

ANTI-DEMOCRATIC INTRIGUE FACES DOOM IN LONDON

British People Are Clearly Illustrating Determination to Pin Their Faith in Democracy.

STRIKES NOT PROFITABLE

Prominent Trade Unionists Are Opposed to Adoption of Bolshevik Methods.

London, England, Oct. 17.—British determination to hold fast to democracy has been illustrated frequently since Bolshevism revealed itself in the East. It has been illustrated at the polls, in parliament and more recently in the railway strike. On this occasion nothing else showed up so distinctly as did the national fear of anti-democratic intrigue and the national purpose to crush out any such movement. Herein lies the secret of the historic intervention of the leading trade unionists to save the railway men from the consequences of their lightning strike.

If this intervention was unprecedented so was the emergency unprecedented in this country. Never before had a British trade union, big or little, challenged the democratic principle point blank. This challenge alarmed the trade union leaders as much as it alarmed anyone else. Indeed, it perturbed them particularly for they are pinning their faith to democracy as the instrumentality through which labor shall win its rights. These men see no hope for labor in the anarchy called direct action—that is, a national political strike. George Henry Roberts, M. P., for example, formerly minister of labor but now food controller and one of the ablest men in the labor movement, says:

NO EXCUSE FOR STRIKE
There was no excuse for the railway strike because the men could have gotten all they did without a strike. Throughout my life as a trade union official I have opposed strikes except as the very last resort. Today we have some working class advisers who say strike first and negotiate afterwards. Such men do not understand the primer of democracy, which bases itself on reason and justice and not on force. Such men stopped thinking before they appreciated that even in our poor world moral stability invariably dominates and controls physical vitality. Our direct actionists assail the democratic principle not only outside but inside their unions. While denouncing against secret diplomacy and monarchic or oligarchic tyranny in the state they plan strikes in secret and precipitate them without consulting the working masses whom they embroil. Workers now may trust the sense of modern society to insure a square deal for all."

DO NOT WANT MINES
John Robert Clynes, M. P., another giant among the leaders of labor, has argued with piquancy and power from the same standpoint and in the debate on the nationalization of the coal mines. Prime Minister Lloyd George elicited from Robert Smillie, president of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain, this declaration: "It has been suggested that the miners wish to take over the mines under a system of syndicalism and work them for the miners. You may rid your mind at once of any such notion. The miners' federation contemplates nothing of the sort. We do not think the miners have a right to take over the mines and work them in their own interests."
Here is a blow at Bolshevism by a man who lately has taken a truculent line toward the government and whose possible attitude respecting ultraradicalism and their pretensions has caused anxiety in responsible quarters. There is no evidence that Smillie has abandoned his idea of a national strike to "compel" the government to nationalize the mines but recent events and the prevailing labor opinion may be expected to cause him to move with considerable caution.

START TOMORROW AND KEEP IT UP EVERY MORNING
Get into the Habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.
Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles according to hot water enthusiasts.
There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.
People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Adv.
