3 TANK STEAMERS WILL BE BUILT AT STANDIFER YARD

Vancouver Company Obtains Contracts From Standard Oil; Work to Continue for Some Time.

Contracts for three tank steamers for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey have been accepted by the G. M. Standifer Construction New York Christmas day. Standifer is at the Benson hotel.

The vessels will be of 12,000 tons deadweight capacity, the largest vessels ever contracted for in the Columbia district, and among the largest ever built on the

These three, with the Green Star con tracts for five steamers, will give work at the Standifer plant for the next year, Standifer said today. The Vancouver yard is now completing three steamers for the Emergency Fleet corporation, one of which is to be launched in a few days, and the other two next month.

The first of the Green Star freighters will come off in March. The Standard Oil vessels will be used on the east coast, bably between Mexico, Texas and

The Vancouver plant employes men, and this force will probably be employed until all the work now on hand is The outlook after 1920 for shipbuilding in this district is not encouraging, Standifer said, and not the least of the difficulties confronting operators is the wage question.

rewages are being paid here for shipbuilding than anywhere else in the world," he said, "and the only reason we are getting contracts now is because the yards of this country and England have all the business they can handle at present. However, these contracts were obtained by the closest kind of competitive bidding, and when the tonnage situation eases off as a result of present building. Standifer explained that the wage question is not so serious as that of pro-The production rate in the abor end of the shipbuilding business is the most expensive phase. Standifer will leave Sunday for San Francisco on a business trip of a week, but expects to be with Mrs. Standifer in Portland all winter.

FOG DELAYS ROSE CITY

Anchored 18 Hours Only Short Distance From Portland.

The passenger liner Rose City reached Alnsworth dock at 11:30 this morning passengers and full freight holds. The vessel was anchored for 18 hours in the fog, almost within whistling distance of Portland, as it was only 10 miles below St. Johns. The Rose City left Astoria at 7 o'clock Friday morning and, until it was anchored, had to proceed very slowly because of the murk.

The On its last trip up the Columbia the Rose City had a battle with the ice, but the fog he encountered this time Captain T. MacGenn considers the worse opponent to schedule.

Because of the delay, both at San Francisco from loading so much cargo and the fog in the Columbia, the Rose City will leave down again at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

Steamer Mayfair Leaking

The steam schooner Mayfair, which left out of Astoria last Monday, reached San Francisco in a leaking condition late Friday, after 116 hours at sea. The Mayfair is one of the Charles Nelson fleet and recently brought general cargo to Portland. After taking an extra pump at San Francisco, the steamer proceeded to San Pedro to discharge, fter which she will be returned to San Francisco for drydocking and repairs.

Centaurus at San Francisco

The Green Star freighter Centaurus, left Astoria for the second time last Tuesday, after returning to that port for additional fuel oil following its first journey to sea, reached San Francisco Friday to load additional cargo for the west coast of South America.

Steamers Held by Fog Because of the dense fog along the Willamette and the Columbia, the wooden steamers Diana and Mendora, perated by the Columbia-Pacific Ship ping company and loading ties for the United Kingdom, were unable to shift today. The Diana, at Fifteenth street terminal, was to go to the St. Helens tie booms and the Mendora, at the tie oms, was to come to Portland for coal before departing on its voyage. Both vessels are now idle, awaiting a change in the weather.

REPRESENTED AS ERMINE

Two Men Arrested at Pendleton Swindled Wealthy Salt Lake People With Fake Furs, Claim.

Salt Lake, Dec. 27.-The police have been advised of the arrest at Pendleton, Or., of two men believed to be fake fur peddlers, who fleeced persons in this vicinity of between $30,000 and $40,000 during the Christmas shopping season.

Representing themselves as British sailors, the fakirs approached their wellto-do victims with the greatest caution carrying their furs in a huge canvas sack. They told an interesting story of having gone to Russia for the express purpose of smuggling out a large quantity of expensive furs, of capture by the Red guard, a sentence to death and a romantic rescue by the fair daughter of the commanding officer.

Departing, they pledged their victims to absolute secrecy, as the furs had been smuggled into the country and all concerned might be in danger of arrest Their operations came to the notice of the police after three Salt Lake physicians who had invested $800 became suspicious and took their wares to a local furrier for appraisal. The purchases were at once pronounced rabbit skins, with an occasional cat skin, all skilfully decorated to look like ermine, silver fox and other expensive furs.

Colonel Van Hamm, Hearst Editor, Is Dead at New York

Miami, Fla., Dec. 27 .- (I. N. S.)-Colonel Caleb Marsh Van Hamm, for several years managing editor of the New York American, died here early today after an illness of several weeks. The body will be taken to Cincinnati, where Colonel Van Hamm was born, for burial

Colonel Van Hamm was one of the best known newspaper men in the East, having held important executive posi-tions on a number of big dailies before becoming editor of the New York American in 1910. He was born in Cincinnati on March 11, 1861. He was graduated from the law school of the University of Cincinnati in 1882 with an LL B. degree. He was engaged in the practice of law for several years, but gave it up for newspaper work.

BE BARED TO SAVE MAN FROM GALLOWS

Counsel for Harry New Jr., Accused Slaver, Gives Hint of Probable Feature of Defense.

Los Angeles, Dec. 27 .- (U. P.)-Mrs. Lily Burger may yet be called to relate from the witness stand the story of her girlhood romance with United States Senator Harry S. New of Indiana, as her part to the effort to save Harry S. New Jr., alleged unsanctioned child of that romance, from the gallows.

Attorney Jud Rush of New's counse oday declared emphatically that the reported decision to keep Mrs. Burger from "Circumstances may arise which make it unnecessary for Mrs. Burger to testify and in that event she will not be called,' Rush declared. "But thus far our original intention to call Mrs. Burger remains unaltered." Defense attorneys denied that Senator New had requested Mrs. Burger be kept off the witness stand.

Thieves Gef. $2000 In Holdup of W. U. Telegraph Office

San Francisco, Dec. 27. - (U. P.)-Three robbers early today held up the Western Union branch office at 722 Mar-ket street and obtained $2000. They gagged and bound James Lynch, night manager, and pried open the drawers of an open safe. This was Lynch's first night as manager.

The youngest of the three was about 17. Lynch said, and the oldest 25. They worked coolly and deliberately by the light of the Market street lamps.
