

Rumors of Crooked Playing in World's Series Come Fast and Furious in Windy City

RUMORS OF FIXED PLAYERS IN BALL SERIES FLY FAST

Owner Comiskey Offers Big Reward for Proof of Rumors That Windy City Fans Are Circulating—Real Fans Are Not Disturbed—No More 9-Game Series Wanted.

By Henry L. Farrell
Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—(U. P.)—Nothing to do now till next year. With this laborious task ahead of them, some 30 or more Reds and White Sox are on their way to scattered homes jingling in their pockets the largest divvy of world series coin in the history of the game.

Pat Moran and his champion Reds were feted, lauded and honored when they returned from Chicago with the first world's championship bunting Ohio ever had. Kid Gleason and his vanquished Sox split their pot and departed from the Windy city, blaming each other for their hard luck.

The eighth game Thursday blew out the season's baseball lamp, but it still smokes with the usual bunch of rumors of "fixed players," "thrown games" and "crookedness." Chicago fans are so strong in circulating rumors that Eddie Cicotte was bought by a gambling bunch and that other players were in on a deal to throw games that owner Comiskey is said to have offered a reward of $20,000 for any evidence supporting the claim. Cincinnati also was saturated with rumors that Pat Duncan and Larry Kopf had played "funny" in the sixth game, and that "Dutch" Reuther had been "seen" by someone before he made his second start and that the loss of the seventh game was a fixed deal to prolong the series and increase the receipts for the clubs.

NO MORE LONG SERIES
The real fans who have questioned such noise after each series are not disturbed. They are not questioning the fidelity of any of the players and the wall of the calamity howlers that this year's post-season series will end all post season games for all time is proving them to be laughers. But the result of this year's experiment has convinced them all that there will be no more nine-game series. Had the usual seven-game arrangement prevailed this year the public chorus wouldn't be so popular now.

Public Grew Tired
Chicago, Oct. 11.—(U. P.)—Despite the fact that this series has been beaten four games to one had the recent world's series been a seven-game affair as in previous years, Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, is on record today as opposing the nine-game series.
Comiskey declared that the public grew tired of the nine game schedule and that the fans would much prefer the shorter season. He also declared that hereafter he would favor the discontinuance of advance sales of tickets and would advocate that tickets for the world's series be placed on sale at the park before each game just as is done throughout the regular baseball season.

Take Good Care of Your Hunting Dog Special Attention Should Be Felt

EVERY experienced hunter knows what a good dog is. It isn't given to every one, however, to know how to keep a dog in condition and get the best out of him. The fall hunting season will soon be in full swing and the following tips may be of aid in adding not only to the comfort of the dog but the success of the hunter.
Perhaps your dog has not been hunted before this season. It may be that he is just off the chain and not in his best condition. His muscles are flabby, his flesh is soft and long continued work will not tire him for the day but will incapacitate him for the next day.
FEED SPARINGLY
Your dog's preparatory run where there is no game will often tone down a dog and fit him for work.
If the hunter is away from home on an expedition the first care should be to see that the dog has proper quarters for the night. His care should not be delegated to hotel servants but the master should by personal inspection assure himself of the comfort and proper feeding of his dog.
For hunting, a dog should be fed very sparingly in the morning. Give him a bite or two of your lunch at noon. Do not let the full meal be given at night after the day's work is finished. A dog will not hunt well on a full stomach nor will his food digest well while he is working in the field.
If you have a brace of dogs work them alternately. Let one do the hunting while the other is resting at night. Do not permit a dog to lie in water for any length of time while afield. An occasional plunge will do no harm, however.
EXAMINE CAREFULLY
On returning at night examine your dog carefully. A slight hand rub will disclose thorns or briars. They cannot be removed too quickly if found.
Special attention should be given to the feet. If they are inflamed or tender, they should be bathed in beef brine which can be obtained from any butcher. If the skin is worn or the foot wounded, vaseline should be applied. If very badly off, the dog should be "laid up" until the reaches condition again.

COLUMBIA WINS FROM COMMERCE

Seventy-yard Run by McCloskey Brings First Score; Final Count Is 27 to 0.

By Earl K. Goodwin
PUTTING power and punch to its drives, the Columbia university football team trampled the High School of Commerce eleven 27 to 0 on Multnomah field Friday but it was not until the last period that the Stenographers weakened perceptibly.

Scoring started less than one minute after the first kick. Benson kicked off to Douglas, who took the ball to his own 30 yard line and on the first play McCloskey skirted around end for a 70 yard run and touchdown. He then kicked the score, which was a distinct surprise to the West Siders and it put more fight into their defense. Columbia tried to batter the losers' line, but when things became dangerous the Bookkeepers threw the "Preppers" backfield for losses.

COLUMBIA SCORES IN FIRST
The first quarter ended with the count 7 to 0, and it took six minutes of the second before another dent was made in the goal line. Kieft took the lead "beard" McKiel that annexed the six points on an offensive play while McCloskey kicked goal. With the ball on Commerce's 11 yard line, the Penicillars showed their fight and kept the attack and encouraging each other with a line of chatter that made it "tough" for the Collegians.

A threat by one of the officials to put the next man on the game that "opened his mouth" took the wind "out of the Commerce line and at that it forced Columbia's backfield to the limit to put the necessary punch to make the goal line.

TWO MADE IN FOURTH
No scores were made in the third period but in the fourth quarter both "Bus" Douglas and Leon McCloskey went through for a touchdown. McCloskey making one goal kick. Coach Dewey's aggregation showed a decided improvement over its work of last week and from now on he expects to humble every team in the league.

For Columbia, McCloskey, the O'Connor brothers, Lake, Douglas and McKiel feature in the feature race of the afternoon, and his best time was 2:06.4. The fastest time of the day was recorded in the 2:03 pace, in which Sanardo, winner of the event, went the mile in 2:01.8.

Tilt Between Vernon Players and Umpire Murray Enlivens Contest—Houck Fans Eleven.

Fistic Encounter Between Umpire Murray and Players Furnishes Excitement in Third Game.

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—The Vernon Tigers took the third game of the minor league championship from St. Paul Friday by a score of 2 to 1. Byron Houck, the Tiger's hurler, pitched a magnificent game. He struck out 11 men.

A small sized riot featured the game in the sixth inning. High hit to Marlin, who made the play at first, and Umpire Murray, the American association umpire, called the runner out. The Vernon players swarmed on the field and threatened Umpire Murray. Bill Essick and Finner, members of the Tiger team, came to blows with Murray, but were separated by the police. Practically the entire Vernon club was seized up in the scuffle, and the game was delayed for 15 minutes. Third Baseman Beck of Vernon was benched in the seventh and Meusel was sent to third base and Long to right. The attendance today was much better than yesterday, about 7000 fans being in the stands.
