

AMERICAN AIR SERVICE SCORED AT SEATTLE MEET

Captain McKey Declares U. S. Aviation Protection Over Front Lines Inadequate.

DONOVAN MAKES DEFENSE

Personnel of Spruce Production Division Scrutinized at Committee Hearing Saturday.

Fear opened a second attack on the spruce production division. By questions addressed both to Mr. Donovan and Captain McKey, he strove to elicit that high rank was easy to get in the spruce production division, while good men fought as non-commissioned officers at the front. He dwelt again on the fact that spruce production soldiers received civilian pay under private operators, while privates fought in the trenches for 11 a day.

"They were not slackers," witness Donovan defended the spruce production division.

"Not all of them," admitted Fear with obvious reluctance.

EVIDENCE ON I. W. W.

"I happen to know that nearly all of them wanted to get to the front, but worked in Northwest forests because their country made it their duty to do so," continued Donovan.

Fear likewise made light of Donovan's revelation of I. W. W. and Red sabotage in the woods.

"The I. W. W. were a convenient object of suspicion, weren't they?" he asked.

"We were up against the real thing," returned Donovan quietly.

He gave a specific instance, which he said was one of many.

"A Finlander, working for $5.50 a day at high rigging just before noon one day, disappeared in the woods. When he returned he got his hat and left. An hour after a fire broke out where he had been. The sheriff of Skagit county let the man get away."

SERGEANT MADDEN CRITICIZED

Before closing his testimony, Donovan said that Sergeant Madden, whose letter criticizing the spruce production company was offered for the record by Chairman Fear, Saturday morning, had proved to be a man unfitted for the work, who had been returned to Vancouver.

Two pay checks made out by the Sierra-Carey-Kerbaugh company to I. A. Mallory, another spruce production soldier, were offered by Chairman Fear. One for services between August 9 and 31 was for 7 cents, another for services October 1 to 3, was for 65 cents. Colonel C. P. Stearns said these checks had already been investigated, and that paymen were balances due after the soldiers' purchases of supplies at prices that had been found to be proper and reasonable.

E. A. Lightner of the Goodyear Lumber company was returned to the stand apparently to nullify the effect of Donovan's testimony that the Sierra-Carey-Kerbaugh company had been honestly built, along the route best adapted to spruce production and at a cost inevitable under war construction costs for a railroad intended to carry 500,000,000 feet of spruce a year during an estimated operating period of five years.

ADJOURN UNTIL TUESDAY

Lightner renewed his testimony that a road 15 miles long from Clallam bay would have tapped the spruce and would not have cost more than $500,000.

The hearing adjourned Saturday afternoon until next Tuesday morning. The congressional investigators are going up to Rainier National park. Witnesses still to be heard in Seattle are Mark Reed of Shelton, a director of the Spruce Production corporation; Mott Sawyer, the engineer who was in charge of the Clallam county railroad; E. S. Grammer, president of the Admiralty Logging company; and friendly to the Spruce Production division; and a Mr. Butler, a banker of Everett, said to have been the financial backer of loggers who desired to break the Sierra-Carey contract. The investigators hope to reach Portland by next Wednesday or Thursday.

So far evidence advanced is admitted to establish no venality on the part of spruce production officials. A question of judgment has been raised as to the building of the Clallam county railroad and mills at a contract cost of about $6,000,000. Even this is deemed an inconclusive result of a thorough investigation from which Chairman Fear is quoted as promising monumental disclosures of waste, inefficiency and possible corruption.

American Troops May Be Ordered to Upper Silesia Soon

Paris, Aug. 23.—(U. P.)—Authority to send American troops to Silesia will be asked of the government at Washington by the American commission investigating the situation, it was learned here today. It is regarded as certain that the Germans will agree to allied occupation of Silesia immediately.

Recent strike troubles and conflicts between the Germans and Poles have aggravated the situation until it was decided necessary that some steps to establish order should be taken.

Herbert Hoover was appointed by the supreme council of the peace conference today to superintend the establishment of the coal production in Silesia, pending the plebiscite which will determine Silesia's status with regard to the German and Polish claims.

German Courts Investigation

Berlin, Aug. 23.—(Delayed.)—(U. P.)—Germany insists that she alone possesses sovereign rights in Upper Silesia, the United Press correspondent was told by officials of the foreign office today. "We are eager," he said, "to explain the troubles in Silesia and show that the Bolshevik and Pan-Polish agitators are responsible."

AUSTRIANS SAY PACT TOO HARSH

the indeterminate nature of the "payments demanded by the allies as reparations," they insist that the surrender of cattle is absolutely impossible while Mr. Hoover is even obliged to supply Austria with condensed milk to keep the children alive. It is argued that since Austria's whole future is placed in the hands of the reparations commission this commission should be given authority to modify certain conditions of the treaty if it deems it advisable. The whole burden of the empire's insured debt, amounting to 15,000,000,000 kronen ($2,600,000,000) is rung on German-Austria. The money was spent on railways, food, coal imports and the development of industry outside the present Austrian frontiers for the good of the whole empire. The other peoples of the empire get the benefit, while German-Austria bears the burden.

PAYMENTS TOO BIG

The treaty's provisions for the liquidation of the old empire's bank notes are impossible. Not counting the bank notes, the total Austrian-Hungarian debt is 60,000,000,000 kronen ($12,000,000,000) of which two thirds, or 40,000,000,000 kronen ($8,000,000,000), is laid on German-Austria alone, which covers only one fifth of the population of the former empire. The terms for the payment of the debt are such that the Viennese, who owe the Czechs or German Bohemians 1,000,000 kronen ($200,000), must pay 3,500,000 kronen ($700,000). It is estimated that at this exchange the Viennese banks would be obliged to pay outside the frontiers not the 750,000,000 kronen ($150,000,000) which they really owe, but 25,000,000,000 kronen ($5,000,000,000) at a loss of 1,300,000,000 kronen ($260,000,000), which exceeds the capital and reserve of these banks. The effect is that many individuals are ruined.

Such are the principal objections raised by the Austrians to the proposed treaty. A good many Americans, who have studied the question or who have recently visited Austria, feel that the terms are, indeed, too hard. Nevertheless, the same indications are that the allied answer will make no concessions.
