Mackmen Drop Series to Sacramento Tossers : Trapshooting Tourney Is a Big Success

DOUBLEHEADER IS SPLIT BY YIPPERS AND THE BEAVERS

'Brick' Eldred Makes Himself Fe ature of the Sabbath by Binging Out Eight Hits Out of Eight Times Up; First Game Is Won by Solons, 4 to 1, Second by Mackmen, 11 to 9.

By George Bertz

DORTLAND and Sacramento divided honors in Sunday's doubleheader, the Yippers winning the first contest, 4 to 1, and the Beavers coming back strong and capturing the second affair, a free-hitting game, 11 to 9.

Bill Rodger's fly chasers extra-based "Red" Oldham's curves for their win and it can be said that the Beavers duplicated this feat against the pitching of "Leatherneck" Larkin and "Chatty' Mails, the latter getting charged with the defeat.

The feature of the double bill was the hitting of "Brick' Eldred, who secured eight hits, including a double and a triple, in as many trips to the plate. He stole four bases in the second contest. George Maisel poked out a quartette of hits in the second Dr. Willing Loses in Final Round

Bill Prough duplicated his pitching runs 5, hits 5, at bat 10, by Penner 3 2 3, runs 6, hits 8, at bat 18; by Larkin 2 2 3, runs 6, hits 8, at bat 18; by Larkin 2 2 3, runs 4, hits 6, at bat 12 Runs responsible for—Theree 1, Vance 4, Penner 6, Larkin 1, furner the Macking out in the last four last four—Held and Casey. lonings without a safe blow. The lone run of the Beavers was scored in the opening inning on hits by Wisterzil and LEAGUE LEADERS ANNEX Schaller, a force out and Cady's wild heave on an attempted double steal. PENNER TAKES MOUND

Eldred's triple and Wolter's homer gave the Yips a flying lead in the first double header, 5-1 and 8-7, the league took three and four putts on different inning. Two men were out when the leading Angels made a clean sweep of occasions. runs were scored. Orr's double and Eldred's single gave the Solons one in the third, and Speas' error. Eldred's second game today was an 11-inning afdouble and a sacrifice netted the final marker in the eighth.

Bill Piercey and Ken Penner started the second game, Piercey qutting on account of a sore arm after Wisterzil had been retired. "Dazzie" Vance was greeted by a homer from Schaller's hat, giving the Beavers a two-run start. Koehler's double, Kingdon's hit and steal and Penner's double gave the locals two more in the second. Larkin replaced Vance in the third.

BEAVERS OVERCOME LEAD

Sacramento scored two in the third and knocked Penner out of the box in the fourth. Pinelli opened the inning with a single. Cook was fanned, but Schang, batting for Larkin, walked. Middleton beat out a hit to Blue and Purelli scored. Orr doubled, scoring Schang, and Eldred followed with a Sca single scoring Middleton and Orr. Sutherland relieved Penner and Wolter hit into a double play.

Portland scored one in the fifth and $\frac{2}{3}$. Sacramento put over two in the sixth,

Williams to Carry Big Burden If He Fails So Will the Hose

By Henry L. Farrell NEW YORK, Sept. 29.-(U. P.)-On the left arm of Claude Williams depends to a large extent the chances of the White Sox in the world series.

Eddle Collins, Joe Jackson, Chick Gandil and the other big stickers of the White Sox wrecking crew may fall before the slants of the star Red hurlers and yet Gleason might cop the honors in the championship fracas. The concrete defensive works of the American league champions might wobble without throwing the season's crown to the Ohio team But if Williams falls down under the load that will be placed on his shoulders, the hopes of the Sox will go up in smoke.

Eddie Cicotte and Williams worked a double hitch all season and pitched the Hose to the American league championship. If the White Sox series match is to be maintained, the same pair of "iron men" must carry the brunt of the box work against the Reds. CICOTTE TO PITCH FIRST

Cicotte, taking up the task in the opening game, will face the Reds oftener. The sturdy right hander, on the strength of his past season record, can almost be counted upon for two games, and possibly three. Williams, no doubt, will face the Tycer, a veteran of 1910 at O. A. C., Moran crowd in the second game. If he falls to hold the Nationa leaguers, it will burden Cicotte to the breaking point. Should he fall down on his second appearance the title will go to the Reds unless a miracle happens. Dick Kerr, the kid southpaw, has earned the right to start a game against the Reds, and Gleason no doubt will give him the chance. If the youngster turns the Reds back. Cicotte and Williams can come back with a two days' rest, which has been sufficient for them all season. LONG SERIES HELPS REDS

Every game the series goes over five games will mean a reduction of the White Sox' chances. If Cicotte and Williams get the decision in the opening pair, Kerr can have a chance to work in the friendly atmosphere of his home grounds. He may not be easily rattled, but it is a sure thing that the mad din that only Cincinnati fans can raise will be no sedative to the nerves of a youngster untried in a world championship battle.

Providing the youngster can win his start on the home grounds, the "pair of aces" should have no trouble in beating a morale-stripped club, for three straight losses in a crucial series would undermine the spirit of even such a club as Gleason pins all his hopes on his
