FROZEN APPLES TO BE OFFERED TO THE PORTLAND TRADE

Edited by Hyman H. Cohen

FRESH EGGS ARE ONE CENT DOWN

Market Generally Continues Slow With Values Weak—Public Purchasing the Storage Offerings.

Trade in the egg market continues to reflect weakness for fresh offerings with sales of ordinary candled during the last 24 hours at a further reduction of 1c a dozen.

Market here is being flooded with cold storage stock from other sections, some of it being of very inferior quality which acts as a demoralizer against the market in general.

Sales of fresh candled stock are shown at 76@77c a dozen generally for the last 24 hours, while No. 1 storage goods is ruling generally from 64c to 65c a dozen and other stuff down as low as 62@63c a dozen.

Receipts of fresh stock are slowly gaining, but demand is not good because of the much lower values in effect for the better class storage goods which are suitable for the average trade.

F. o. b. buyers are making practically no open bids for fresh eggs at country points at the moment.

ONION SITUATION HOLDS FIRM

Onion market situation is steady here with prices generally maintained although country business remains slow at $3.25 to $3.50 per cental in carload lots. Eastern markets are stronger and more active.

POTATO TRADE QUOTED STRONG

Trade in the potato market is quoted strong with values well maintained at country buying points at $2.50 per cental for fancy stuff or $2.60 to $2.65 Portland delivery. Outside consuming centers generally good.

BUTTER TRADE CONTINUES QUIET

Butter market continues quiet for fresh stock locally with the bulk of the business still in the storage offerings. Good storage goods being offered to retailers in prints around 58c to 60 per pound.

SALMON CANNERS ARE QUITTING

While there remains a very good run of "dogs" and silverside salmon in the Columbia river, canneries are preparing to close the season. One was closed during the last few days and others are preparing to follow.

HIDE PRICES SHARPLY LOWERED

Prices in the hide market were sharply lower for the day by local buyers. Calf skins were down 5c a pound with the trade materially weaker. Mohair and tallow are unchanged, as is cascara bark.

BRIEF NOTES OF PRODUCE TRADE

Sweet chocolate and cocoa up 1c a pound.
Country killed hogs firm at full prices.
Veal demand is steady at unchanged values.
Cabbage market is firmer with prices held.
Off-grade cheese is being shaded somewhat.

Potato Culture To Improve

Invasion of Central Oregon by California Means Improvement.

By Hyman H. Cohen

That Oregon will be pushed to the very front rank as a potato producing section as a result of the heavy buying of lands in the central portion of the state by leading California growers, is now foreseen by the trade generally.

Statements that first appeared regarding the sale of the lands in the Redmond-Prineville section to California interests, indicated that the total value was about $50,000, but those in the lead of the venture say that the outlay is closer to $200,000.

Central Oregon has come to the front rank as a quality potato producer and the action of the California growers in making huge purchases of land in that district means that others will follow. Within a few years it is expected that Central Oregon will produce as many potatoes as the entire state of Oregon is growing at this time.

One good result will come from the invasion of Oregon by the California growers. They will show the natives how to grow potatoes and will make the selection of seed one of the chief factors. The seed proposition has been almost entirely neglected in this state to date, resulting in deteriorating quality.

Those desiring special information regarding any market should write the market editor Oregon Journal, enclosing stamp for reply.

Buyers Competing For Quality Turk in In Roseburg Section

Roseburg, No. 21.—The turkey market opened in this city Wednesday for the Thanksgiving trade. Buyers are invading the local field from Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. The Seattle buyers are representatives of the Independent Packing company and the Pacific Coast Meat company. They have established headquarters here and are the strongest buyers in the market. Large banners were placed all over the city, stating that the highest cash prices would be paid for the local birds. A few growers brought in birds this afternoon, but the majority will be marketed Thursday and Friday. The market opened for top birds at 40c and up.

The Roseburg product is the choice of the Pacific coast, according to F. H. Geisman of Seattle, who has been a buyer in the local market for the last eight years. For some reason or other, the Oregon birds are of a much better quality than the Washington and Idaho turkeys, and bring a better price on the market. Whether it is the feed or range or the climate he was unable to state. The local birds are in fine condition.

Factory Closing Is Corn Bear Factor

By Joseph F Pritchard

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(I. N. S.)—Corn showed losses of ¼@1⅛c at the close today. Shortly before the close December reached $1.33¼, then dropped suddenly to $1.31⅝, where it rested.

Oats held fairly well throughout the day. Provisions were up slightly.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(I. N. S.)—The closing of a number of industrial plants because of the coal shortage served as an incentive for a sharp decline in corn prices which at the start today showed a loss of from ⅜c to 1⅞c over yesterday's close. Professional bulls and some eastern houses bought on the decline.

Oats at the start were ¼c lower. Trade was moderate.

Provisions started lower for lard with pork and ribs neglected.

Fall Salmon Season Is About to Close

Astoria, Nov. 21.—The fall fishing season on all coast streams of Oregon with the exception of the Columbia and Nehalem rivers ended yesterday. It is expected that the season on these two streams will be terminated by the canners before the law arbitrarily stops it on December 10. The fall run of silversides was not large, the canners report, but they cannot state how much below the 1918 pack the figures will show the season to have been.

The packers this week cut the price of chums from 5 to 3 cents a pound and that on silversides from 10 to 8 cents. One canner received a total of 28 tons of chums one day this week.

CARE IS NEEDED IN BUYING APPLES

Efforts Are Being Made to Market Frozen Stock Here—General Trade Refuses to Handle it in Portland.

The public is warned against the purchase of frosted apples of which Hood River and other Columbia river sections are now freely offering to this market. The trade is aghast at the nerve of the producers in trying to unload this unfit stock on the consumer and the leading houses of Front street assert they will have nothing whatever to do with such offerings.

Several carloads of this frozen stock have been offered to the trade here and one independent handler is said to have decided to take hold. The apples are already beginning to show the effect of the freeze and are fast rotting. In order to save themselves from loss some of the growers are trying to market this stock independent of their regular association and the public is warned to be careful in its purchases.

Such action on the part of growers is deprecated by the general trade as well as by many producers because of the adverse effect it will have upon the local market. This stock cannot be shipped any long distance, therefore Portland is considered the logical place to dump it upon an unsuspecting public.

For good apples the local market is active with prices showing practically no change.

Downward Slide Of Stock Values After the Opening

New York, Nov. 21.—(I. N. S.)—The stock market closed weak today. Heavy pressure at the close caused much selling and losses from 1 to 5 points were general at the close. Turkey Market Bulletin for the Wholesale Trade

Receipts of dressed turkeys continue to increase along Front street. Sales are generally being made by wholesalers to retailers at 42c a pound. This is for stock as it arrives. Cull stock is selling down to 39@40c a pound, while selected birds are going at 45c generally. Most of the big operators are unwilling to pay above 42c a pound for their requirements at this time, although sales at the higher prices have been made locally in small lots or to northern interests to hurry to fill Alaskan orders.

Tops here continued at $16.50 and killers were glad to pay this price.

The Portland office of the Grain corporation is investigating the local territory situation to see whether the public of this section really wants to purchase "straight" flour at reduced prices. An order to sell straight flour in the smaller sacks to the public was announced by Director Barnes several days ago in The Journal but no action will be taken here until Vice President Houser, in charge of zone 10, makes his investigation.

Mr. Houser has sent out the following announcement:

Wheat Director Julius Barnes yesterday put the solution of one phase of the high cost of living directly up to the consumer, by making it possible for the purchaser of flour to decide for himself whether he will continue to pay fancy prices for special brands or buy at a lower price pure straight flour made from the finest wheat.

Following a conference of the vice presidents of Eastern zones of the United States Grain corporation with Mr. Barnes, the corporation has announced that it will offer to the retail trade, particularly in the large cities, under its own brand, standard pure wheat straight flour in 24½ and 12¼ pound packages, at prices which will reflect the grain corporation's buying price of the flour.

This will place in the hands of the consumer a class of flour made from the best wheat and used in large quantities before the war by both bakers and the grocery trade. The bread offered is the regular straight flour. It is in no way identified with the war grade flour, a distinction which should be fully appreciated by the consumer.

Rumors, possibly inspired by over zealous flour salesmen, have been current in the market from time to time of an impending flour shortage and the possibility that the use of substitutes would be resumed. Mr. Barnes asserts that there is no authority whatsoever in the present food regulations for the reinstatement of the use of substitutes or of war flour.

Owing to the short crop of spring wheat this year 203,000,000 bushels against 359,000,000 bushels last year—certain grades of flour are scarce. However, figures for the total crop of wheat show 918,000,000 bushels against 917,000,000 bushels last year. In addition to this 57,000,000 bushels of old wheat were carried over.

Production of flour has been extremely heavy and for the season ending November 17 has amounted to 52,433,00, barrels against 43,174,000 barrels last year. Exports have been only about the same as last year. Consequently flour stocks are very heavy and amounted to about 50 per cent more than a year ago on November 1.

Many reports concerning scarcity of flour and advancing prices for certain grades have reached Mr. Barnes. The facts are that stocks of flour are very large and production enormous. Therefore, the wheat director has determined to place in the hands of the retail trade in the large cities, particularly, a supply of straight flour from the immense stocks of the grain corporation at nominal prices.

This flour will be available in about three weeks in the larger cities. It is expected the retail price will be about 75c for a 12¼ pound sack.

Food Administration Powers Transferred To Palmer's Office

Washington, Nov. 21. — (I. N. S.)—President Wilson signed a proclamation transferring the powers of the food administration to the department of justice.

Howard E. Figg has been appointed by the attorney general to carry on the work which was formerly done by Herbert Hoover.

In order to meet the sugar shortage it was learned this afternoon at the department of justice that pooling of finances of the big American sugar interests for the purchase of remainder of the Cuban crop will be permitted.

Sugar prices will be increased to 12 cents a pound to insure cane sugar manufacturers a reasonable profit.

Immediate steps will be taken to cut down consumption of sugar and supplies to non-essential consumers will be limited. A plan is now in the making which would limit manufacturers of candy and soft drinks to 25 per cent of their normal supply.

Gompers Charges Bad Faith in Lever Law Use Against Miners

The mass-meeting is in protest against the government's action in using the Lever law to break the coal strike.

It is understood that Gompers will present "documentary evidence" charging that President Wilson, Herbert Hoover and former Attorney-General Gregory promised organized labor that the Lever law would never be used against it.

I. W. W. LAWYER STARTS FIGHT IN COURTROOM

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Charges of contempt of court today followed a one-man riot staged in municipal court late yesterday by Sam Crane, disbarred attorney and alleged I. W. W.

Crane, up on a disorderly conduct charge, growing out of his alleged interference with I. W. W. raids last week, started his performance by calling a witness a liar.

Following that, Judge Watt ordered him removed.

Six officers assisted in the removal.

Crane sustained a scalp wound when he fought officers who put him back in jail. The clerk's desk in court was nearly overturned and the proceedings were in turmoil for 10 minutes.

BEAUREGARD MURDER CASE COMPLETED AND PUT IN JURY'S HANDS

Woman on Trial as Result of Her Husband's Death Testifies Shooting Was Accident.

Vancouver, Wash., Nov. 21.—Evidence in the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Beauregard, charged with the murder of her husband, Jules J. Beauregard, was completed at 4 o'clock Thursday and the case is in the hands of the jury.

Judge Chapman instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of first or second degree murder or of acquittal.

The dying words of Beauregard to former Chief of Police L. E. McCurdy were read to the jury after objection by Attorney Yates for the state had been overruled. According to the witness, Beauregard said:

"I am going to die."

Asked for a last statement, it was testified he said:

"I was going on a hunting trip and she objected and grabbed the gun and shot me. I don't think she meant to shoot. She meant to scare me. The gun jumped from her hand when she shot."

Most of the declaration was stricken from the records, but the following was admitted to stand:

"Let her go, Mac. Don't do anything to her."

Mrs. Beauregard's defense is based on accidental shooting. She testified that curiosity prompted her to pick up the revolver and that she did not know it was loaded. The revolver started to slip from her hands, she said, and in attempting to gain a firmer hold it was discharged.

WILLARD HAWLEY JR., IS SUED FOR DIVORCE; CRUELTY IS CHARGED

Resident Manager of Paper Mill at Oregon City Alleged to Have Struck Wife.

Oregon City, Nov. 21.—Willard P. Hawley Jr., resident manager of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, was sued for divorce today by Mrs. Marjorie Fraker Hawley, whom he married on March 11, 1916, following a romantic courtship. Mrs. Hawley alleges cruelty.

Circuit Judge Campbell this afternoon ordered Hawley to pay into court at once $1000 for the support of Mrs. Hawley and their 2-year-old daughter, Eva Adele, $500 suit money and $1000 of $7500 attorney's fees demanded. He also enjoined Hawley from disposing of his 750 shares of stock or other interest in the paper mills and from interfering with Mrs. Hawley or the child or taking the child from Mrs. Hawley.

Mrs. Hawley charges that Hawley struck her on various occasions, once at the Van Nuys hotel in Los Angeles last June and several times at their home in Oregon City. She alleges that he nagged her and that, when the crying of their little daughter disturbed him, he had a room built on the house that he might escape the noise. She also asserts that he accused her of impropriety before marriage.

In her complaint, Mrs. Hawley asserts that Hawley's income is more than $50,000 a year, citing bank deposits made by him as proof. Hawley is the son of Willard P. Hawley Sr., president and general manager of the mill company.
