Noted Men Are Of Almost All the Denominations

CLERGYMEN from all parts of the nation have been journeying toward Portland during the past week, and from appearances members of almost every denomination will be privileged to listen Sunday to noted men in their church if they desire to do so.

The Rt. Rev. James Wise, D. D., bishop of the Episcopal church in Kansas, is in the city, and will be one of the special speakers at an Episcopal mass meeting Sunday afternoon.

Another meeting which has brought a group of noted clergymen to the city is the conference on Christian fundamentals, which is being held at the White Temple and Sunnyside Congregational churches.

The famous Persian missionary, the Rev. E. T. Allen, is in the city and has been engaged to take both services at the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Minneapolis, and Arthur W. McKee, noted song leader.

The regional conference to be held in Portland by workers in the Armenian and Syrian relief cause has caused another influx of church workers.
