Medford, Oct. 9.—With 50 delegates present from all parts of the state, the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations convened here Wednesday for a three-day session. Today's sessions were held at Ashland, with the delegates returning for an evening meeting here.

Mrs. Edith Knight of Portland, secretary of the Oregon Dairy council, is here to ask the convention to endorse the educational work of exploiting the food value of milk for children and the plan to establish a milk survey in every school in the state. Mrs. Henerett Smith, Oldest Umatilla Co. Woman, Passes On Pendleton, Oct. 9.—Umatilla county's oldest woman, Mrs. Henerett Smith, died at Pilot Rock Tuesday night, aged 96 years. A cold, contracted last week, caused her death.

Until her last illness, Mrs. Smith cooked for her son, and had canned and preserved fruit and vegetables this summer despite her age. She was active and had an excellent memory, recalling well events of the Civil war, in which she lost one son. Mrs. Smith was born in New York and came to Pilot Rock in 1838. Her husband died six years ago, aged 50.

"American-Maid" is more than a loaf of bread

It's an Opportunity

The up-to-date woman now runs her home upon the same business principles upon which her husband conducts his business. The keynote of success in each is efficiency and economy.

You never see a successful merchant doing trivial things in his own store—not because he doesn't know how, but because he can use his time more profitably. He doesn't make the things he sells because he knows the manufacturer who specializes in them can make them better and for less money. The modern woman attains the plane of intellectual equality and personal liberty only as she adapts these principles to her daily tasks—and she will find that one of her most efficient aids will be

WRIGHT'S AMERICAN-MAID BREAD

Because she will find that it will bring to the conduct of her household the cardinal qualities of efficiency and economy, and superlativeness as well.

EFFICIENCY
Don't bake—buy. A hot stove saps vitality. Flushes the skin. Ages prematurely. Lessens efficiency, or the ability to do other work of a more important type. Cook the things you can cook better for less money. That's duty. But don't bake bread when you can buy AMERICAN-MAID for less money—that's folly. Don't waste yourself uselessly.

ECONOMY
No woman can possibly bake a few loaves of bread, paying retail prices for everything, as cheaply per loaf as can a baker baking thousands of loaves by modern methods, buy materials in enormous quantities. It cannot be done. Do your own simple example in arithmetic. You'll find you are losing even more—Youth—Health—good looks. Nature exacts pay for waste.

SUPERLATIVENESS
The word superlative fits it like a glove. No substitute in it—just pure flour—the best that money can buy. Scientifically made after our own recipe by the best of modern machinery, in a clean, sanitary bakery, and wrapped in dust-proof, germ-proof wrappers. If you're an expert you might make it as good; you couldn't make it better.
