

RAID ON REDS IS DELICIOUS FOOD FOR POLITICIANS

Republican Congress is Content to Let Onus for Deportations Rest on Administration Forces.

By David Lawrence
(Copyright, 1920.)
Washington, Jan. 6.—Not everybody in the national capitol is disposed to look with satisfaction upon the dramatic roundup of hundreds of "Reds" by the department of justice. Insofar as the move shows the backbone of the Democratic administration and deprives its political opponents of the proprietary rights of the "Law and Order" issue, it is, of course, approved by the purely political. Insofar as the move affects adversely the chances of Mitchell Palmer to capture the Democratic nomination for the presidency, it meets with the approval of all the friends of the other candidates who seem to see in the action of the department of justice an excessive zeal to do by psychological impression in a big raid what the department might be unable to accomplish by individual prosecutions.

Under such circumstances the innocent are hauled in with the guilty. As much as the raid on the alien vote has been largely Democratic the prospect must be considered of nominating a man who has shown himself inimical to labor first by the sweeping approval coupled with occasional intimations of apprehensions which one hears as he seeks to get a fair impression here of the department of justice's enterprise.

Before congress, for instance, there are many unpassed bills relating to radicalism. The attorney general has renewed his request for legislation. Admittedly American citizens caught in the big roundup of "Reds" cannot be deported or prosecuted under existing federal law, unless shown to be in a conspiracy to use violence in overthrow of the government. Aliens can be deported only after a hearing. Their cases are not subject to review by federal courts, but are entirely within the discretion of the executive department. This placing of the burden of responsibility on any mistake made in deporting innocent persons squarely on the Democratic administration. Congress, which is Republican, shares none of it and thus far has not shown any disposition to help innocent citizens for doing the same things for which aliens residing in the United States are being deported.

RAIDS BRING SURPRISE

The purpose of the department of justice raid was to impress upon would-be revolutionists in the United States that the arm of the law would reach out and jail them or exile them from this country. Careful perusal of all the documents thus far adduced makes it a matter of speculation whether the advertising given the "Red" movement by means of the raid was not harmful in the sense that it causes what might otherwise have been an indifferent attitude toward doctrines plausibly presented in secret meetings and street corner orations.

TOO MUCH POWER

Senator Borah, who seems bent on being consistent, has announced his opposition to many measures aimed at radicalism. While he professes friendship for anarchists he argues that tolerant America ought not to place such sweeping powers of prosecution in the government department. His predictions of oppression of the innocent are friends who have been permitted to say in years gone by.

BERLIN PLANT CLOSES

Don't make U. S.—(U. P.)—The great Siemens manufacturing establishment, employing 30,000 people, was forced to close today because of the fuel shortage. Many other industrial plants were threatened.

MANAGER ACCUSED OF FAILING TO CUT 'IMPROPER' FILM

Motion Picture Board Censor Swears to Warrant for Arrest of Clarence Hill of Lasky Firm.

Mrs. E. B. Colwell, secretary of the Portland board of motion picture censors, this morning swore to a warrant for the arrest of Clarence Hill, manager of the Famous-Players-Lasky corporation, alleging that Hill failed to make eliminations ordered by the board in a picture entitled "The Thirteenth Commandment," showing at the Columbia theatre.

HILL TO FIGHT CASE

Hill declares that he will "see the thing through," now that it has become a matter for the court, maintaining that censorship, as practiced, is discriminatory and unfair to motion picture producers and exhibitors.

REPUBLICANS DELAY BILLS

So, while big business and conservative elements in both the Republican and Democratic parties will applaud Palmer for ignoring the sweeping approval coupled with occasional intimations of apprehensions which one hears as he seeks to get a fair impression here of the department of justice's enterprise.

PORTLAND GIRL VOTED PRETTIEST ON HONOLULU TRIP

Coincident With Government Crusade, County Grand Jury Begins Inquiry as to Aliens.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 6.—Decked with leis and bringing back a priceless ukelele as a memento of her trip to Hawaii, Mrs. Robert Thompson, formerly Miss Lucille Guthrie of Portland has arrived here on the Pacific Mail liner Venezuela from Honolulu.

Mrs. Thompson, accompanied by her husband, a San Francisco eye specialist, was voted the prettiest girl on the ship, after a spirited contest among the men passengers. Aside from her beauty and vivacity, Mrs. Thompson suggested and arranged a real Christmas tree with Santa Claus in the person of F. R. Hanlon of Seattle, for the 14 children on the big Pacific Mail boat.

INVASION CLAIMED UNJUST

"It was manifestly unjust to me," said Raleigh this morning, "that my program should be interrupted as it was last night. It cost me at least $500. Certainly we have no desire to project any pictures that are contrary to the morals or well-being of the community, and I appear rather a high handed situation that permit a person to come into our house and virtually close us up."

PITILESS AS STEEL

The name of Fritz Platten is little known to the world, yet officials here insist he is the ablest Bolshevik of them all. Born in Prussia 38 years ago, today he is a man of the keenest intellect, a man whose mind is described as functioning "like a piece of steel machinery, and just as pitilessly."

HOPE OF HUNS

On the other hand, should the condition of chaos, civil war and revolution be brought about in allied countries as

EIGHT ADDITIONAL MEN ARRESTED IN COMMUNIST RAID

Coincident With Government Crusade, County Grand Jury Begins Inquiry as to Aliens.

With eight more alleged members of the Communist Labor party under arrest, the Multnomah county grand jury today started upon an original investigation of the activities of the radical organization as it has taken root among many nationalities in Portland. District Attorney Walter Evans declares the jury will probe all phases of the party's work.

NEW ARRESTS MADE

Others drawn into the federal net by Portland police are: Robert E. Rice, American, 65 years old, arrested at 1111 East Washington street Monday afternoon; Harold and Jack Haynes, 27 and 23, respectively, arrested at 232 Madison street by Patrolmen Parker and Drennen and is held for the government.

POWER OF COMMISSION

There is doubt expressed by many lawyers as to the authority of the commission to issue sufficient bonds under that act to match not only the government funds now available, but those which will be available between now and the regular session of 1921. It is desired to amend the Bean-Barrett act that the authority to match government funds, dollar for dollar, if necessary, will be definitely and certainly given to the state highway commission. A bill providing for this is understood to be now in course of preparation and will be ready for introduction, with the other road measures when the session opens.

BILL BEING PREPARED

The indications are that this controversy will breed a legislative storm at the special session, just as it did at the 1919 session. There are those who contend that the companies can furnish the high gravity gasoline without loss or great inconvenience to them and that the oil manufacturers are trying to force the state to meet their demands without adequate cause. This is strenuously denied by the oil men.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Vancouver, Wash., Jan. 6.—Marriage licenses have been issued to the following couples: Frank L. Gustafson, 29, and Marie E. Warnack, 20, Portland; P. R. Bower, 25, and Anna Leuthold, 19, Portland; Alban D. Tracey, 25, and Rebecca J. Joyce, 25, Spokane; Simon Yuzec, 24, and Barbara Burtanaky, 22, Portland; H. E. Thomas, 23, Portland; and Amelia Farrington, 40, Eureka, Cal.; Hubert R. Zander, 22, and May Cummings, 21, Missoula, Mont.; Clair J. Heppenthal, 24, Portland, and Doris Adams, 18, Grants Pass, O.; Robert Jordan, 24, Portland, and Ethel M. Bennett, 21, Butte, Mont.

The Willamette river at Portland will remain nearly steady during the next two or three days, except as affected by the tide.

LEGISLATORS TO TAKE UP STATE ROAD WORK

The session has been convened and cleared for action. It is expected that the bill will be confined as closely as possible to the mere authorization of the bonds, without going into the details of designated roads and general working arrangements contained in the $10,000,000 bonding bill of the 1919 session. It is the desire, in other words, to frame a new measure more in the nature of an amendment of the existing law, as to the amount of bonds authorized by it, than in the nature of an extension or modification of the present highway program.

SOME CHANGES WANTED

But in spite of this there are rumors in charge of the bill, that the state, not himself or the German chief of staff Ludendorff, went to Lenin and Trotsky and arranged with them for their return to Russia.

GERMANY IS GATEWAY

There was but one way for that revolutionists to gain Russia, and that way lay across warping Germany. Nevertheless the two Russian patriots were given a special train and all that could be provided for the comfort of the most honored guests, ample protection and a quick passage from their hiding places in Switzerland. This trio, backed by Dr. Albert of German espionage in America and various other groups continued today, outlining campaign plans.

A Bundle of Habits

From birth our lives are largely given to the acquisition of habits

Many habits must displace others previously formed.

Commercially we form most of our living habits from 20 to 40. During these years each generation decides for itself on material things.

The habit of the last generation of the Saturday-night bath is displaced evidently, for the modern hotel advertises every room with bath.

Perhaps the bathroom fixture people did not bring this change about—but they profit by it enormously.

Sunkist wants us all to form the habit of using more lemon products the year round.

If they can form a new habit or strengthen an old one they will sell more train loads of lemons.

What does habit do for or against your business? Advertising can change habits.
