

POLICE LOSE TRAIL OF BANDITS WHO ROBBED CAR BARN

Uniformed Men Blame Plain Clothes Men for Laxity in Apprehending Fugitives.

BLUECOATS TURN TRICK

Patrolmen Find Room Which Bandits Had Occupied; New Burglaries Reported.

Police today had found no further trace of the bandits who Friday night robbed the Piedmont car barn office and wounded Patrolman R. A. Pratt in a spectacular gun fight.

Some friction has developed between the uniformed patrolmen and the plain clothes inspectors over what the former say was cowardice on the part of some inspectors when they had possible opportunity to capture the fugitives in a canyon in the Piedmont district, and because it was patrolmen, and not inspectors, who found the room occupied by the bandits after the detectives had been working vainly for more than 20 hours.

All day Saturday the inspectors endeavored to prove S. Robacker one of the bandit trio, but Robacker proved he had been sitting in a card game during the entire evening.

Seeing the hopelessness of the situation, Captain C. A. Inskip Saturday night ordered his uniformed men to find the room of the three men. Within 20 minutes Inskip reported to Chief Inspector John Clark that he had found the room and had placed three men on guard.

Saturday night, when four troupes took place within an hour, not enough emergency men to cover any case were at police headquarters. At one time only two men were on hand to answer any other emergency call.

The following new cases were reported:

Home of Father J. H. Black of St. Francis Catholic church entered. Several articles are missing.

The glass in the back door at the home of Miss Bess Hefty, 1238 East Twenty-fifth street north, and E. H. Howe, 729 East Sixty-seventh street north, was broken in order to gain entrance. At the Hefty house the burglars stole $7.50 in cash, several pieces of small jewelry and a revolver. Howe lost a revolver, bracelet and six neckties.

William Orbanet of 35 West Church street was held up and robbed of 90 cents by a lone highwayman at Denver avenue and Willamette boulevard early Sunday night.

Miss Bessie Brown of 556 East Stark reported her house had been entered and a gold watch, gold chain and several rings stolen.

When H. A. Green returned to his home at 905 East Twenty-fourth street Sunday night he found burglars ransacking his place. The burglars fled, taking two overcoats.

A watch, several pieces of jewelry and valuable papers were taken from the home of L. Perkins, 349 East Fifty-first street north.

Jewelry was stolen from the home of A. Shultz at 165 East Twelfth street. T. B. Winthrop, 345 Forty-first street, lost a pair of white blankets, a watch, one dozen steel knives and a small amount of jewelry and silverware. Mrs. Hattie Townsend of 456 Halley street lost a diamond ring and a $50 check.

After returning to his room in the Shary hotel, Sunday, A. Mosner found he had been robbed of $70 in cash.

AUTO COLLISION CAUSE OF WOMAN'S DEATH

Mrs. J. F. Jaeger

WOMAN IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. J. F. Jaeger Hurlled From Machines When Sanderson's Auto Strikes Son's Car.

Thrown from the rear seat of an automobile driven by her son, R. E. Jaeger, Everglade avenue, route 1, Mrs. J. F. Jaeger, 66 years old, was almost instantly killed about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, as the result of a collision at East Thirty-third and Sandy boulevard between her son's machine and an automobile driven by G. E. Sanderson, proprietor of Sandy's Kodak company.

Mrs. Jaeger was taken to the Old People's home near by, and Dr. E. M. Johnson, 123 East Twenty-eighth street, called, but her skull had been fractured and death followed before it was possible to render medical assistance.

Jaeger states in his report to the traffic department that he was driving south on Thirty-third street, and had just slowed his machine to a rate of about 10 miles an hour as he approached the street intersection. The crash occurred, he thinks, after he had crossed the first car tracks.

One of the rear wheels of Jaeger's machine was mashed in and the car knocked up against the curb, according to the report of Motorcycle Officers Scott and Ingis, who were dispatched to the scene of the accident. Sanderson's machine was going west on Sandy boulevard.

Sanderson was taken in custody by the officers and held for the coroner. He was later released on $1000 bail.

Chief Deputy Coroner Leo Goetsch took charge of the body. In Sanderson's machine besides himself, were his wife, two children and a boy, Elmer Fair, 245 Wheeler street. None of them was injured.

Deputy Coroner Leo Goetsch announced this morning that he would conduct an inquest into the accident. Efforts will be made to hold it this evening.

Largest Airship in World Bought From Britain by America

Washington, Oct. 27.—(I. N. S.)—The largest airship in the world, the British dirigible R-38, now under construction in England, will be purchased for the United States navy department as soon as a contract can be signed with the British air ministry. Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today.

Secretary Daniels further declares that congress, realizing the United States is far behind England in the lighter than air craft, has appropriated $2,000,000 for the purchase of the rigid airship from England, for the construction of another and for the training of the pilots.

The R-38 is 694 feet in length, 85 feet in diameter, 53 feet 6 inches high and carries a load of 45 tons.

Parisian Tops Costly
Paris, Oct. 27.—Smart clothes in Paris this season are the costliest on record. Many articles are actually worth more than their weight in gold, which is 3 francs 10 centimes the gram. Silk gowns stockings cost over 4 francs, smart veils 15 francs; fur-trimmed opera cloaks 13 francs, and the simplest frocks 4 francs.

HOUSEWIVES SEEK REASON OF BAKERS FOR PRICE BOOST

Council of Women Calls Meeting at Central Library Tuesday to Discuss Bread Costs.

EXPLANATION HELD NOT CLEAR

Proprietor of Small Bakery Will Maintain Lower Charges; Trade Conditions May Vary.

The one-cent rise in the price of bread will be the main question discussed at the meeting of the housewives' council Tuesday in the Central library, according to Mrs. J. P. Chapman, president of the council. "We have asked representatives of several of the large bakeries to attend our meeting and explain to us the reason for this change, as we do not consider the explanation of their publicity man sufficient," said Mrs. Chapman Monday. "We are also asking several of the smaller bakeries to have announced they will not raise the price to explain to us why they do not have to follow the course of the wholesale bakeries. If it is demonstrated to us that this increased price is not strictly necessary, we will do all in our power to throw trade to the firms that maintain the old price."

M. H. Baldwin of the Bake-Rite bakery says: "I do not intend to raise the price of bread unless there is a further advance in the cost of materials. But I do not want to be unfair to the large bakeries. My condition is different. I have no delivery charges and sell at retail only. The wholesale bakeries sell to the grocers, and the cost of delivery is high. In that case I might have to do the same as they are doing. I presume what they say is true."

It is expected that the different factors of cost will be fully brought out at the meeting of the Housewives' council. It is also announced that the milk committee will report on its investigation of prices in that trade. Within the past week 190 women have joined the organization.

YOUTHFUL SUSPECT PLACED ON TRIAL

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27.—(U. P.)—Milwaukee mothers insist that their would never recover from the nervous shock and that if she did survive, her reason would never come back to her. However, she has almost fully recovered.

Lillian Leuthold, on the day she was murdered, visited at the home of the Rev. Mr. Jennings at Bandon, a daughter of Jennings was her only child and they were together often. The Leuthold girl was said to be a modest, though pretty and attractive. When she did not return home Sunday evening her parents believed she had stayed with the Jennings girl for the night, but when she did not come home Monday morning an investigation revealed that she had left the Jennings home at 5 o'clock Sunday evening.

The body of the girl was found near an old road which she had evidently passed over as a short cut from the Jennings house to her own home. She had been shot twice through the head.

BODY IS CONCEALED
The body had been hurriedly dragged to one side and concealed in near-by brush. Powder burns showed that the shots were fired at close range.

No motive could be discovered by the officers. Many theories were followed without result and a detective from Portland was engaged by Sheriff Gage to work on the case. After much research Harold Howell was arrested. He denied any knowledge of the crime. It appeared that Howell and another boy had been hunting the Sunday the girl was killed. The other boy had returned home after separating from the Howell boy. The latter carried a gun which shot a .25 caliber bullet, and the bullet taken from the girl's head was of this caliber.

The officers were unable to find but one other .25 caliber gun in Bandon, and at the time the owner had it with him in Curry county on a hunting trip. The caliber of the bullet will be one of the strong points of the prosecution.

GUN SCRATCH GIVES CLUE

The gun which the boy carried had come into his possession only a few days before. It developed that it had shot a cartridge of another caliber, but had been remodeled so as to shoot a .25 caliber bullet. A gunsmith told the officers that the gun made a peculiar scratch on each bullet shot out of it, and it was claimed that a scratch of this kind was found on the bullet taken from the girl's head.

It is also claimed that blood spots were found on the waistband of the overalls the boy wore while hunting. These overalls were sent to a chemist for examination to ascertain if the blood was that of a human. The result of the chemical examination has never been made public.

ALIBI FOR BOY

The defense, it is understood, will have on the stand one of the best known and most reliable business men of the locality, who will testify that while riding in his auto he met the Howell boy and gave him a ride and that the boy was carrying at his belt a dead rabbit which he had killed and which was bleeding on his clothing.

The question of whether the .25 caliber bullet was fired from a gun or from an automatic pistol will also be brought up by the defense and a witness will tell of hearing two shots, one following the other so quickly that they could have been fired only from an automatic.

The defense will take the position that the boy is either guilty, in which event he committed a terrible crime deserving of the limit of punishment, or else is not guilty and must be entirely freed.

YOUTH NO EXCUSE
The case was first brought up in the juvenile court, but was transferred to the circuit court. The indictment was for second degree murder, punishable by life imprisonment, and the district attorney holds that the youthfulness of the defendant does not in any way prevent his being sent to the penitentiary for a life term if the jury finds him guilty.

Harold Howell is a well developed boy. He is accused of having been out of doors a good deal, and is somewhat large for his age.

Many stories are afloat concerning Howell and incriminating evidence against the boy, but most of these are declared to be wild rumors.

Will the Influenza Return?

Public Health Authorities Predict Its Recurrence

Guard Against It by Building Up the Blood

Pepto-Mangan Creates Rich Red Blood and Increases Strength

Surgeon General Blue of the United States public health service, in a recent statement from Washington, warns the public that the much dreaded influenza epidemic will probably return this fall and winter. All medical authorities agree that the weak, bloodless, run-down individual is more likely to contract this (as well as any other infectious disease) than is the strong, robust, red blooded man or woman. In view of these facts, it is wise to use every effort to build up the blood and thus increase the bodily resistance to the invasion of the germ of the disease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

Nora Bayes Couples "Jerry" with "In Miami"

The contrast between these two vivid songs on a single record gives Nora a chance to show her amazing versatility in character study. From an Irish brogue to a Southern drawl is a wide jump, but it's just a melodious skylark for Nora. A-2785—85c

Jolson Asks "Who Played Poker With Pocahontas?"

"When John Smith went away somebody must have fed the kitty." So Al Jolson rises melodiously to a point of disorder, and brings down the house as he inquires: "Who played poker with Pocahontas?" Coupled with "Alexander's Band is Back in Dixieland," by Harry Fox. A-2787—85c

"Oh! What a Pal Was Mary"

Here's a good old-fashioned ballad song that's making one of the biggest sentimental hits on record. Henry Burr sings the appealing words and beautiful melody with sincere and tender feeling. Coupled with "Waiting" (from "Listen Lester"), by Charles Harrison. A-2786—85c
