

ENGLAND'S HOLD UPON PERSIA IS DENIED AT PARIS

Diplomats Attending Young Shah Say Treaty Did Not Give England Special Rights in East.

MUCH FELT AT CONFERENCE

Shah Spreads Broadcast Statement That He Is in Europe to Study the Occidental Manners.

By William E. Nash
Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.
Paris, France, Oct. 13.—"Persia is still an independent nation," said Prince Ferouz Mirza Nosrati-Dowleh, foreign minister in Teheran, to me. He was talking on behalf of his master, the young shah, who has come to Paris under one of those incognito which result in immediate newspaper publicity. The prince, who is not incognito but by no means more accessible on that account, continued:

"Persia's case is quite different from that of Egypt, which is under foreign tutelage. The news published recently in the allied newspapers that Persia also had passed under a British protectorate is false. I tried to correct this impression in a declaration which I made in London last month, and which I directed the Persian embassy in Washington to publish in the American newspapers. The Persian question will come up before the peace conference, but probably not before the fate of Turkey has been settled. His majesty has come to Europe to observe Occidental manners and customs, and to a certain extent to perfect himself in history, in which he is much interested."

"Within a few days he will leave for the south of France. On his return to Paris in November, his majesty will be received officially by the French government. Then he will be able to see people and grant interviews, which are impossible now. We do not know yet whether time will permit him to visit America, though the official itinerary will certainly include London."

Sinn Feiners Are Routed by Force Of Constabulary

Dublin, Oct. 13.—Four hundred members of the Irish constabulary broke up a Sinn Fein meeting attended by 10,000 persons at Ballinacorney Sunday afternoon. It has just been learned here. Troops armed with rifles and grenades were held in reserve. Several casualties resulted from a skirmish between the constabulary and the Sinn Feiners.

Three priests were among those who participated in the miniature battle.

Resolution Passed in Scotland

Glasgow, Oct. 13.—An Irish republic was demanded at a meeting here Sunday and resolutions were adopted demanding the withdrawal of the English army of occupation from that country.

$50,000 Damage Suit Instituted in 1897 Just Up for Trial

Chicago, Oct. 13.—(U. P.)—The last figment of a mute prima donna's dream was shattered here.

A jury decided Miss Dell Nichols had no claim against Dr. D. A. K. Steele, who, she charged, ruined her voice with an operation 23 years ago.

British May Replace Lloyd George Rule

New York, Oct. 13.—The Lloyd George government is likely to be replaced by one in which labor will have much greater representation than it has now in the opinion of British delegates to the Anglo-American conference on the traditions of liberty, who entertained at luncheon in the City club Saturday. The belief also was expressed that Ireland will be assured of fairer treatment under the new administration than she has received in the past.

Rebellious Peasants Are Rioting in Sicily

London, Oct. 13.—Disorders due to the recent uprising of peasants in Sicily continue, according to news from Rome. Thousands of peasants, supported by soldiers, are still trying to invade all estates of the wealthy. Twenty ring-leaders had been arrested, but were released owing to threats by mobs. The estate of the duke of Salaparuta has been invaded by 350 peasants.

Press Censorship in France Now Ended

Paris, Oct. 13.—(I. N. S.)—The censorship of newspaper cablegrams ended at midnight, following the decree by President Poincaré abolishing martial law.

Kills Wife and Himself

Gadsden, Ala., Oct. 13.—Brockett Whitmore Saturday killed his wife and then shot and killed himself. The bullet that passed through his body entered the skull of the 7-year-old daughter of Charles Maben, Mrs. Whitmore's niece. The girl probably will die. The Whitmores had quarreled.

NEPHEW OF COLORED LEADER WILL SPEAK

Roscoe Conklin Simmons

Roscoe Conklin Simmons, nephew of the late Booker T. Washington, will lecture tonight at the Lincoln high school auditorium at 8:30 o'clock. Simmons recently returned from France, where he made a close study of the colored American soldier, and is touring the Northwest, lecturing in the interests of his race. He is said to be among the greatest orators of the colored race.

Hamilton M. Carlock Dies at Residence At Age of 64 Years

Hamilton M. Carlock died Sunday morning at his residence, 318 East Sixteenth street. He was well known among insurance men in the state and was president of the H. M. Carlock company, 210 Railway Exchange Building, associated with K. A. Holloyay.

Carlock was a native of Georgetown, Cal., and was in his sixty-fourth year. He had been a resident and active business man of Portland for more than 30 years.

At different times Carlock's business activities were identified closely with the Wells Fargo company, the Crystal Ice & Storage company and M. Seller & Co. He was a member of the Travelers' Protective association, active in the Oregon Insurance federation, the Oregon Motor association, the Kiwanis club, Credit Men's association and other organizations.

Surviving relatives are his widow, Mrs. Mary M. Carlock; a daughter, Marjorie Carlock; four brothers, Henry and A. B. Carlock, of this city; F. M. Carlock of Bakerfield, and James Carlock of Lodi, Cal. H. Mowery, a stepson, Fred E. Mowery, a stepdaughter, he loved as his own.

Short funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the residence, with conducting services at the Portland crematorium. Rev. W. E. Brinkman of the St. James Lutheran church will officiate.

William W. Lewis Dies
William W. Lewis, retired farmer, 62 years old, a native of Illinois and a pioneer of Idaho, died Saturday at his home, 1020 East Eleventh street north. Funeral services will be held at Caldwell, Idaho, where the body has been forwarded by Miller & Tracey. Lewis is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Hennepin of this city, and Mrs. Hildred Flanagan of Pendleton, and by two sons, Fred E. and William B. Lewis of Idaho.

Thomas Cooper
Funeral services were held this morning at the Miller & Tracey chapel for Thomas Cooper, who died at Hillsboro, Oct. 10. Thomas Cooper was born in England in 1850. He came to this country when a boy and to Oregon in 1883. Final services were at the cemetery near Sylvan, Or.

Reed Celebrates President Eliot's 78th Birthday

In honor of his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary today and in memory of his long service in educational and religious work, students and faculty of Reed college this morning presented Dr. Thomas Lamb Eliot, president of the Reed college board of trustees, with a huge bouquet of roses and numerous messages of congratulation.

Dr. Eliot holds a unique position at Reed college. He was designated chairman of a group of five men to establish an educational institution in Portland as provided for in Amanda Reed's will. His has been one of the progressive influences at Reed college ever since.

Dr. Eliot was born in St. Louis October 13, 1841. His father was William Greenleaf Eliot, founder and first president of Washington university in St. Louis. His work in Portland began in 1867, when he became pastor of the First Unitarian church.

Dennis' Car Upsets; Injures H. F. Parker; Ride Is Called Wild

Charged with reckless driving, A. C. Dennis of the Portland Fish Market was arrested at 1 o'clock today after ending a wild ride by running his machine into the rail of the Steel bridge and knocking down H. F. Parker, 1517 Vincent street. Police officers found a plume of machine whistling in the car. Parker was hit when the car rebounded from the rail of the bridge and was only slightly injured.

ALL TEACHERS TODAY REPEAT ONE ABOUT CHRIS AND THE EGG

America Rediscovered in Every School in Nation, Because This Is Columbus Day.

Portland schools are calling special assemblies today in honor of the memory of Christopher Columbus. Grammar school children will be told how the brave Italian proved the world round by recklessly standing an 80 cent a dozen egg on end, and high school students will discuss America's discoverer in history classes.

Prompt Return of Tax Questionnaire May Save Millions

Millions of dollars may be saved by lumbermen and owners of timberland in Oregon and Washington by prompt return of the questionnaire covering income and excess profits taxes, recently issued by the bureau of internal revenue. Major D. T. Mason of Washington, D. C., explained the purposes of the questionnaire before a meeting of lumbermen at the Multnomah hotel at 10 a. m. today.

The meeting was called by officials of the West Coast Lumbermen's association and was in charge of R. L. Shaw of Astoria.

The income and profits tax on the lumber industry has been subjected to considerable adverse criticism ever since it was imposed at the beginning of the war, it is said. Lumbermen allege that transients of timberland have been held up indefinitely by the tax and the industry generally retarded by the government's methods. No audit of the income and excess profits taxes collected since 1916 has been made, so far as the lumber industry is concerned, though much of the tax collected from this source was paid under protest.

The questionnaire issued by the bureau of internal revenue is intended to aid in gathering specific information which will permit a fair adjudication of the claims of the timbermen. Major Mason will speak at the Multnomah hotel this afternoon and Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. About 100 lumbermen were present at today's meeting.
