

Mrs. Albert Is Inspiration for Much Festivity

MRS. JANE BURNS ALBERT has been the inspiration for much festivity since the announcement was made of her departure for New York to continue her studies. Mrs. Albert will leave Monday evening for the East. During the week Mrs. George Wilber Reed asked a few close friends in for tea hours on Tuesday in her honor. On Wednesday Miss Marie Helen Flynn presided over an informal tea at her apartments in the Multnomah hotel for Mrs. Albert. On Friday Mrs. Maurice W. Seitz was hostess for an informal luncheon of seven covers at the Betty Lampe tea house, and on Saturday Mrs. Lulu Dahl Miller was hostess for a large tea at her home in East Ash street. This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. George Hotchkiss Street will be at home to their friends and to those of Mrs. Albert in their studio in the Elfers building.

More than 150 friends of the guest of honor called during the tea hours to bid her adieu at the home of Mrs. Miller on Saturday. For the first hour Mrs. Warren E. Thomas and Mrs. Blaine R. Smith presided at the tea. Mrs. Paul Petrie and Mrs. Maurice W. Seitz presided during the later afternoon. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Donald Spencer, Mrs. Maurice H. Barnes, Mrs. Joseph P. Mulder, Mrs. Laura Cox, Miss Lorna King, Miss Helen Honeyman, Miss Frances Turner, Miss Dorothy Adams, Miss Adelaide Carlson, Miss Frances Cummings and Miss Lillian Holman.

Portland friends will be interested to know that Miss Imogene Seton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Seton, who is a student at the University of Washington, was elected to membership in Pi Lambda Theta, the educational honor society. Miss Seton is one of the five chosen from the 5000 women students at the school. Prior to the Christmas holidays which she spent in Portland with her parents, Miss Seton was chosen as the leading woman in the play to be given on February 12 by the "Masque and Quill" the college chapter of the national dramatic society. Miss Seton is a former student of Reed college and was active in Portland in work at the Little Theatre under the drama league. She is now a senior at the University of Washington.

The Women's Afternoon Card club will meet at Laurelhurst clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. Mrs. W. S. Stone and Mrs. Mason E. Starnard will be hostesses for the event. On Thursday evening, the club members will hold their regular dancing party. At the card party given on Thursday evening at the clubhouse, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ballard were hosts for the occasion. Those taking honors at "500" were Mrs. T. J. Brandt and W. W. Graves. In bridge, winners were Mrs. J. D. Beontje and H. R. Landfare.

Mrs. Chester G. Murphy presided over a delightful luncheon on Tuesday afternoon at the Waverley country club, honoring Mrs. Josephine Andrews, who recently returned to the city. Guests for the occasion included Mrs. Antoine G. Labbe, Mrs. D. W. L. Macgregor, Mrs. Ferdinand C. Smith, Mrs. Lee Hawley Hoffman, Mrs. David Taylor Honeyman, Mrs. Frederick L. Warren, Mrs. C. H. Davis Jr., Mrs. Greenville Vernon, Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot and the guest of honor.

Of wide interest was the announcement made on Tuesday of the engagement of Miss Esther Tucker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Tucker, to Robert Livingstone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingstone. At the same time the news was told of the engage-

Charming Party Is Given Monday By Mrs. Baker

MRS. W. C. BAKER was hostess for a delightful party at her attractive home in Piedmont on Monday afternoon, honoring her little niece, Ann Lorraine MacDougall, in celebration of her fifth birthday anniversary. The rooms were decked in evergreens with pink poinsettias and varicolored electric lights. Games and music furnished diversion for the kiddies and a birthday feast with a glowing cake was served at a handsomely appointed table. Guests for the occasion included Virginia Fairfax, Barbara Harris, La Dora Jones, Margaret Louise Mills, Brenda Ruth Rohrbach, Janet Maurine Calavan, Charlotte Ashby and the little guest of honor. The kiddies were accompanied by their mothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Winslow of Tacoma were guests in the city during the week and stopped at the Multnomah hotel. On Wednesday evening they were dinner hosts, entertaining Leon M. Livingstone and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bethel. On Thursday, Mrs. Charles Bliss Preston presided at a luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Winslow. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gill also entertained the visitors.

The marriage of Miss Alice Cason and George Spaulding was an event of New Year's day at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Guy C. Wakefield, 1221 East Thirtieth street north, at 1 o'clock. The service was read under a canopy of greens, intermingled with lavender tulle.

The color scheme of pink and lavender was carried out with large bouquets of carnations tied with lavender tulle. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Miss Alice Gohlke, who sang a bridal hymn, preceding and immediately following the ceremony. Miss Flora Wakefield gave a reading appropriate to the occasion. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold H. Geiffa of the First Christian church. Following the ceremony a wedding collation was served. Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding will reside in Portland.

Mrs. Edwin Seely Parsons, who spent the holidays with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Metcalf (Dorothy Parsons), in Danville, Ky., has returned to the city. Mrs. Parsons was hostess for an informal dinner party at the Portland hotel on Tuesday evening, honoring Mrs. Maurice Brown (Ellen Van Volkenburg), who appeared in "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire" at the Little theatre on that evening. Seated about the table for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Dent Mowrey and Miss Gladys Bowen.

Miss Mildred Cronk was host for a delightful New Year's party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cronk in honor of Miss Margaret Standish, who was a holiday visitor in Portland. Games and dancing furnished diversion for the occasion and a buffet supper was served. Guests for the evening included Miss Marvel Murphy, Miss Hazel Goldenberg, Miss Mildred Cronk, Miss Standish, Messrs. Frederick W. Goldenberg, Roland McPherson, Thomas Irvine and Asher Winkler.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson Halstead (Katherine MacMaster), who have been holiday guests at the home of Halstead's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster at Ardour, left for California on Saturday evening.

Illinois Society Plans Meeting Next Tuesday

TUESDAY evening at 8 o'clock the Illinois Society of Oregon will hold its first meeting of the new year at the assembly room of the Portland hotel. Every Illinoisan is urged to attend and make this meeting as successful as former ones.

Willard A. Elliott, "the bird man," will give an illustrated talk on feathered friends. Mr. Elliott entertained the boys of the A. E. F. with similar talks and this will be a delightful feature of the evening.

Miss Helen Nora Green will be heard in readings which will conclude the fore part of the evening program. There will be special music for dancing and tables for cards.

Miss Rhoda Rumelin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rumelin, will leave Portland this evening for New York to spend a few weeks. Miss Rumelin will visit for a short time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton W. Betts (Ruth Teal) in Buffalo, N. Y., and will later go on to New York city.

Klose Illahe club, social department of Rose of Sharon L. O. L., gave a delightful watch party New Year's eve in the auditorium hall. About 200 were present. Dancing and "500" were the chief features of the evening until about 11 o'clock, when a splendid program was given and supper was served.

Members of the younger set are anticipating the Hill Military academy dance that was postponed just before Christmas on account of the snow storm, and are looking forward to much pleasure on January 24, when the party will be held. It will be a formal military hop, with the officers, faculty and cadets as hosts. Receiving with President and Mrs. Joseph A. Hill will be the patronesses, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Mrs. James B. Montgomery, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Henry C. Cabell, Mrs. J. W. Hill, Mrs. F. C. Malpas, Mrs. A. E. Rocky and Mrs. W. H. C. Bowen.

A new arrival at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Gibbon of Spokane was Harlow Lee Gibbon Jr., who was welcomed by the Gibbons in Spokane on January 6. The baby's mother will be remembered as Miss Nell Bayley, one of the popular girls of Portland. Mrs. A. Bayley is the happy grandmother of Harlow Lee Jr. Cards and dainty gifts are being sent by loving friends here to greet the tiny lad in Spokane.

The trustees and regents of Reed college were entertained at dinner at the college on Thursday evening. Covers were placed for nine at a handsomely appointed table. The number of officers includes Dr. Thomas M. Elliot, William M. Ladd, James E. Kerr, Judge Charles E. Wolverton, William P. Olds, Dr. Robert L. Sabin, Albert E. Doyle, E. B. McNaughton, Forrest S. Fisher, Mrs. Elliot R. Corbett and Dr. Lawrence Selling.
