

Junior League Ball Big Event Of Past Week

By Helen H. Hutchison
 EVEN the frenzied Christmas shopper paused for a moment during the past week to indulge in a few frivolities which had nothing to do with gift lists or Christmas cards. The week before when the unprecedented misbehavior of the weather caused all hostesses to recall their invitations left Portland folk busy for a frolic and the Junior League ball on Friday evening furnished the desired inspiration.

Numbers of dinner parties preceded the dance as in the old days, before the war played havoc with all festivities. The officers of the league and their chosen corps of workers transformed Christensen's hall into a lovely setting in which snowflakes hung suspended in the air but never fell, and Christmas greens with great fluffy bows of crimson marked off the boxes for spectators. A favored orchestra played for the dancing throughout the evening and the hall was crowded to capacity.

A cotillon led by Roderick L. Macleay and Chester G. Murphy and their ladies was a feature of the evening. During the figures fascinating favors were distributed. Gay caps for the men, noisy little horns, pretty trifles of various sorts and brilliant hued packets of confetti added to the fun.

Among those who entertained at dinner parties preceding the ball were Mrs. William Mackenzie, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cobbe, Mrs. Otis B. Wight, Mrs. Carl Wernicke, Miss Katherine Hoyt, Mrs. Spencer Biddle, Miss Elizabeth Huber and Miss Charlotte Breyman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Murphy, E. A. Thompson, and Clarence Brazelle. Several of the dinner parties were given at the University club, a number of prominent friends made up small parties and dined at the hotels preceding the event, and others entertained the guests who made up their box parties.

A feature of the evening was the dance number given by Miss Billy Bradley and Edward Sedon of the Alcazar Players.

Among the boxholders were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Almsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cookingham, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Miss Henrietta Failing, Mrs. Helen Ladd-Corbett, Mrs. Max S. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Swigert, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick L. Macleay, Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Porter, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Eckley, Mr. and Mrs. F. Swigert, Mr. and Mrs. Otis B. Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Wilcox, Mrs. Charles T. Whitney, Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, Mrs. Henry Ladd-Corbett, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. P. J. Cobbe, Mrs. Thorne Sioane Barnes and Mrs. Varnel D. C. Beach.

Mrs. Walter J. Holman, queen of Nydia Temple, Daughters of the Nile, was hostess on Wednesday for a luncheon honoring the officers of the organization. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. Guests for the occasion included Mrs. Hugh Boyd, Mrs. A. H. Lea, Mrs. O. W. Milke, Mrs. George B. Cellars, Mrs. Robert Skene, Mrs. George L. Baker, Mrs. William J. Hofmann, Mrs. Herman J. Blasing, Mrs. Charles A. Runyan, Mrs. A. H. Averill, Mrs. George E. Henton, Mrs. Roy F. E. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. William Boone, Mrs. Edward Holman. Election of new officers will be held in January.

More than 250 of the younger school set have been invited for a dancing party to be given on the evening of December 26 at Waverley Country club, for which the Misses Virginia Pearson, Estelle Modlin, Margaret Alexander and Annette Byford will be hostesses. The affair will be a dinner in the afternoon and the Christmas note will be carried out in decorations for the affair. Miss Pearson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. E. Pearson. The parents of the other young hostesses are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Modlin, Mrs. Carrie Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Byford.

Mrs. Elizabeth Andrus was hostess at her home in Alexandra Court on Wednesday evening for a dinner in honor of Mrs. John Forest Dickson, who left Portland for California on Saturday. Guests for the occasion included the members of a small bridge club who have been enjoying a few hours of bridge together during the winter months. Covers at dinner were placed for Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. A. D. Maxwell, Miss Addison Jewell, Mrs. Walter W. Smith, Miss Jessie Murch, Miss Blanche Catlin and Mrs. M. G. Sterling.

Miss Juanita Bennett became the bride of Romey Manegre on December 17. The bride, recently from Stevenson, Wash., was attended by Miss Dorothy Campbell, Freeman Manegre, brother of the bridegroom, was the officiating service was read by the Rev. J. Bowertox.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ausias de Turonne will leave their home in Seattle for a trip abroad. They are planning to tour France and Belgium by motor. They have been in former years visitors in Portland, where they have many friends.

Mrs. John F. Logan was hostess for the Portia club at a bridge luncheon on Tuesday at her home in Irvington. The club is composed of a group of the wives of prominent attorneys of the city.

Miss Ellen Van Volkenberg will not come to Portland until January 5, when FOUR young hostesses who will entertain more than 200 of their young friends at a smart dancing party at Waverley Country club are: The Misses Virginia Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Pearson; Margaret Alexander, daughter of Mrs. Carrie A. Alexander; Annette Byford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Byford, and Estelle Modlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Modlin.

she will appear in "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire" at the Little Theatre. Owing to the stormy weather it has been necessary to postpone her engagement in Portland, but the event is anticipated with interest by friends of the Drama League who are sponsoring her appearance.

New screens have been made for the stage setting of the Little Theatre, which will greatly add to the effects for future work at the theatre. The next event of interest is the presentation by Miss Nina Greathouse of three one-act plays on December 29. Mrs. Irving Lupton will take the leading role in "Enter the Hero," a light comedy. Mrs. Upton will be remembered for her good work in past Drama League productions, when she was Miss Mildred Humason. The other members of the cast are Miss Louise Littell, Mrs. Warren and Stanton Bowley. "The Little King," a tragedy based on an episode in the life of young Louis XVII of France, will furnish the somber note of the evening, and "Food," a farce on the "H. C. L.," will conclude the program.

Miss Elizabeth Jacobs became the bride of Dr. William Reginald Jackson at the home of her grandfather in San Diego on the evening of December 17. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick A. Jacobs of Portland and has been one of the popular young women of Portland society. Dr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their home in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Mattern, whose marriage was a recent event, have returned to Portland from their wedding

Miss Honeyman And Fiance Are Guests of Honor

MISS HELEN HONEYMAN and her fiance, Arthur Trumbull Brown, were guests of honor at a smart dinner party on Friday evening for which Clarence Brazelle was host. The dinner preceded the Junior League ball and was given at the University club. The table for the occasion was centered with a bank of orchids from which ribbons were carried to the cards which marked the places for the guests, the blossoms forming dainty corsage bouquets for the girls. Seated about the table were Mr. and Mrs. James D. Honeyman, Miss Helen Page, Miss Lavelle Florence, Miss Charlotte Laidlaw, Miss Katherine Laidlaw, Miss Katherine Therkelson, Mrs. Nancy Zan Scott, Miss Frances O'Brien, Miss Jean Stevens, Miss Cornelia Tevis, Arthur Trumbull Brown, William Atwell, John Leander, Jack Driscoll, Edward Brazelle, Raymond Munly, Lowell Kerns, Duncan Nease, Franklin Korrell, Alfred O'Brien, Everett W. Fenton and the host.

Miss Edna Love became the bride of John Becker on Thursday evening at the home of the bride in Williams avenue. The service was read by the Rev. Leonard Ludwig. Little Eveline Becker was flower girl. The bride was gowned in white duchesse satin and carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Becker will make their home in Portland.

Plans for Christmas family parties occupy the hosts for this week. Among those who will entertain at a large family dinner are Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, whose guests will include Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cranston, Guy Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Cos A. McKenna and their three children, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien from Pendleton, and W. H. Hurlbut.

Mrs. William Sooyamith of Medford is spending the holidays with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sooyamith, in Portland.

Johny of San Francisco, and a brother of Mrs. Julius Freuden, 108 Northrup street. The marriage was solemnized on Friday, December 13, in Zurich, Switzerland, which has been for some time the home of the bride. She is the daughter of Mrs. Julie Grindbaum, widow of the late M. S. Grindbaum, sugar magnate of the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. and Mrs. Grindbaum made their home for some years at the Palace hotel in San Francisco. The romance started in Switzerland, where Mr. Herrscher went on business not long ago. In October, after having returned to the United States, Mr. Herrscher went again to Europe with his father, Joseph Herrscher, and there he won his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Herrscher will make their home in San Francisco.

One of the larger dinner parties which preceded the Junior League ball was given at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Huber, Miss Charlotte Breyman assistant hostess. Guests for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goode, Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, Mr. and Mrs. Holt Cookingham, Miss Elizabeth Menefee, Miss Ruth Rummel, Miss Nadine Caswell, Miss Elizabeth Pascoe, Miss Charlotte Breyman, Ernest Swigert, William Stevens, George Powell, George Lawrence, Page Shindler, Edward Thompson, George Kribb.

Guests for the small dinner party for which Mr. and Mrs. Roderick L. Macleay were hosts Friday evening, included Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Miller, Miss Jean Mackenzie, Hamilton Corbett and Eric Whitney. Following the dinner the party attended the Junior League ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Fordham Bassett Kimball (Alice Gilman) of Hood River will spend the Christmas holidays in Seattle at the home of Mrs. Kimball's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luthene Claremont Gilman.
