary from Malheur county in 1916, where he was convicted of the murder of R. C. Goodwith, a Vale rancher. He is known as a desperate character and a sure shot. He was serving a life sentence. Southwick was sent to the state prison from Willamette county in March of the present year, on a double charge

STEEL MEN SEEK PEACEFUL MEANS

Gompers Will Head Committee to Confer With Heads of U. S. Corporation.

Youngstown, Ohio, Aug. 21.—(I. N. S.)—Efforts to reach an agreement with the United States Steel Corporation through peaceful means will be employed by the newly-organized steel workers' unions. Conferences will be sought with the heads of the steel industry within the next 10 days by a committee which will be headed by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. Failure to secure conferences, with steel corporation heads will result in a strike, the committee members declared. They are backed, they said, by almost unanimous strike sentiment, 98 per cent of the 300,000 ballots favoring that action if the demands are not granted. The right of collective bargaining, an eight-hour day, a six-day week, standardization of wages and classification of workers, double pay for Sundays and overtime, and abolition of company unions are the most important of the demands that will be made. STOCKS ARE SENT TUMBLING WHEN RAID IS STARTED

Strength Shown in All Departments in Morning; Afternoon Selling Grows Insistent

DRY LAWS PROVOKE TROUBLE

Workers Turn to Strikes When Deprived of Beer; Rich Still Drink When They May Please.

New York, Aug. 20.—Another professional raid sent stocks tumbling in Wall street today. In the morning there was strength in all departments of the list, some material advances being made. In the afternoon the selling was so insistent that in some issues support was withdrawn entirely.

Declines from high to low were from a point to 13 points. In many of the standard issues there were losses of 3 to 4 points. Lowest prices of the day were made at the close. This means that the professionals are so sure the market is going lower that they did not take the trouble to cover up overnight. This professional selling uncovered stop loss orders and caused the liquidation of much stock that was being held for investment.

CANNOT DROP FURTHER Sterling exchange broke again, touching the unprecedented price of $4.12 1/2. This price hinders free sales of American manufacturers in Europe and at the same time encourages the sale here of stocks held by Europe. It is understood that a large international banking house has great quantities of high grade investment stocks to liquidate for its European clients. A very large proportion of this is rails that have been held abroad for generations. Rails did not decline as much today as industrial, for the very obvious reason that they are already at receiver's prices and the bankers with the selling orders know better than predicate a panic.

With a few individual exceptions, one class of stocks acted about the same as another today. This indicates that the trouble is general. WORKMEN GOING WITHOUT Some people have quit blaming the insiders of any particular group. If those insiders have sidestepped the market, it is because they foresee trouble in other industries than their own. It is necessary therefore to go outside the balance sheets for the causes of this decline.

The war is, of course, at the bottom of it all, but the establishment of class distinctions under the pretense of prohibition also counts. The constitution has been amended by professional reformers contrary to popular sentiment, but that would not be so bad if all classes were treated alike. But persons with money who have cellars under their homes who are members of clubs can have all the beer, wine and whiskey they want. The workingman who has no capital or cellar has to go without his glass of beer.

The working people are not so anxious about their glass of beer as about the injustice that deprives them of it while people with money have liquor unrestrained. Being deprived, and dishonestly so, of their beer, they are suddenly forced to change their methods of living. Instead of the convivial glass, the story and song and perhaps occasional drunkenness, they have begun to hold indignation meetings. They are displaying very soberly the many wrongs which they, in common with everybody else in the world, suffer. They are magnifying these wrongs, and since

Portlander Goes to Meet Prospective Bride and Vanishes

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Aug. 21.—(U. P.)—"I met some fellows down town who said they knew a woman who would marry me," Joseph Bekan, Portland, Or., told his rooming house keeper, Mrs. Freda Fiala, according to Mrs. Fiala, who today asked police to solve Bekan's mysterious disappearance here.

Bekan came to her house yesterday, Mrs. Fiala said, and declared he had come to Iowa seeking a wife who would also be a mother to four children left in Portland. He failed to return, Mrs. Fiala declared, after leaving to meet the men who promised to "introduce" him.

People Who Neglect Their Teeth Soon Have No Teeth to Neglect

By DR. PARKER Founder and Executive Head of the E. R. Parker System

DECAY is the thing that kills. People die because some part of the body decays and gives out.

The only one who can stop tooth decay is a dentist, and the more a dentist knows, the better advice he can give and the better work he can do.

The knowledge of one dentist is limited, but the knowledge of several dentists put together amounts to a great deal. That is the advantage offered you by offices using the E. R. Parker System, where a number of dentists combine their knowledge and skill and work together. You can come and have your teeth examined free.

You can find out if some of your teeth are decaying and if disease is establishing itself in your mouth.

It ought to be worth your while to learn exactly what condition your teeth are in, particularly as it costs nothing to find out.

God gives us all but one set of permanent teeth, and it is little short of a crime to neglect them.
