

MIDDLE GROUND TREATY FORCES GAIN STRENGTH

Effort to Hasten Ratification of Treaty Apparent; Subject Grips Senators at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 1.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—As the day for the reassembling of congress approaches, capitol and senate office buildings are buzzing with discussion of the peace treaty compromise.

One of the most notable developments is the increasing strength of the middle grounders and their restlessness over the failure of leaders to take more definite action.

UTAH SUGAR CO. TO BE PROSECUTED

U. S. District Attorney at Salt Lake Files Complaint Charging Gross Law Violation.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 1.—(I. N. S.)—Marking the first prosecution of its kind instituted in Utah and based upon information obtained in Chicago, the United States district attorney has filed a complaint against the Peoples' Sugar company and officers of the company charging them with profiteering.

Walla Walla Has New Commissioner

Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. 1.—W. Craig Ferguson, son-in-law of W. W. Baker, vice president of the Baker Boyer National bank, has been named commissioner of finance of the city of Walla Walla, succeeding A. K. Dies, who resigned to become connected with the Union Trust company.

Actress Is Killed In Auto Accident

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 1.—(I. N. S.)—Miss Yvonne Fitzhugh, aged 24, a New York actress, who recently returned from London, was hurled 90 feet over a bridge here today and instantly killed when an automobile in which she was riding crashed into the bridge railing.

Senator Chamberlain Is 66 Years Old Today

United States Senator George E. Chamberlain is 66 years old today, which fact is being taken advantage of by numerous of his Portland friends in the shape of messages sent him wishing him not only a happy New Year, but many returns of the anniversary.

Physician Held for Alleged Murder of His Office Girl

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 1.—(U. P.)—Dr. Christopher Scott, 43, was bound over to a grand jury here late yesterday in connection with the death by shooting of Elizabeth Ford Griffith, 17, his office attendant. Ball of $8000 for the physician's release was furnished.

43 CASUALTIES TRAFFIC MISADVENTURE RECORD OF YEAR

Automobile Accidents Responsible for 34 Deaths; Safety Campaign Cites December Ratio.

(Continued From Page One) Ferwiler boulevard. Driving own auto. January 16, Joe Him, 80 Second street, struck at Fifth and Alder streets by 1917 Buick car. Driver, C. L. Kiernan, 1893 Dwight street. Pedestrian crossing street.

WALLA WALLA HAS NEW COMMISSIONER

Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. 1.—W. Craig Ferguson, son-in-law of W. W. Baker, vice president of the Baker Boyer National bank, has been named commissioner of finance of the city of Walla Walla, succeeding A. K. Dies, who resigned to become connected with the Union Trust company.

Actress Is Killed In Auto Accident

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 1.—(I. N. S.)—Miss Yvonne Fitzhugh, aged 24, a New York actress, who recently returned from London, was hurled 90 feet over a bridge here today and instantly killed when an automobile in which she was riding crashed into the bridge railing.

Senator Chamberlain Is 66 Years Old Today

United States Senator George E. Chamberlain is 66 years old today, which fact is being taken advantage of by numerous of his Portland friends in the shape of messages sent him wishing him not only a happy New Year, but many returns of the anniversary.

STATE WOULD AID ALL MEN WHO ARE CRIPPLED IN WORK

Legislature Will Be Asked to Authorize Commission to Set Aside $100,000 for Purpose.

Salem, Jan. 1.—Broad powers for the physical and vocational rehabilitation of industrial cripples in Oregon will be bestowed upon the state industrial accident commission if the legislative program adopted by the sub-committee of the conference committee of 15 recently named to consider proposed increases in compensation for injured workmen, is passed by the special session of the legislature next month.

CANDIDATES AWAIT WORD FROM WILSON

going ahead regardless of any statement from the White House; in fact it is so widely accepted among the Democrats that it is a foregone conclusion.

SORENSEN ALLOWED TO ESCAPE JAIL TERM

who survived Mrs. Smith. Sorensen was again acquitted by 12 men, and the children were left destitute.

MORROW LEAVES FOR DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL MEET IN WASHINGTON

Dr. J. W. Morrow, Democratic national committeeman for Oregon, left last night for Washington, D. C., accompanied by Mrs. Morrow, where he will attend the meeting of the national committee, which has been called for January 8, Jackson day.

TWO ARE INJURED BY BOMB INTENDED TO DESTROY PLANT

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 1.—(I. N. S.)—James Hamilton and his brother, Edward, employees of the East Bay Water company at the pumping plant at Webster and Claremont avenues, Berkeley, were slightly injured late last night when a bomb which they found on the steps of the station was exploded.

BRITISH HOPE DUTCH REFUSE TO DELIVER KAISER FOR TRIAL

London, Jan. 1.—(U. P.)—Great Britain will welcome refusal by Holland to deliver the former kaiser for trial, it was indicated in official circles today.

ATTORNEYS DIFFER UPON VALIDITY OF SPECIAL CITY LEVY

Fredrick V. Holman's opinion that the 2 mill tax increase passed by the voters of the city November 12 last is invalid is not held by City Attorney LaRochelle.

COMMON SENSE SUGGESTS CHERRY'S

The Cherry Way of buying clothes is the common sense way. It saves you dollars and cents—the way that makes a small income stretch a long way.

"HAPPY NEW YEAR"

You don't want to think about business now. We don't either. We just want to offer a word of appreciation for the abundance of patronage, friendship and good will given us the past year.

A BUSINESS EDUCATION

is almost indispensable to the man who wants to become successful in business. Such an education may be best obtained at this school under expert teachers and with young men students. Students are given individual and personal attention.

ORCHESTRA MATINEE 2 TO 4 P. M. TODAY

OWEN MOORE in "PICCADILLY JIM" From the Saturday Post Story A fast comedy, as refreshing as a cocktail (used to be).

COLUMBIA ORCHESTRA Afternoons and Evenings V. C. KNOWLES, Director

COMING SAT.—Ethel Clayton in "The 13th Commandment"

Day and Evening Sessions New Classes Open January 5 IN SROTHARD, TYPEWRITING, BOOKKEEPING, BUSINESS AND LETTER WRITING This school cooperates with the state in providing financial aid to returned service men.

Y. M. C. A. Business School, Div. A SIXTH AND ATLANTIC STREETS PHONE MAIN 3100

PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

WE WISH YOU A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

THE PORTLAND AD CLUB adopted its New Year resolutions Wednesday at the Benson with responses to a roll call during which each man told how much more successful he intends to be in 1920 than in 1919.

MERCHANTS ERECT NEW STANDARD AS GUIDE THIS YEAR

The Portland Ad club adopted its New Year resolutions Wednesday at the Benson with responses to a roll call during which each man told how much more successful he intends to be in 1920 than in 1919.

PERSHING STILL URGED TO STAY HERE LONGER

Washington, Jan. 1.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Senator Chamberlain has not given up efforts to persuade General Pershing to devote more than one afternoon to Portland, General Moseley, who leaves Washington January 4, joins Pershing on his western trip, will discuss with Pershing possible changes of itinerary to permit a longer stay in Portland, and has hopes that this can be worked out.

SORENSEN HYSTERICAL

A state of hysteria, bordering upon insanity, has been caused by the defendant's constant thought and worry on the subject, they said. As the damning evidence of the mental men was impressed upon the judges, Sorensen sobbed aloud. The doctors testified that during his examination, Sorensen had repeatedly told them that his parents had died of tuberculosis some year before and that he had once had symptoms of the disease. No traces of it could be found, and he was in remarkable health, considering his age of 33 years, the doctors said.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

MORROW LEAVES FOR DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL MEET IN WASHINGTON

Dr. J. W. Morrow, Democratic national committeeman for Oregon, left last night for Washington, D. C., accompanied by Mrs. Morrow, where he will attend the meeting of the national committee, which has been called for January 8, Jackson day.

TWO ARE INJURED BY BOMB INTENDED TO DESTROY PLANT

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 1.—(I. N. S.)—James Hamilton and his brother, Edward, employees of the East Bay Water company at the pumping plant at Webster and Claremont avenues, Berkeley, were slightly injured late last night when a bomb which they found on the steps of the station was exploded.

BRITISH HOPE DUTCH REFUSE TO DELIVER KAISER FOR TRIAL

London, Jan. 1.—(U. P.)—Great Britain will welcome refusal by Holland to deliver the former kaiser for trial, it was indicated in official circles today.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

MORROW LEAVES FOR DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL MEET IN WASHINGTON

Dr. J. W. Morrow, Democratic national committeeman for Oregon, left last night for Washington, D. C., accompanied by Mrs. Morrow, where he will attend the meeting of the national committee, which has been called for January 8, Jackson day.

TWO ARE INJURED BY BOMB INTENDED TO DESTROY PLANT

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 1.—(I. N. S.)—James Hamilton and his brother, Edward, employees of the East Bay Water company at the pumping plant at Webster and Claremont avenues, Berkeley, were slightly injured late last night when a bomb which they found on the steps of the station was exploded.

BRITISH HOPE DUTCH REFUSE TO DELIVER KAISER FOR TRIAL

London, Jan. 1.—(U. P.)—Great Britain will welcome refusal by Holland to deliver the former kaiser for trial, it was indicated in official circles today.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gatens and arranged a surprise for his wife. He announced his intention of pleading guilty and throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The other jurists, Tucker, McCarty, Stappleton, and Taggart, were asked to sit jointly on the case by Judge Gatens, because, as he stated later, he feared that he would be prejudiced against Sorensen. Wilbur made a strong bid for sympathy on the part of his client, stating that his physical condition and advanced age were such that to serve the sentence would probably mean his death. Mrs. J. J. Patton and Max Rosendorf were ordered by the court to examine Sorensen and determine his physical status.

WILBUR SPRINGS SURPRISE

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock Wilbur appeared before Judge Gat