WAVERLEY CLUB TO SEND STRONG TEAM TO SEATTLE

Captain Davis Selects Eight Stars for Punch Bowl Competition Next Saturday; Portland Golf Club Championship Tourney to Start With Qualifying Round Today; Wilhelm Is Favorite.

WAVERLEY Country club golfers will invade the Seattle Country club links this week-end with a determination to bring back the punch bowl trophy, which is held by the Seattle Country club team.

The make-up of the local aggregation has not been fully determined by C. Harry Davis Jr., captain of the club team, but will be selected from the following players: Russell Smith, Jack Straight, Dr. O. F. Willing, A. E. White, Ernest Ingles, R. L. Macleay, runner-up in the state championship tournament last June; Ellis J. Bragg, Forest Watson and John S. Napier. Play for the trophy is slated for next Saturday.

Competition for the trophy this year promises to be closer than it has been since the start of the bowl competitions about eight years ago. The Jefferson Park Golf club of Seattle, holder of the Harry Davis trophy, emblematic of the team championship of the Northwest, will enter a strong aggregation in the tourney. The Seattle Country club is assembling its strongest players for the event.

BRITISH COLUMBIA TO ENTER Vancouver and Victoria will be represented by strong teams. Provided Captain Davis can enter a team composed of Smith, Willing, Straight, White, Watson, Bragg, Macleay and Ingles, Waverley will come pretty close to carrying off the trophy. While none of the players are expected to outclass such sensational stars as Claire Griswold, the Northwest champion, and Bob Spier, it is believed that the team on the whole will be equally as strong as that of any other club.

PORTLAND TO PLAY FOR TITLE The qualifying round of the Portland Golf club championship tournament is scheduled to be played over the Raleigh course today. More than 100 players are expected to tee-off in the competition, which is expected to be the best in the history of the club.

Rudolph Wilhelm is the present holder of the championship title and the W. C. Bristol trophy. Wilhelm is favorite in this year's tournament, but he may find the going rougher this year. Dr. O. F. Willing, the Gearhart champion, is considered by some players to have a chance to annex the honors. Sixteen players will qualify for the championship flight and chairman Walter H. Nash of the handicap committee has made arrangements to pair the other entrants in flights. Special prizes will be offered to the winners in the various flights. The women's championship tournament is slated to begin Sunday, September 23.

The final round of the Dr. John H. Tuttle trophy competition is slated to be played Sunday on the Portland Golf course. Dr. O. F. Willing and Dr. W. W. Davis being the opponents. Dr. Willing is favorite.

Waverley Country club championship tourney will be staged next month, according to the present plans of W. E. Pearson, chairman of the handicap committee. The dates will not be determined until the first of next week.

Willamette 'U' Looks For Big Season on the Gridiron at Salem

Willamette University, Salem, Sept. 20.—With 40 men out for football on the second night of practice, the prospects of putting out a strong eleven seem good. Coach R. E. Matthews will not arrive until the first of the week and Captain Herald Dimick, a senior of Woodburn, has been in charge of the practices.

Dimick won his "W" in his freshman year in football and represented Willamette on the team in his sophomore year, also serving as acting captain at that time. Last year Dimick was in the service during football season. Seven or eight letter men are expected back this year, five of the 1917 team and two or three men who have been in the service since the entrance of the United States in the war. A large amount of new equipment has been purchased by the student body in preparation for this season's work.

New York A. C. will conduct its 103rd outdoor track and field meet at Travers Island September 27, the events being 11 handicap tests for members.

Prince of Wales Is Assailed for Interest in Ring

Cardiff, Wales.—(By Mail).—Local ministers, opposed to the staging of boxing contests, are assailing the Prince of Wales because of his act in attending the bout between Pal Moore of Memphis, Tenn., and Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion, last July. "If the presence of the Prince of Wales at a boxing match was an example his royal highness is going to show the nation, then God help the nation," declared Rev. Hugh Jones.

Recently the Llanely Free Church council issued an appeal to the manhood of Llanely to refuse to attend a local boxing show and invited the fans to attend a public prayer meeting instead. The boxing promoters declared the fight attendance was bigger than ever. The preachers have denounced the revival of boxing as a menace.

FOOTBALL

HARVARD, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Haverford, as well as U. S. Naval academy, will support soccer football events this season.

Jim Thorpe's Canton professional football eleven may play in Chicago against a team of ex-college and other stars the latter part of the season.

Princeton has not one veteran varsity football player to depend upon. The California Soccer Football league will start the season October 5, with eight teams of San Francisco, including the Union Iron works and the Moore shipyard.

There are more than 1500 college football games listed to be played during the period September 27 to November 23.

Annual P. N. A. Meet Is Scheduled for M. A. A. C. Next Month

The annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest association will be held at the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club on October 4 if the plans of Life Secretary-Treasurer T. Morris Dunne are carried out. Secretary Dunne has written to the various members requesting that they meet here on that date but as yet he has not heard whether or not this will be agreeable to the majority.

President Harry Burdick of Spokane will preside. Election of officers for the ensuing year, awarding of the various championships and naming of delegate to the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union at Boston, November 17, will be the main form of business to come before the body here. President Burdick in all probability will be the delegate from the P. N. A. sent East.

William M. Johnston, the California tennis player, is national lawn and clay court tennis champion, having defeated William Tilden of Philadelphia in the finals of each championship this season.

TRIO OF UNIVERSITY OF OREGON STARS AND COACHES FOR THE 1919 SEASON

GRIFFITH DRAWS IRE OF OTHERS

Washington Owner Condemned by Fellow Magnates; Big Squabble Coming.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(U. P.)—That little tilt brought about when the "Colonels Ruppert and Huston, owners of the Yankees, flopped their gauntlet at the feet of Ban Johnson promises to branch out into a free-for-all that will involve all the magnates in the American league. When the Yankees owners made good their promise to go to the mat with the "league czar" over the Mays case, Harry Frazee and Charles Comiskey rallied to their colors and announced their intention of staying with the New Yorkers in the drive to get the goat of the league boss.

GRIFITH FOR BAN Johnson had also a few seconds in his corner, but they were of the quiet work-out variety until Clarke Griffith came along. When he declared his disapproval of the efforts being made to force Johnson to report how he had been spending the dough of the league's sinking fund. The words of the "old fox" leader of the Senators had hardly come out when the New York-Boston-Chicago forces opened their big guns on him. They claimed that Griffith used to be an anti-Johnson man until the league boss loaned him $30,000 to steer his club over some rough places. They condemn him for repudiating an interview in which he along with the other anti-Johnson crew assailed Ban when he recommended cancellation of the league schedule in 1918. Griffith promptly replied "liars."

Then came Colonel Ruppert and claimed that Griffith allowed Lavin to get away with as much "murder" as Mays pulled in bolting from the Sox and causing all the rumpus. He pointed out that Clarke didn't use any of his recommended discipline when Lavin flatly refused to play with him and demanded a transfer to the St. Louis National. Griffith not only did as Lavin demanded, Ruppert claimed, but he got $15,000 in the deal.

What's interesting feature for the winter stove league, it's bound to be a big season while the snow flies.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS TO REPORT

Winged "M" Athletes to Don Togs This Morning; Coach Philbrook to Be There.

COACH MANAGER GEORGE PHILBROOK has issued orders for the members of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club football squads to report on Multnomah field promptly at 10:30 o'clock this morning for a hard workout. More than a score of athletes have been showing up at the season, and the evening practices have been bringing out some good work.

Tuesday and Thursday evenings between 7:15 o'clock and 9 o'clock have been set aside for the warriors to don the moleskin under the arc lights, and they have been going at it hammer and tongs. There is very little likelihood that scrimmage will be indulged in today, but Coach Philbrook says "You never can tell."

Harry Dorman, who worked a couple of football years under Coach Gilmour Doble at the University of Washington, has returned to Portland and has signified his intention of appearing in a Winged "M" uniform. He will be looked for this morning, according to Superintendent Dow V. Walker.

SAWDUST MAY GO DOWN Work of putting on more sawdust may be done this week, now that the Portland intercollegiate league is scheduled to start the 1919 season some time this week. "Genial George" Howie will have charge of the sawdust work.

A captain of the Multnomah team may be elected at the gathering this morning, but nothing definite will be done until a full line on all available players is received.

Neale, Red Player, To Shoot Baskets

Center Fielder Neale of the Cincinnati Reds may play basketball with a Philadelphia quintet during the winter months. The Eastern league has reorganized with six teams, two from the Quaker City, one from Reading, Pa., another from Allentown, Pa., and two New Jersey organizations representing Camden and Trenton.

Famous Star May Shine One of the English runners expected to shine in the Olympic games is G. Hill of the London Polytechnic Harriers, the half mile and one mile champion, who in the recent sports of the Celtic Football club at Glasgow finished second in the one mile race, covering the distance in 4 minutes 16.4 seconds. He was scratch man. The performance beat Fred Bacon's Scottish record of 4 minutes 13.5 seconds made at Powderhall in 1894 and equals the British mark for the distance by amateur.

Tom Louttit May Coach Aggie Rooks

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Sept. 20.—After being confined to his bed for 10 days with an attack of tonsillitis, James John Richardson, general manager of student activities, is again seen around the campus, although he will not return to his duties until next week.

While nothing definite has been decided upon, Richardson says that Tom Louttit of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club will probably be engaged to coach the freshman team in this season. Letters from the Hill Military academy and the Chemawa Indian school have been received, asking for games with the Rook aggregation, although no dates have yet been set.

Rodgers Will Head Yippers in 1920 Sacramento, Sept. 20.—(U. P.)—President Heeseman of the Senators announced today that Bill Rodgers will again manage the team in 1920.

Poor Matches Hurt Ring Game Wrongs Should Be Corrected

NOW that boxing has been granted a new lease on life under the 10-round law, let's take a brief glance at the game and attempt to see how it may prosper and entertain without blindly stumbling into the pitfalls which have heretofore sent it away from popular favor a hopeless cripple after a temporary stay.

Ever since Jim Corbett made boxing widely popular by scientifically lambasting the championship out of the redoubtable John L., the pastime of the padded mitts, like the Wall street market or the cost of living, has had its ups and downs. For periods it has flourished like a scantly clad debutante, and during other periods the public has rightfully banished it as a designing and dishonest old hag.

The public has not been to blame for this fickleness. It has by no means been a question of the public's taste tiring of the game. The public would go on patronizing boxing without end if boxing were to always be willing to meet the public just half way in the delivery of its wares. Rather is the fault to be found in boxing itself and in the boxers themselves. That is to say that boxing has too often been the worst evidence against itself and the boxers too often the executioners of the game which has provided them with three squares a day.

KEEP IT CLEAN The Portland boxing commissioners and the boxers who expect to take part in the local boxing shows should make an honest effort to profit by past mistakes. They should sincerely make an effort to keep the game clean, to hold it above board and to cleanse it from the shady tricks with which it is honeycombed and the unfair advantages which one side or the other of a match is always striving to attain over the other.

Now is the time to start this house cleaning; not later on when the public has been duped so much

"Babe" Ruth Makes 27th Home Run of Season; Beats Sox

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—The home run record was shattered today when "Babe" Ruth, Red Sox pitcher, burst through a tied score with the Chicago White Sox in the first game of a double header by walloping the ball for his twenty-seventh home run of the season.

"Babe" went to bat in the ninth inning with the score 2 to 2. Pitcher Williams sent a hot one over and when Ruth's bat connected with it, the stick had steam enough in its swing to put the ball over the center field fence. Admiring friends presented "Babe" with $800 worth of War Savings Stamps after he walked in with the run that gave Boston the game 4 to 2.

Harvard cross-country candidates will report September 22.

and has become so disgusted that the game has to be stopped. These remarks are occasioned by a few of the old signs which showed themselves at the smoker at the Hellig Friday night. Special reference is made to the match between Billy Mascott and George Thompson and that between Fred Anderson and Kid Exposito. The matches were poor, to say the least, because of the difference in weight. Yet that is not the main point of grievance. The main point is that Exposito wouldn't give his weight and Thompson refused to weigh until practically forced to do so. A "ham and eager" like Exposito shouldn't be allowed to make a state secret of his weight. Anderson readily gave his weight as 137 and Mascott's was announced as 116. Yet the fans had to wait while an unavailing effort was made to get Exposito to tell what he weighed. Thompson did consent to weigh in after a long wait.

Hereafter the boxing commission should see that every man who goes into a local ring is weighed before the fight and his weight announced at the ringside. The fans are entitled to know if one man possesses an advantage over another. Many big dubs don't want to give their weights when fighting a smaller man because of the shame they may feel after being licked.

There is nothing criminal about this stubbornness over weight, but it is one of the old tricky signs and if it isn't stopped there will be scores of other unhealthy signs that will crop out and crab the boxing game before it gets well under way.

Has boxing come to stay this time with a clean bill of health, or is it going to make just a fleeting bow and go its way as before?

We await an answer to that question, Mr. Boxing Commission, and whether the answer be yes or no lies altogether in your hands.

Dallas Sportsmen Have Successful Deer Hunt in South

Dallas, Or., Sept. 20.—Dallas hunters who have been in Southern Oregon in quest of deer have returned home, most of them successful. A party consisting of Hugh G. Black, W. R. Ellis, Grover McDonald, M. D. Ellis, Finley Whitney and A. N. Hinshaw, secured seven fine bucks, each of the party securing at least one with the exception of W. R. Ellis.

Fred Toner, assistant cashier of the Dallas City bank, and L. C. Muscott, fire chief, were with a party of Portland hunters in Cow Creek canyon and each got a buck. Judge H. H. Belt, Dr. V. C. Staats, Dr. C. L. Foster and C. L. Crider composed a party of local hunters who were not as lucky as the others. Dr. Foster being the only one to score a

AGGIES HARBOR PLAYERS.

More Than 100 Football Stars Being Figured on to Report at Corvallis Soon.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 20.—During the past week football players have been turning out by ones and twos until there are to be seen nearly two full squads working out here on the campus. Several of the men have not donned the moleskin suit since the Oregon game, nearly two years ago, but are returning as rapidly as they are honorably discharged from the army or navy.

This week's work consisted in getting the men in condition by light work only. Coach Hargies is a firm believer in familiarizing the old men as well as the new in the fundamental principles of the game, and accents "inside football" as well as the other work of the team. At present the men are kept busy in punting, passing, falling on the ball and work with the "dummies."

Although the coach has at hand sufficient equipment for more than 100 players, the number of letters he has received has caused him to contemplate the purchase of additional paraphernalia, as he is now counting upon having from 150 to 200 candidates for the varsity and the freshmen teams. None of the freshmen players will make their appearance upon the gridiron before the middle of next week, being kept busy registering the first two days.

Letters from all parts of the state, including a great many from former Portland high school stars, have been received, and the strongest squad of youngsters in the history of the Beavers is expected.

Plenty of backfield end material will be available this season, and Coach Hargies' hardest problem will be to build up a strong and aggressive line, and can only be accomplished by shifting his men. Of the 15 old letter men who will be seen on the field this year, there are only six linemen, with Johnston, Cole, Loosely, Tyner at guard; Oz Walker remains the only old candidate for tackle, and Bob Stewart at center. Aspirants for the wing position are plentiful, and a selection will be had to make from Reynolds, "Keek" Hubbard, Gil, Clark and Russell. The backfield is represented by Captain "Butte" Field in the quarterback position; Powell, Rose and Ledell at halves. Ledell will be depended upon for the kicking.

The second string presents possibilities for valuable material, the majority of them being linemen, Van Hoesen, Eikelenan, Keene, Briggs and Pinkerton are end candidates, with McCarty, Christensen, Hayden at tackle, as men who will bid heavily for positions on the varsity. Ramsey, Campbell, W. P. Hubbard and Schwind will prevent Cole and Johnson from laying down on the job. Strubbecker will push Stewart this year for position at center. Backfield candidates are not numerous, Schroeder playing quarter and Heister and Kremann at half.
