

CLUB CALENDAR WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7

THE Annual program for Portland Heights club has been announced and promises a number of events which will be of interest to the community.

Miss Hazel Wieden and Miss Mary Swalla were chosen for a watch party at the home of the latter Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Juzas became the bride of L. Colvig Chausse at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Chausse, 489 Marguerite avenue, on New Year's eve.

Arrangements have been completed by the Knights of Columbus for an informal dancing party in the Multnomah hotel on Friday evening.

The marriage of Mrs. Elsie Fisher and Paul Lendershausen was an event of January 1 in Dayton, Or., the Rev. Milton Marcy officiating.

Mrs. Jay Smith and her daughter, Mrs. Curtis Bailey, have sent out cards for a tea to be given on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Smith in honor of Mrs. Meredith Bailey Sr., who has come to Portland from Philadelphia to make her home.

Miss Theodora Creason and Glenn Williams were married at the home of Professor Means in Dayton, Or., January 1.

The Alaska society of Oregon will meet Monday evening, January 12, at the Hotel Imperial.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Baxter entertained with a dinner of 10 covers at their home in Seattle, honoring their daughter, Mrs. Fremont O'Dwining, who makes her home at the Portland hotel in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cobb Boyd announce the birth of a daughter, born December 20. The little one has been named Josephine Louise.

The Junior league announces the resumption this week of the Friday morning lectures at the First Presbyterian church house.

Arrangements have been made whereby the weekly programs of the Literary Digest "Topics of the Day" will be printed in raised type in the Ziegler Magazine for the Blind.

ARMAND COMPLEXION POWDER. In the LITTLE PINK & WHITE BOXES. ARMAND speaks for itself! That's why instead of telling you about it—we ask you to try it once for yourself.

Clubs, Society and Features

Sheridan Holds His Own With Moderns. WHEN one wearies of present-day problem plays, whose worn-out themes have been revamped, revised and renovated until nothing is left to do but add salacious lines and ever-broader allusions to hold up the interests, it is delightful to dip into the past and discover that the things our ancestors laughed about and wept over are just as real and human as the things we try to enjoy under the "modern" label.

Clifford Devereaux and his company, who are presenting the old-fashioned comedies at the Auditorium this week, delighted an audience Monday night in the famous "School for Scandal."

How the gossips and scandal-mongers undertake to wreck the young life of Lady Teazle (Zinia Graf) by framing a situation in which her husband (Clifford Devereaux) is to discover her and how the younger brother of the chief conspirator is to be bowled over by the same blow is a well known dramatic situation.

Miss Lazzari arrived in Portland this morning from Seattle, where she sang Monday night and scored a tremendous triumph. Miss Lois Steers, who returned from Seattle this morning, states that the concert was one of the most brilliant ever given in the Pacific Northwest.

WHAT unless the police have nabbed him before this, there is one fellow in town who is driving an automobile carrying the familiar old green 1917 automobile license tags.

That there's a "church" down by the Burnside street bridge. That a large electric sign flashes on the roof.

That meetings are held in the "church" every evening. That they are all well attended.

That it doesn't make any difference whether your line is soap or salvation. That this reminds us.

That if God is next to Godliness, a lot of fellows are past redemption. That smoky smiles is at the top of the "column" again today.

That Jesse Rich is the reason. That he's a Rich one all right. That one of our gold fish has "gone west."

That we might appropriately say, the "Golden West." That during a 44 minute stroll this morning we counted 48 automobiles with 1919 tags.

That we didn't see a cop stop one of them. That there doesn't seem to be any rush any more at the army store.

That most of the tattered flags are down. That Mexico has been rocked by a severe quake.

That it would take more than a severe earthquake to rock it to sleep. "Grumpy" the character play which Cyril Maude made one of the most well known in America and England, has been purchased for film translation by the Robertson-Cole company.

Mr. Weasel dropped Mr. Song Sparrow and started to run away. about him, dozens of them. "Tell me, where do you live, Mr. Song Sparrow?" said Tinker Bob.

Grade Teachers Bring Cheer To Sick. By Vella Winner. PROBABLY no other organization of busy women is doing finer and more systematic patriotic work than the Grade Teachers' association.

On New Year's morning members of the committee accompanied Lowell Patton, well known Portland musician, who was home from his concert tour for the holidays, on a visit to the Pierce Sanitarium on Terwilliger boulevard.

Later in the day the service men in St. Vincent and Good Samaritan hospitals were visited by Miss Ortschild and the Misses Dowd with the bag of fruit.

Central W. C. T. U. will meet in Central library at 2 p. m. Wednesday. A special program, with Mrs. F. M. Diamond in charge, is to be rendered.

W. A. M. Smith, manager of the Seattle territory, and W. H. Silliman, J. A. Peterson and M. A. Tenney of the same firm, are at the Portland to attend a meeting of insurance men.

Edward S. Hough, designer of the ship which was the first model of woodcraft adopted by the Emergency Fleet corporation, is at the Multnomah from San Francisco.

H. Baldwin, cashier of the First National Bank of Prineville, is at the Imperial. He is here with a load of stock for Portland markets.

Cary W. Foster, rancher and stock raiser of Prineville, is at the Imperial. Foster brought a large shipment of stock with him.

Oscar Bolderman and wife of San Francisco are at the Portland. Bolderman is the manager of a large wholesale candy firm there.

A. S. Shockey, mining man and banker of Baker, and wife are at the Imperial.

A. T. Cook, San Francisco representative of the Towle Syrup company, registered at the Benson Monday.

Dr. E. T. Fates, physician of Astoria, is among the Benson guests.

D. S. R. Walker, timber man of Eugene, registered at the New Perkins.

J. B. Milholland, prominent bond broker of Spokane, is at the Benson.

MORRIS Supreme Marigold. The flavor of Supreme Marigold Oleomargarine makes good bread better. Like all Morris Supreme foods, it's delicious. Request the kind with the yellow and black label.

SOCIAL CALENDAR WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7

Eddie Foy Has Clever Kids at Pantages. THAT Eddie Foy's kids are fast improving under the "old man's" tutelage is happily demonstrated at the Pantages this week.

The number of Bozo Archer and Blanche Belford, "The New Jangler," is a scream. Arrayed as a tramp, reminiscent of Joe Jackson of bicycle fame.

Hyman Meyer starts off good in his pianologue and comedian number, in breezy chatter. The Patrows present a dazzling stage setting in their pleasing novelty act of strong arm stunts and poses.

"His Naughty Wife," a Fox sunshine comedy, furnishes a number of laughs in this week's bill.

A large attendance Saturday afternoon evening was present at the special sessions of Washington chapter, Royal Arch Masons. Dinner was served at 6:30 and degree work continued.

The following officers have been elected by Hassalo lodge, I. O. O. F. R. A. Clark, noble grand; E. H. Shibley, R. A. Clark, noble grand; H. M. Beckwith, financial secretary; J. P. Coxton, recording secretary; Charles A. Reed, treasurer; F. W. Stewart, L. Quimby, John L. Davenport, trustees.

The opening of Cherry's department of clothes for boys has meant a great saving and convenience for parents, and a delight to the youngsters who like our snappy, stylish clothes with the manly cut.

Best of all, Cherry clothes for boys have the good, sound wearing quality which means true economy. They are made to stand the usage a healthy youngster gives them.

And dad, who pays the bills, likes the convenient Cherry plan of only a few dollars cash and a few dollars monthly. It helps to solve the living problem.
