Birthday Party Will Honor Miss Levy

Mrs. Abraham Levy Invites About 150 Friends to Daughter's Reception.

By Helen Hutchison
AN INTERESTING event for Thursday afternoon is the reception to be given by Mrs. Abraham Lincoln Levy to introduce her daughter, Miss Naomi Levy, who has just passed her eighteenth birthday. The calling hours are from 3 until 6 o'clock and about 150 friends of the family have been invited to the occasion. Mrs. Levy will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. F. M. Cohn. In the dining room at the tea hour Mrs. Joseph Friedenthal and Mrs. A. S. Rosenthal will pour. Assisting about the rooms will be Mrs. M. Markowitz, Mrs. H. Gerson and Mrs. E. E. Heckbert. A group of young girls have been asked to assist with the serving, their number including Miss Leah Friedenthal, Miss Martha Shull, Miss Georgia McKown, Miss Bernadine Kane and Miss Mabel McKibben.

Mrs. Robert C. Wright entertained Monday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Allan Smith, who will leave within a few days to spend the winter in Berkeley, Cal. A program of Shakespearean readings by Mrs. May S. Hayes and piano solos by Mrs. Smith was given during the afternoon. The guests included: Mesdames S. L. Albaugh, May S. Hayes, Murray Manville, Walter S. Asher, Julia A. Hay, F. L. Stoeckle, A. E. Bolderston, Esther Allen Johnson, C. D. Tillson, George L. Brown, P. H. Kneeland, H. C. Varney, St. George Evans, Anna L. Long, R. F. Walters, Miss Fannie Parkhurst.

The Coterie club of Marguerite camp, Royal Neighbors, will meet Thursday, 10 a. m., at the home of Mrs. A. P. Redlinger, 843 East Eleventh street north. A pot luck luncheon will be served and sewing for the bazaar will occupy the day. All resident and sojourning Royal Neighbors and friends are welcome.

One of the pleasant affairs of the past week was the meeting party of the Kenton club held last Wednesday. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Stanley Irons, Mrs. J. L. Stierrett, J. E. Sten and W. W. Harter. Music was furnished by the Melody Jazz orchestra. The next party will be held on Wednesday, October 23. The committee in charge is planning a Halloween surprise. At the annual election of the club held recently, G. A. Peterson was elected president, Stanley Irons vice president, J. E. Sten treasurer, W. W. Harter secretary and J. E. Stierrett, L. A. Rea, L. R. McGee, J. G. Beattie and E. F. Roy as directors. The members of the club are planning to entertain their friends at a series of dances to be given throughout the winter.

Mrs. and Mrs. James B. Curran Jr. (Gertrude Dineen) are receiving flowers and messages of congratulation from their many friends upon the arrival of a daughter on October 15. The little lass is the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Curran.

A pretty wedding took place at the residence of Rev. R. H. Sawyer, 674 Elliot avenue, on Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock when Glenn O. Powell, of 1010 East Main street and Mrs. Annie M. Hedges, daughter of the late Captain W. H. Smith and Mrs. Smith, were united in marriage by the Rev. Sawyer in the presence of a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Powell will make their home in their new bungalow, 1494 East Flanders street, after November 15.

Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, accompanied by Miss Jean Mackenzie and Dr. Ernest P. Tucker, left Portland on Thursday evening for California. Dr. Mackenzie and daughter will go to San Diego and Dr. Tucker will remain in San Francisco for a short time.

Miss Hazel Pelton became the bride of Norman Neal Norton on Wednesday at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Westmoreland. The service was read by the bride's uncle, the Rev. A. J. Joselyn, of Canby, at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of a number of the close friends and relatives of the bride. The wedding march was played by the cousin

College Girls To Be Ushers At Lecture

Preparations Made for Address of Frank Branch Riley at Lincoln High School.

By Vella Winner
FOR the Frank Branch Riley lecture Friday at Lincoln high school auditorium, a group of college girls will be chosen by Miss Grace McKenzie to act as ushers. The lecture is being given under the auspices of the alumni of Stanford and Berkeley who have secured a large list of patronesses, and who are interesting themselves in the lecture.

Another group of college girls is being arranged by Miss Louise Manning, who will have charge of the sale of tickets during the week at Sherman, Clay & Co. Mr. Riley will give the same lecture in Portland and show the same pictures in color that he has given before the Travel clubs and other organizations in the East. Mr. Riley has recently received an offer to travel through England giving this same story of the Northwest, which has so charmed and interested his audiences everywhere because of its interesting subject matter and the delightful way in which it is given.

Astoria people interested in music will be glad to hear of the reorganization of the Treble Clef club by Mrs. Rose Courten-Redd. The club has been inactive during the past months, but will now take up an interesting winter program. On Saturday of the last week the first meeting was held in the Grace church parish rooms. Members present were: Mrs. J. S. Dellinger, Mrs. James W. Cellars, Mrs. A. A. Finch, Mrs. O. A. Owen, Mrs. Charles Callender, Mrs. E. J. Cherry, Mrs. W. R. Swart, Mrs. F. H. Haradon, Miss Imogene Messerve and Miss Blanche Stude. The club met recently for its first practice in the Methodist church. Mrs. J. S. Dellinger will be the accompanist for all club work this winter.

The Portland Social Science club will meet on Thursday 8:30 p. m. at the residence of the president, Mrs. J. H. Cooper, 4815 Seventy-fifth street southeast. Light refreshments will be served. Take Mt. Scott car to Firland.

The women members of the Rodney Avenue Christian church are to have a rummage sale at 265 Russell street, four doors west of Williams avenue, on Wednesday, beginning at 9 o'clock. All the ladies of the church are asked to come in behalf of the Aid society, and bring anything they see fit. Please have articles at the place Tuesday evening.

The weekly luncheon of the Portland Business Women's club will be held Thursday at 12:15 o'clock in the Oregon grill. Events of the annual convention of the state federation of women's clubs will be the subject of an address by Mrs. G. J. Frankel. Mrs. F. E. Thompson will preside.

Eleventh at Pine. Friends of the parish are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served, also three prizes will be given. Those in charge of arrangements are Mrs. F. P. Macey, Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mrs. Charles Mayer, Mrs. W. E. Brooks, Miss Mary Brown.

The Neakahnie club, an organization made up of students of the Washington high school, will give a Halloween dance at the high school gymnasium on Saturday evening. Patrons and patronesses will include members of the

FAY KING PLANS SEA TRIP, BUT FEARS MAL DE MER

By Fay King
Miss King is a Portland girl, whose first newspaper work was published in The Journal several years ago. She now is located in New York.

A marcel wave and the Fort Lee ferry are the only sea voyages I have ever had; but, now that it is going to be an open season for passports, I thought I might pick off a little mileage on a seagoing ship.

The only thing that worries me is, will I get seasick? Some do and some don't, but the verdict of the old lifebeaters; but, just the same, I've been blotting up all the information they will ink out for me.

One gull tells me to stick close to soda crackers; another suggests that I tuck up on champagne. I can afford the soda crackers, but I had to throw the champagne overboard—figuratively speaking, of course—for lack of funds.

One guy tells me to tie myself up in a steamer rug and sit at an angle of 45 degrees, so that I can't see the sea!

Take the deck before breakfast, says an old wave-rider; get right into your bunk, says another, and stay put till you hit land!

"Eat hearty!" says one. "Eat nothing!" says another. I guess the only way to figure it is—some do and some don't. If you're dock-headed, you get seasick; if you're wave-winded, you don't.

Just the same, I'm prepared for the worst. And who knows but that I may get by like a bunch of seaweed; and then I might just sink down in my berth like a cheerful lead.

But, anyway, I'm tuning up on all the Deep Sea Doodles I can hear of, and expect to be in non-skid shape when the old tug tears away from the pier.

Somebody told me to eat a lot of garlic—but that would be a mean trick on the fishes.

I wish I could sing bass—those guys always get by with that—"Many brave hearts lie asleep in the deep"—you can't sink 'em; their voice is a regular life belt!

Mary's Advisers
This is the way to guard against mistakes. Do as Mary did.

"So you wish to leave to get married, Mary? I hope you have given the matter a serious consideration."

"Oh, I have, sir," was the earnest reply. "I have been to two fortune tellers and a clairvoyant, and looked in a sign book, and dreamed to a lock of his hair, and have been to one of those astrologers, and to a meejum, and they all tell me to go ahead, sir. I ain't one to marry reckless like, sir."

A Wee Bit Personal

When work was started by the Brentwood on its fourth production, "Poor Relations" was given as the working title, the idea being held that in the course of the filming of this picture some other title might be found more suitable. Notwithstanding the consideration of a large number of suggestions, however, "Poor Relations" stood the test during the period of production and was finally decided upon as the most suitable for a permanent title. The picture is being cut and titled for an early release.

Viola Dana now does her shopping in the Japanese quarter of Los Angeles, the exigencies of her wardrobe in "The Willow Tree" being the reason.

"It was the funniest thing," said Miss Dana, in relating a recent experience. "The salesman wouldn't volunteer any information. After we had purchased several lovely kimonos we tried to find out what the Japanese women wear underneath."

"No have. Japanese lady no wear," he told us. "Nonsense—what do they have under their kimonos—next to the skin?" "Ah—nothing," said the man with a cheerful grin.

"Finally we persuaded him to bring out the long winding cloth that the women of Japan wind about their bodies. I don't know what the name of it is, but it's the real thing."

Booth Tarkington's new play, "Clarence" has been very well received in New York. Much of the credit for the action in the piece is given to Alfred Lunt, who made an impression in Portland last season in his presentation of the lounge lizard, later reformed, in "The Country Cousin." "Clarence," it is said, was written particularly with a view to further exploitation of Mr. Lunt's peculiar fun-making talents.

A new musical comedy in the East is known as "The Little Whopper."

Dresses of Distinct Charm $27.50 and $32.50

Nothing can be prettier than these velvet afternoon frocks similar to the one shown here. They are fashioned with the straight, slim lines that are so becoming and have those dainty little touches that you find only on a well made dress. Some are effectively trimmed with satin covered buttons, while many have graceful girdles of wide satin ribbon. They come in shades of black, navy, brown and burgundy in sizes from 16 to 40. One particularly attractive frock is made in a coat effect with a distinctive touch in the two panels that button up over the blouse in both the back and front.

COLD is a meaningless word to the bright, bustling youngsters who navigate the fall and winter in Lackawanna Twins Underwear, so protectively warm and woolly.

True, they play hard to keep the blood in motion, but they can't play hard enough to disturb the security of the well entrenched buttons, made-to-stay buttonholes and sewn-for-safety seams. The crotch is a miracle of fit-with-comfort. Lackawanna Baby Shirts carry rational underdress right into the cradle.

Do you know what tannin is? It's the stuff they tan leather with. There's a lot of tannin in common tea. Skip the tannin. Get Schilling Tea, the fine tea with an abundance of rich tea-flavor and no tannin—unless you let it stand too long. Cheaper than common tea, too—costs more per pound, but less per cup. There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon-India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchmy-lined moisture-proof packages. At grocers everywhere. A Schilling & Co.
