STOCK MARKET IS EXTREMELY SENSITIVE

MOST ALL STOCKS MAKE LOW LEVELS IN STOCK MARKET

Poor Condition of Federal Banks and Court Decision Has Depressing Effect in Wall St.

By Broadan Wall

New York, Jan. 6.—Because of the low condition of the federal reserve banks and because of the super optimism of the trading public, there was a sharp reaction in the stock market Monday. The opening was strong with higher prices in many issues. This lasted for about 10 minutes. Then selling of Mexican Petroleum began on account of the earthquake and selling of steel began on account of the bad bank condition. By the time the money market opened with its renewal rate of 10 per cent the whole market was swinging downward.

Losses ranged from 1 to 7 points. The supreme court decision against 2.75 beer and the absence of a decision on stock dividends depressed the street. A wild rumor regarding President Wilson brought an upturn of a point and from that moment the market recovered. Most of the losses were made up, United States Rubber taking leadership with a new high record. Before the close, profit taking made its appearance and final prices were nearly all under those of last week. Money fell to 6 per cent late in the day, but that rate was not reassuring.

United States Rubber was the star performer of the day. It went early in the session to its previous high record price but reacted 4 points when the general list was weak. After it was known that the supreme court would not hand down a decision in the tax case this stock rose again to 143½. In the morning it was reported that there would be no rubber extra dividend at this time, but later report was that the board would meet Thursday and declare it.

Neither report is official.

Middle States Oil was moved up more than 5 points net on a report that the directors would declare a 20 per cent stock dividend on January 12. It had its advance and was one of the most popular trading stocks.

Sloss Sheffield was another stock to act well.

Sears Roebuck, Woolworth and Jewel Tea were higher. This is the natural result of annual reports being made by the companies. The profiteering indulged in by local stores in general is driving the people to these cheap stores and to mail order houses. The latter are prospering as never before.

Although money fell to 6 per cent in the afternoon, the street was not reassured for the condition of the reserve banks as a whole was never so bad as now. The conference to be held at Washington is looked forward to with the greatest of interest. Wall street hopes that some statement reassuring to the stock market may be given out. Wall street hopes that the conference will direct its attention more to speculation in stocks.

Reports received from Washington by brokers indicated that the conference committee on the railroad bills was getting everything easily except the question in which the roads can be returned to the owners. Most authorities maintain that it would be impossible to get together on these three points before March 1, and that the president would be compelled to issue a supplementary proclamation or let the roads go back without any relief at all. Either of these things would be material for bear traders in Wall street. That is why rails hesitated in the market.

New Baptist Pastor Arrives

The Rev. W. N. Ferris, for two years pastor of the First Baptist church of Ashland, came to Portland Saturday night to assume the pastorate of the Bethany Baptist church. Although he received the call two months ago Ferris was unable to take up his duties here until last Sunday. Until his household goods arrive from Ashland, Ferris is making his "parsonage" at the New Perkins.

STOCK MARKET TOPICS

Washington, Jan. 6.—Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, at a meeting of bankers held in Washington today, asked that unessential loans be discouraged and that federal reserve system be restored to the basis that authors intended it to be; that federal reserve bank should be kept in absolutely liquid condition, so as to furnish to business of the country a sound and elastic currency.

Harding also stated that the increase in discount rate is a contingency which should be reckoned with, and that under no circumstances could federal reserve board be hampered in its operation by special bank agreements with regard to federal reserve discount rate. The board is now in executive session to discuss what recommendations it should make.

American Beet Sugar Co. declared four quarterly dividends of 2 per cent on common.

Miami Copper quarterly dividend 50 cents.
