

BRING ARMY HOME, DEMAND OF MASON

Claims Troops Kept in Siberia Are to Enforce Payment on Old Russian Bonds.

Washington, Aug. 23.—(I. N. S.)—Opposition to the continued maintenance of American troops in Russia was crystallizing in the house today, and a demand for the immediate withdrawal of these forces was being planned by Republican leaders. Representatives Rhodes of Missouri and Mason of Illinois, Republicans, appeared before the house foreign affairs committee today with citizen delegations from their respective states to ask why American soldiers were being kept in Siberia and for how long; the number of Japanese and Italian soldiers now in that country and why Great Britain and France have no soldiers there; and what is the policy of the Japanese government in connection with Siberia. Rhodes was insistent that all American troops should be withdrawn from Siberia. Mason charged that American troops, ostensibly kept in Siberia to guard railroad property, were really being kept there as a "collection agency to enforce payment on some ancient Russian bonds held in this country."

Honeyman, chairman of the Jobbers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The exact date of the excursion has not been announced, but tentative reservations may now be made at the chamber. The committee is as follows:

Elk Herd Will Be Released; Costs Too Much to Feed 'Em

Decision has been made by the state fish and game commission that the herd of 140 elk on the Meadows ranch in Walla Walla county will be split so that 40 will be sent to the upper end of Walla Walla lake, 40 to the Bear creek watershed and the remainder will be released from the pastures to scatter in that district. O. Shumaker, state game warden, and Marion Jack, commissioner of the game department, returned this morning from Walla Walla county, where they decided that the Bear creek watershed to maintain during the coming winter. "Grouse are plentiful in Walla Walla county and indications are good for a big deer season," says Shumaker. "Numerous forest fires are burning in the northeastern part of the state and the skies are hazy and the weather is extraordinarily warm."

Crimmins and Ida Crimmins, his wife, the complaint being based on injuries alleged to have been received by Mrs. Crimmins several months ago when she fell on one of the streets. She alleges that defective pavement was the cause of her fall.

Transport Delayed By Strike of Crew

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—(U. P.)—The army transport Dix, carrying 1500 troops for Siberian replacement, is swinging idle at the army docks today, her departure delayed by a strike of her crew. These men demand a wage increase to equal the remuneration received by shipping board sailors.

EMPLOYEES OF PACIFIC MARINE IRON WORKS BRING $8000 SUIT

Sixty Separate Causes of Action Are Assigned in Complaint; Amounts Due Vary.

Suit against the Pacific Marine Iron Works for approximately $8000 in wages which it is alleged it refused to pay under the Macey award was filed in the circuit court this morning by Albert Jacobson, Edward M. Dennison and H. J. Huber. The suit is brought by parties who hold the claims of 60 former employees of the iron works. They were originally presented to the Emergency Fleet Corporation, but the latter organization refused to pay them on the grounds that the defendant is a sub-contractor and liable for the amounts. Sixty separate causes of action are assigned in the complaint ranging in amounts from $25 to $450.

CALLS HUSBAND BOOTLEGGERS AND OWN PRODUCT CONSUMER

Addie May Donaldson says that Allen B. Donaldson is a "bootlegger" and that he consumes entirely too much of his illicit product himself, in her complaint for a divorce, filed in the circuit court this morning. John Andrew regards his hasty marriage to Mandoline Andrew at Vancouver, in 1916 and asks for a divorce. He says his wife prefers the company of other men to himself. The plaintiff seeks a divorce from Harvey E. Bennett on the grounds of cruelty. Desertion is charged by Carolyn Speer against Homer A. Speer.

Laundry Objects to Transfer The Opera House laundry filed suit in the circuit court this morning against one of its former drivers, J. W. Williams, asking that he be restrained from soliciting its customers and transferring them to the account of his new employer, the Liberty laundry.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—(U. P.)—Reservations for President Wilson and party for September 1 were cancelled at the St. Francis hotel Friday. With this action, taken on instructions from Washington, all hope was abandoned that the president might be here to welcome the Pacific fleet.

Americans Survive Tennis Semi-Finals, Besting Foreigners

Meadowbrook Club, Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 23.—(U. P.)—Two American final matches in the tennis cup singles players survived the ordeal of the semi-finals of the Meadowbrook club here Friday.

Charles S. Garland Jr., the former Yale champion of Pittsburg, smothered Loyd Mahan of New York, 6-1, 6-2. Willis E. Davis, San Francisco, conquered the Australian veteran, Norman E. Brookes, in the other match, 6-3, 6-1, 14-12. The last set of the Davis-Brookes match was a hard fought session in which the Californian mastered the court tactics of his rival in the international climax of the tournament by his service of service and the ability to maintain speed in the rallies. Davis made his most dependable weapon all through the contest. Brookes always had difficulty in handling it, although by fine overhead volleys he broke through in the third set in the tenth game when the Californian was three times within the match point. Davis was very strong in the closing games, using a lob to open the way for his fast line drive to win two points of the match.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT O. A. C. PROBABLE DURING NEXT TERM

Twice as Many Prospective Freshmen Have Applied This as Last; Soldiers Return.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Aug. 23.—The new record of attendance in Oregon will be hung up by O. A. C. this year, if present indications are fulfilled. More than double the number of freshmen who had sent in credentials by August 15 last year have forwarded their high school records to the registrar's office and most of them name the courses for which they will register.

Attendance in the sophomore and upper classes will also be larger than ever before according to forecasts. To the usual number returning to continued college work will be added the returned soldiers, who left O. A. C. to enter military service during the war, and scores of soldiers receiving state aid.

The number of freshmen credentials received before the middle of August was 256—108 per cent more than at the same time last year. In addition many requests for information on courses and other phases of college life have been received and answered. The majority of young people who have forwarded credentials expect to register for agriculture—51 in all. These numbers do not indicate the entire number of freshmen taking courses since 88 prospective students failed to designate their course. The other students indicating a choice registered in forestry, civil engineering, electrical engineering, mining engineering, mechanical engineering, logging engineering, industrial arts, mining, pharmaceutical, music, physical education, or chemical engineering.

Freedom Regulated By Law, Is Slogan of German President

Weimar, Aug. 23.—(U. P.)—Another official step in Germany's transition to the rule of democracy was recorded Friday when Friedrich Ebert, amid impressive ceremonies, took an oath as president of the republic. President Ebert, who administered the oath, reminded Ebert by Presiding Judge Tucker, office and pointed out that the old order had gone forever. He concluded with the hope that the president would unite the German people, lead them back to work and order, and point the way to the slow but sure rebirth of the fatherland. Ebert, in reply, said: "If we desire to rebuild the fatherland we must labor sacredly. The whole essence of our constitution must be freedom, but freedom which is regulated by law."

INCREASE OF WAGES AND IMPROVEMENT OF CONDITIONS SOUGHT

President Newell of American Association of Engineers Talks to Local Body.

Improvement of working conditions and increase in wages received by members of the American Association of Engineers is the primary purpose of that organization, according to statements made by F. H. Newell, president of the association, in an address at Turn Hall Friday night.

Newell holds the chair of engineering in the University of Illinois and was for several years head of the reclamation service of the United States government. For more than 30 years he was connected with the work of the federal government in developing irrigation projects in arid regions of the western states.

An president of the American Association of Engineers Dr. Newell is on a lecture tour of the country, endeavoring to educate both the engineer and the public to a higher appreciation of the value of services rendered by various branches of the engineering profession. It is not the purpose of the organization to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor, Dr. Newell said, but he hopes to accomplish through publicity and education what the unions gain through other methods. Lack of organization has proved a serious handicap to the engineers, according to Newell and other speakers at Friday night's meeting. The salaries received by them in many cities are less than the wages paid street cleaners, Newell stated.

Russian Reds Meet Defeat on Dniester

Geneva, Aug. 23.—(I. N. S.)—Russian Bolshevik troops, trying to advance across the mouth of the Dniester river, were defeated and driven back with heavy loss of life by the Roumanians, the Roumanian press bureau announced today. Seven guns, several hundred prisoners and a number of wagons filled with war supplies were captured from the Russians. The battle took place

War Veteran Whips Astorian for His Remark on Legion

Astoria, Aug. 23.—Demanding explanation of an editorial in the Astoria News, a semi-weekly publication, in which the American Legion organization here was called un-American, J. R. Hinman, returned veteran who served overseas with an engineer regiment recruited in Oregon, Friday strode into the office of the editor, Miss Clara Irvine. The editorial branding as unpatriotic the American Legion, Miss Irvine held was proper.

Hinman argued with Miss Irvine until Grover Johnson, said to be a director of the paper, entered the dispute. Hinman then went into action as he did in the days not many months ago on the fighting front. As a result Johnson, cut and bruised, picked himself from out of a broken plate window. The Astoria News, which purports to be an organ of the Central Labor Council, representing the radical element, published editorials, held to be derogatory, on the legion, subsequent to the organization's war on alien slanders. Hinman is president of Clatsop camp, No. 12.

ASTORIA ALIENS WHO GAVE UP FIRST PAPERS ARE NAMED

Astoria, Aug. 23.—Astoria post of American Legion Friday made public the names of five aliens who, during the war, attempted to surrender first citizenship papers to escape military service. All were natives of Finland, and reside here.

The names are: Eero Silpola, John Solininen, 23 Taylor avenue; Jalmar Heikki Juntilla, 261 Taylor avenue; Antton Mutru, William Wittika.

Stephenson Company Gets Heavy Damages From Frisco Concern

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—In a decision handed down here Friday by Federal Judge Van Fleet, the Stephenson company, commission merchants of Portland, Or., was awarded $3500 damages against the Pacific Bag company, formerly the Speyer Bag company. A $10,000 lot of bags, classed as "No. 1," was shipped to the Portland company. A draft in full was paid by them and when the goods arrived it was found, it is said, the bags did not measure up to specifications. The Stephenson company sold them, however, as poor quality bags and today gained a decision over the shippers for $3500 in damages.

Prisoner Sent Up From Multnomah Makes Getaway

Salem, Aug. 23.—Wynter Willis, 23 years old, admitted to the state prison from Multnomah county on June 3, 1915, escaped about 6 o'clock this afternoon while carrying water for the flax pulling crew. Wynter, who was sentenced to from one to seven years for the larceny from a dwelling in Portland, was paroled June 14, 1916, and returned to the penitentiary April 2, 1917, for the theft of an automobile. On July 22, 1918, he escaped from the prison, stealing an automobile and making his way to Portland, where he was arrested four days later at the home of relatives and again returned to the prison. He is said to have a mania for stealing automobiles.

Sensational Battle Between Holdup Men And Police on Roof

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—(U. P.)—One man is dead and another wounded as a result of a gun battle with four holdups, beginning when police discovered them robbing the Powell Social club and ending on the roof of the Pantages building when police and firemen, scaling the walls in the face of revolver fire, captured three of the men. Patrolmen Krueger and O'Neill, passing the club, looked in to find the four men holding up club members. When the officers entered the quartet began shooting, killing Alex Smith, a game keeper. They then retreated to the roof of the Pantages building. Patrolman Krueger was wounded in the leg as he stepped on the roof from a fire department scaling ladder.

Kellogg's

Toasted Corn Flakes

a suggestion to make a most decisive test of quality

One single flake of Kellogg's tells you the whole story of flavor and taste. That is why we protect you against imitations by putting my signature on each package.

W. K. Kellogg

THE SWEETHEART OF THE CORN

EAT just one of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes and you'll discover why so many hundreds of thousands of people will have no other.

First you get the flavor—the distinctive, inimitable Kellogg's flavor, with a lurking sweetness and a genuine goodness that tell of quality. Then you get the taste—a rich, real taste that gladdens the appetite and begins to satisfy hunger.

Then you notice the texture of the flake—it's a food; it has the body that proves it has been properly and carefully prepared.

AFTER you have eaten just this one flake, you find yourself with a pleasant longing for more; your nerves of taste are telling you that you have just eaten something that was not only good for you, but which you honestly enjoyed.

You will convince yourself that Kellogg's is a complete food, without cream and sugar. That is the reason why it is so very good with cream and a little sugar, why it is such a favorite with fresh or canned berries and fruits. The secret of all this is the Kellogg method.

AND a part of the credit is shared by the Kellogg wax-tite package, which brings you the flakes with their oven-freshness unchanged, so that you can almost detect the tempting aroma drifting from our oven doors.

You may as well have the choicest. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes, with W. K. Kellogg's signature on the package.
