Saturday's Games Reveal That Four Teams Have Fighting Chance to Land Championship: Washington Staters Pile Up Record Score on "Winged M"; Oreg on Wins Over Gem Staters.

By George Bertz

THE outcome of Saturday's football contests on the Pacif coast forecasts some hard struggles for the gridiron supren acy of the college conference.

The Washington State college proved that it would be a cor tender for the honors by handing the Multnomah club eleven th worst drubbing ever administered to a "Winged M" aggregation in over 25 years. Coach Welch's men-the regular in the first half and the second string stars in the second-piled up a score of 49 points on the clubmen.

The Washington Staters had little difficulty in tearing through the clubmen's line. Time after time gains of between 15 and vards were ripped off.
