

CIVILIAN RESERVE TO HELP BALANCE SOCIETY, IS NEED

Secretary Beckwith of American Legion Urges New Organization as Safeguard for Nation.

LAW AND ORDER BULWARK

About Eighteen Hundred Have Joined Reserve in Portland; 200 Recruits Coming in Daily.

"Acting as a balance wheel for society, the civilian reserve has been organized to meet the crying need of the present day tendencies in the life of the nation and the world," said John H. Beckwith, secretary of the Portland post of the American Legion, in addressing members of the old state guard at the Armory Monday evening.

"Brought into existence as a means of recording the absolute loyalty of all good citizens, it is being recognized over the state as a powerful bulwark for law and order. Unquestionably, most people are loyal. But for a great many years we have accepted patriotism as a matter of fact, almost a commonplace thing. The civilian reserve calls upon men to think of the allegiance they owe the nation and in full realization of that allegiance it asks a pledge to support the statutes and uphold justice and right at all times."

CIVILIAN RESERVE PLANS OUTLINED

C. R. Peck, former judge advocate at Camp Lewis, spoke at the Chamber of Commerce at noon Monday, outlining the purpose and plans of the civilian reserve. Recruits are coming in at a rate of 200 a day. A total of approximately 1800 has been received to date.

The Lang Syne society indorses the civilian reserve in a set of resolutions which have been received by the American Legion headquarters as follows:

LAW SYNE SOCIETY INDORSES WORK
Resolved, that the Lang Syne Society and its members vigorously indorse the civilian reserve, its organization, purposes and policies and aligns itself with law and order and constitutional government and 100 per cent Americanism.

Commerce Chamber Approaches Hoped For Membership

Since reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce last March, 929 new members have been added to the organization. This increase makes the total membership 3059.

The work of building up the membership of the chamber was assigned last spring to Max S. Hirsch, who in turn selected as his permanent committee to handle the work, O. W. Mielke, F. E. Andrews, H. W. Barton, R. L. Brackett, Joe Gerber and F. E. Krause.

Since this committee has assumed charge of the membership work a permanent campaign has been in progress starting with a three days' drive early this summer, which netted 500 new members.

During the plural membership drive held Tuesday and Wednesday last week a total of 167 additional memberships were added. By next spring the chamber expects to have 5000 memberships taken out in the organization.

More life and color were added to the already colorful Food show at the Armory Monday night, when Happy Jack Walker, with his side partner, Little Marie, the English dancer, mingled with the crowds on the floor to exchange repartee and indulge in humorous foibles that delighted the children and enlivened their elders. Following their antics among the exhibits the light-hearted couple gave an exhibition of fancy dancing in the ballroom.

The attendance at the show has been passing the 2000 mark every night and rising to 4000 Saturday, when over 250 couples danced.

In her Monday lecture, Miss Lassie Lane, expert in home economics from the Oregon State Agricultural college, illustrated the many enticing ways to prepare vegetables for the home table. The discussion scheduled for today is "Child Feeding." Miss Lane will lecture on food values.

The last of the scheduled talks will be delivered Wednesday on "The One Dish Dinner—Cooking the Whole Meal in One Pot." Miss Lane will also summarize her former talks on how to reduce the cost of living.

He was an ardent admirer of the Japanese people and made a speaking tour of that country in 1917, under the auspices of the Friends of America, a Japanese society.
