WASHINGTON COUNTY LAWMAKER LOSES 2 TOES OF RIGHT FOOT

E. W. Haines Has Serious Mishap When His Tractor Backs Down Steep Hill.

E. W. Haines of Washington county, former president of the state senate and present member of the house delegation from that county, is at the Imperial minus two toes and a half and plus a pair of crutches. He will be able to relinquish his crutches in a little while, but sees no immediate prospect of re-suming his toes. However, he is optimistic and cheerful in the face of his misfortune, contending that it may be a benefit after all should the price of shoe leather continue its upward flight with the same persistency that has marked its course in the recent past. He also argues that he will be able to put his right foot forward and reach the minus one, throughout the future without the past danger of stubbing his toes or stepping on as much trouble as was possible in the days gone by.
Mr. Haines injured his foot through the joint endeavor of a runaway tractor and a gangplow. Some little time ago, while moving from one field to another on the Washington county road, he stopped his tractor on a hillside road, setting its lever in reverse instead of neutral, a mistake made by reason of darkness. When he started the engine the tractor began to run backward, down the hill and in his effort to reach the throttle his foot was caught beneath the gangplow, amputating the great toe of his right foot, the one next to it and half of the third.
Mr. Haines is recovering from the accident and will soon be able to abandon his crutches. He does not anticipate, he smiles, that the loss of his toes will interfere in any degree with his ability to run for office.

Atkinson's Memory To Be Honored by Congregationalists

The memory of Dr. George Henry Atkinson, the first minister sent west of the Rockies by the Congregationalists, who was instrumental in the development of the wheat lands from sagebrush country in Eastern Oregon and in the framing of the present Oregon school law, will be honored tonight at the Atkinson Memorial Congregational church in East Portland on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of his birth.
Dr. Atkinson first came to Oregon in 1848, bringing more than $2000 worth of school books which he gave away or sold at cost. He drafted the school law which is in use today. He served as public school commissioner, founded the Tuatini academy and the Pacific university at Forest Grove and organized the Congregational church at Oregon City.
Dr. W. T. McElveen of the First church will be the chief speaker.

Charges Are Dropped Against Couple as Wedding Bells Ring

Salem, Dec. 5.—Charges filed against Earl West and Pearl Clevinger of Morrow, Wash., arrested in a local rooming house Wednesday, where they had been living together as man and wife, were dropped today when they were married by Justice of the Peace Unruh.
This happy culmination of what for a time loomed as a serious charge against West resulted from an investigation of the situation by local officials, who were convinced that they were the victims of circumstances and were innocent of any wrong intent.

Administrator Is Named in Yakima For Fuel Control

Yakima, Wash., Dec. 5.—The fuel situation in Yakima has reached such a crisis that C. D. Hesse of the Roslyn Fuel company was named fuel administrator. The reclamation service has about 1000 cords at Elmrock, 40 miles from the city, and arrangements are being made to bring it here by trucks. Another supply at Lake Kachess is still in the log and the city and county will finance working it into cordwood and shipping it to the city. Coal is to be sold only on a permit system and not more than 500 pounds is to be allowed any one person.
