RAILROAD COMPANY WOULD PREVENT BOND SALE BY WARRENTON
S. P. & S. Seeks to Enjoin City From Building Public Dock and Pier Sites.

Suit was filed in the federal court today by the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railroad to prevent the city of Warrenton from proceeding with the sale of bonds totaling $350,000 for the construction of a public dock and to prevent the city from marketing another issue of $150,000 for the purchase of real estate for pier and wharf sites.

According to the complaint, the procedure followed by Mayor Wilson and the other municipal officials of Warrenton in passing the necessary ordinances and calling a special bond election was illegal. A further charge is made that the city of Warrenton is contemplating paying $150 an acre for land which it says is worth not more than $350 an acre, in which it is stated that there would be a waste of $100,000, if 100 acres were purchased for $150,000.

The reason the railroad company is filing suit, President W. F. Turner said today, is to prevent the completion of the two bond issues because it owns much property in Warrenton, claiming it would be unjustly taxed if the bonds are sold and the improvements completed.

The city council of Warrenton passed two ordinances providing for the bond issues October 2, 1919. On November 7, at a special election, the voters of Warrenton approved the issues.

The plaintiffs asked that a proposed sale of $150,000 of bonds to Morris Brothers of Portland be delayed until the litigation is settled and requests that the proposed purchase of the 100 acres of land for $150,000 from the D. K. Warren estate be delayed pending a decision of the court on the plaintiffs' complaint.

Eugene Fire Loss During Year Small; Mill Is Main Item
Eugene, Jan. 2.—Fire losses in this city during 1919 amounted to only $35,000, according to the annual report of William Nusbaum, fire chief. Of this loss, $25,000 was sustained by the Booth-Kelly Lumber company, when the South Willamette planing mill burned. It is estimated that 75 per cent of the loss was covered by insurance.

Eugene is to have an army store, according to the announcement of Mayor C. O. Peterson, who has made arrangements with Major Warren, formerly connected with a Fordland army store.

It is estimated that about $3000 worth of army supplies will be shipped here.

The estate of T. G. Hendricks, who died a few weeks ago, is valued at $415,000. His real estate holdings amounted to about $100,000.

A gang of robbers is operating in the city. During the past two weeks four houses have been entered during the absence of the families in the evening and only jewelry stolen.

"After Business—What?" Thirty cents, postpaid. Labor's war-stopper, C. A. Strickland, 323 Worcester building, Portland, Or.—Adv.
