Guaranteed Wheat Price Is Called Unsound by Barnes

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 11.—(U. P.)—Julius Barnes, head of the United States Grain corporation, conferred here this afternoon with county farm agents of Eastern Washington, criticized the wheat price guarantee and expressed opposition to national price fixing of bread.

"The only sound and lasting remedy for prices is adequate production," he said.

PROMINENT PIONEER RESIDENT IS BURIED

Mrs. Margaret Octavia Moore

On Sunday, September 23, at her late residence, 1803 East Tenth street, funeral services were read for the late Mrs. Margaret Octavia Moore, who died September 25, after an illness of 17 days. Interment took place in Mountain View cemetery, Oregon City.

Mrs. Moore, born in Green county, Illinois, belonged to an old and well-known pioneer family, being the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McDermott, who drove across the plains to Oregon in 1845, when only a log cabin marked the site of the city of Portland. Then a child of 9 years, she grew to womanhood amid the privations and the joys of pioneer life.

On March 12, 1854, she was married at Pacific City to William S. Moore, a pioneer of 1847, who was later identified with the upbuilding of the commonwealth, especially in Marion and Klamath counties. Mr. and Mrs. Moore were parents of the late Charles S. Moore, banker of Klamath Falls and for two terms state treasurer; of Mrs. Estella O. Bellinger and Mrs. Frances Hammond, now deceased.

Rufus S. Moore, Mary Bertha Moore and Henrietta Moore are surviving children. Mrs. Moore's sisters are Mrs. D. P. Thompson and Mrs. S. M. McCown. Henry Meldum is the only living brother, John W. Meldum having died two days prior to her own death. There are six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Moore was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city. She leaves behind her the memory of a life of cheerful optimism, of loving service and of family devotion.

BURGLARS STRIP VON KLEIN HOME OF MANY VALUABLE ARTICLES

Three Residences and One Room Robbery Are Among Peculiarities Reported.

Although the burglars did not call on many Portlanders Friday afternoon and evening, they took a goodly supply from the four places they entered. Mrs. Lewis Von Klein, 666 East Fifty-fourth street, north, was probably the heaviest loser, nearly all of her silverware being stolen. She reported to Inspector Morak that the following are missing: 10 knives, 10 forks, 24 teaspoons, 6 tablespoons, 6 dessert spoons, 6 oyster forks, 6 coffee spoons, 6 butter knives, 1 child's set, sugar shell, electric iron, two bank books, baby's necklace, gold necklace, gold chain with knife attached, and an army sword.

The robbers pulled the screen off a rear window and then broke the window open with a three-quarter inch jimmy bar. Between 6 and 11:15 p. m. Friday robbers also entered the home of F. L. Bolzer, 400 Stanton street, and made away with a watch, three strings of beads, ear rings, several pieces of children's jewelry and a dime saving bank. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear window open with a jimmy bar. Inspectors Howell and Tackaberry are investigating.

Another victim of thieves was A. H. Harris, 235 Twenty-second street, north. In order to get into Harris' home, the burglars broke down the back door. They filled a suit case with valuables, among them being a gold ring, $32.50 in cash, a sovereign piece, one quart of whiskey, one quart of brandy, pair pearl opera glasses and humidor filled with fancy cigars.

The fourth burglary was in the room of G. B. Crowell at the Hoyt hotel, where two suits of clothing, an overcoat and a considerable amount of jewelry were stolen. No trace of any of the thieves has been found yet.

The Curtiss airplane owned by a company of Eugene men was badly damaged at Corvallis when Pilot Woolley lost control of the machine and allowed it to crash into a fence.
