MARKET IN MAIN STAYS STRONG
STOCKS TAKE BIG BRACE; SCRAMBLE TO COVER SHORTS
Sterling Exchange Weak and Marks Drop to Another New Low Level of 1.27 Cents.

By Broadman Wall.
New York, Jan. 24.—With the exception of the motor shares the stock market was strong today. The strength was caused chiefly by announcement of the trebling of common stock of the Crucible Steel company. Crucible advanced 1 1/2 points and there was a great surging of shorts to cover in other steel shares.

By Broadman Wall.
New York, Jan. 24.—While it seems to be generally admitted in speculative circles that the January rise was blocked by high money rates and scarcity of funds, there is a strong feeling in speculative markets that to a great extent the broadening of the market was due to the mean anything. But sentiment has turned against the auto stocks because of the large capital increase of General Motors. Even the rise of the company's stock has not been sufficient to maintain the price of the entire new issue at the level enjoyed by the present issue.

New York—Much general talk in street after close Saturday to indicate that although strain in money has not been relaxed and that it was absolutely necessary that the Federal Reserve increase discount rates the situation is stronger than those not thoroughly informed can comprehend.
