

ALBERT MADGWICK SAYS HIS PARTNER PRACTICES HIGH FINANCE ON HIM

Appointment of Receiver for Boarding House and Dissolution of Interests Asked.

A method of "high financing" him out of the proceeds of his business is charged in the suit of Albert E. Madgwick filed in the circuit court today against his partner, James E. Carr. Appointment of a receiver for their boarding house at 207 Sherman street and a dissolution of the partnership are asked. Madgwick alleges that on August 2, 1919, he and Carr invested $500 each in a rooming and boarding house which they were to operate together. Soon after they started in business, says Madgwick, Carr made various purchases for the house out of the partnership capital, but claimed the articles as his own and demanded that Madgwick pay out of his own pocket for half of their cost before admitting them to be partnership property. On September 23, avers Madgwick, his partner, who he says is of "burly frame" and "exceptional strength," ordered him from the house. Because he is crippled with a broken back and small in stature, he complains that he was compelled to acquiesce and leave his business entirely under the control of his associate. He asks the court to protect him from his "burly" partner.

Child Wife Is Sued
Alleging that at the time of his marriage July 29, his bride lacked sufficient understanding to realize the solemnity of the marriage vows, Curtis West filed suit in the circuit court this morning for the annulment of his union to Mildred West. They were married at Vancouver and the husband says his wife is but a few months over 16 years of age.

Recovery Suit Begun
Suit to have set aside an alleged fraudulent transfer of property instituted by William S. Jones against Ina S. Terwilliger, was begun this morning before Circuit Judge Robert Tucker. Jones avers that Mrs. Terwilliger induced her mother, Mary Frances Jones, while in a feeble mental condition to deed her a piece of property, thus depriving the other heirs of their claim to it.

Denby Estate $5500

"BEATS ANYTHING I'VE EVER SEEN," SAYS THIS MAN!
Can Do Almost Two Days' Work in One, Since Taking Tanlac.

"I don't remember a time in my life when I felt better than I do since taking 'Tanlac,'" said Carl Mihalovits, a well-known poultryman, who lives at 183 Lobos street, San Francisco, a few days ago.

"I haven't been what you would call a well man for over 10 years," continued Mr. Mihalovits, "and for the past year my health has been exceptionally bad. For many years I have been badly constipated, and had to take laxatives some kind every day, and often I would have violent spells of headache. Finally my stomach began to give me trouble, and this had gradually grown worse, until I reached the point where everything I ate disagreed with me. Gas would form on my stomach and rise up into my chest and cause my heart to palpitate something awful. Sometimes these spells would come on me after going to bed at night, and I would not sleep a wink, and would get up in the morning so weak and tired that I could hardly get about. It just seemed impossible for me to find a medicine or treatment that would do me any good, and I just kept on going down hill until I was almost past traveling."

"Well, Tanlac came along then, and as so many people were endorsing it so strongly I thought there must be something to it, so I bought a bottle of it and commenced taking it, and the way it has overcome my troubles and built me up beats anything I have ever seen or heard of. Why I sleep like a log 10 hours every night, and when morning comes I jump out of bed and eat a hearty breakfast and am off to my work feeling fine and dandy. I feel so well and strong that I can almost do two days' work in one. What I eat agrees with me perfectly now, and I never have a sign of stomach trouble of any kind. The headaches are gone, too, and my entire system has been wonderfully built up. It was a lucky day for me when I got hold of Tanlac, and as long as I live I will praise this wonderful medicine for relieving me of years of suffering and giving me good health again."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug company.—Adv.
