Salem Man Is Elected to Place Under Recommendation of Jonathan Bourne, It Is Said.

Walter L. Tooze Jr. of McMinnville has been chosen to swing the helm of Senator Poindexter's campaign to win the primary indorsement of Oregon's electorate through which the Washington candidate hopes to cinch the votes of Oregon's delegates to the Republican national convention next June. He was selected by Poindexter upon the recommendation of Jonathan Bourne, who used to figure in the politics of Oregon, and who, it seems, has thrown himself and the propagandist machinery which he finances and directs behind Poindexter's presidential hopes and aspirations.

SUFFERS CHANGE OF HEART Incidentally and in this connection it

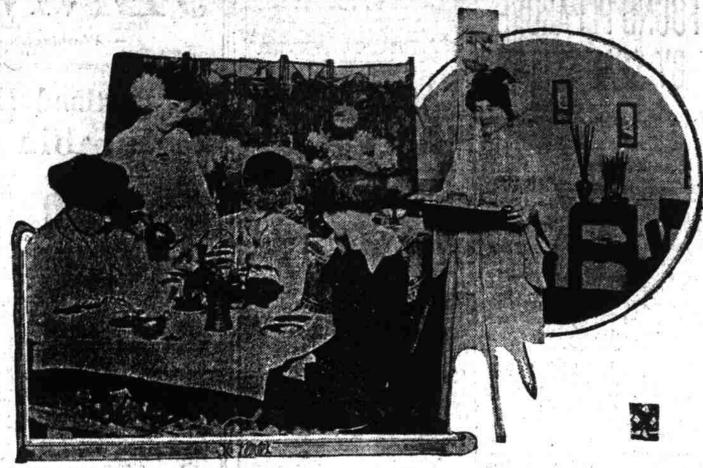

Bourne, if he be in sympathy with the modes and practices of his presidential candidate, has suffered a change of political heart since last he faced the voters of Oregon as a candidate. Then, it will be remembered, he held to the theory that political virtue hath its own Senator Poindexter, whose national and presidential efforts Bourne is rep-uted to be managing, holds no such Utouted to be managing, holds no such Uto-pian theory about the free and unaided popular mutation of political virtues into election certificates. He seems to believe not only that the early bird brings home the bacon, but that the un-guided and uneducated worm is all too liable to turn; a mental state reflected by his recent appearance in Pierre, S. D., where he kicked the ancient doctrine about the presidency seeking the man, rather than the man the presidency, on its shins by hiring a hall in order to tell more or less empty benches why the Republican convention of that state ought to indorse him for the presidency, rather than Leonard Wood.

QUESTION OF LOGIC half is good for one meeting a manager is better for many, Tooze, who has recently returned from overseas, has been picked to fill that position in this state, and for some little time has been on the ob—unannounced.
Toose is the third presidential manager to make his appearance in the local field. Joseph E. Dunn, who, when not in politics, is the manager of the Hazel-Cream company, has been announced as the pilot selected to guide Governor Lowden's candidacy past the rocks in the Oregon channel. Dow V.

while Toose is the latest.
There are yet three to come, for it is reward under the Oregon system, and that it was no longer necessary to come back home to build political fences or effect compacts and alliances in order to win first place in the preference of the Oregon electorate. Lowden Wood Poindexter have already made that effect compacts and alliances in order to win reelection. He stood back in Washington upon his record while Harry Lane gathered in the votes and the election certificate.

Women's Skirts To Be Still Higher From Ground in '20

Skirts will be still higher in the spring of 1920, according to decree of the styles committee of the National Coat, Suit & Skirt Manufacturers' association, in convention here today. Anywhere between two and five inches will be lopped off to off the ground, as compared with four and six inches of the present style, the committed declared. An extra inch leeway will be given misses' skirts. The committee held that skirts 10 inches above the ground are proper for the younger women.

Prices will also stay up, Michael Printz, Cleveland, chairman of the styles committee, said. Good material for suits and skirts is at a premium and milady insists on having the best, he said.

Girl Gets Ranch in Curry, Though Will Of Dead Man Lost

dead man, which has been lost, has been admitted to probate in the county court of Curry county by the proving of the contents of the document. George Heebel, a German, who lived on a ranch in Curry county, died suddenly. His only relatives reside in Germany. Heebel's place is valued at $6000. He had told a number of his neighbors that he had left a will, providing that all his property go to Esther McGee, aged 14, of Coquille River, for whose family he had worked. The will could not be found, but it was proved by neighbors Heebel had told, and by one who had read the will, that Heebel intended to leave his property to the child, and the little girl will get the ranch. Heebel was also known to have several thousand dollars' worth of Liberty bonds in his house, but these cannot be found, and it is believed that the residence was robbed after the death of the old man.

Corbett Building

5th and Morrison Streets 0

The lighting system in the Corbett Building was no worse than in many buildings constructed in the last ten years, nor were the fixtures we replaced in the Yeon Building less efficient than the ordinary type, but English tore them out and installed Radiantlite, for an analysis proved that at a modest expenditure enormous advantages could be had with the Radiantlite.

The Radiantlite is the last word in scientific illumination-for office, factory or home-made in an infinite number of plain and decoratve designs. If you have a lighting problem, you owe it to yourself to investigate the wonderful possibilities of the Radiantlite. Radiantlite can be quickly attached to your old fixtures.

The merchant of today can ill afford not to take advantage of increasing his illumination and the added opportunity of properly displaying his merchandise.

What Radiantlite Will Dofor You

- Without increasing the current cost, you can have all your offices evenly lighted and eliminate desk lamps.
- The Radiantlite eliminates the necessity of washing globes, as fixtures
- are aust-proof and bug-proof. The Radiantlite has a reflector the same as an automobile headlight, and the glassware has the maximum diffusion and the minimum
