

Opera Singers Are Recipients Of Courtesies

THE past week's program of hospital-ity offered by the members of the faculty of Ellison-White conservatory included a number of interesting informal social courtesies planned for the pleasure of the eminent singers of the San Carlo Grand Opera company, who were in Portland for a few days. On Tuesday, J. R. Ellison had as his guest at the Rotary luncheon Vincente Bal-letto, baritone, who appeared in "Rigo-letto," and also Harold Hurlbut.

Tuesday evening the faculty gave a dinner in honor of Miss Marcelle Craft. Those present included Miss Craft, Mme. Helen Stanley of the Chicago Grand Opera association; her husband, Lou-Don Charlton, the well known New York manager of Fremstad and other artists; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ellison, C. M. White, Mr. and Mrs. David Beasley Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hurlbut, Mr. and Mrs. George Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilber Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hurlbut gave a highway party and tea Wednesday afternoon, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Salazar and Mr. and Mrs. Vincente Bal-letto.

Thursday afternoon, in the conserva-tory, an informal reception was held for the singers of the San Carlo Opera com-pany and the friends of the opera organiza-tion.

The women of St. Francis parish will give a card party at Parish hall, on East Eleventh and Pine streets, on Wed-nesday evening, to which all members of other parishes in the city are invited. Following cards a social evening for the young people will be enjoyed. A door prize of $5 will be given besides prizes to winners at cards. The com-mittee in charge of arrangements for the event includes Mrs. J. C. Walsh, Mrs. M. Fisch, Mrs. Ladd Fisher, Mrs. T. B. Nelson, Mrs. Carl Herbering and Mrs. N. J. Fennell.

Miss Cornelia Cook will leave on Tuesday evening for California, where she will be the guest of Mrs. James O. Gaud and Miss Isabella Gaud at Santa Barbara for a short time. Early in February she will be joined by her mother, Mrs. James W. Cook, and will sail on February 20 from San Fran-cisco for the Orient. Mrs. Cook and her daughter will be accompanied by Mrs. Mary Scarborough Napier, and the party will be absent from the States until the summer.

Monday evening, Over the Top aux-iliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held an interesting meeting in its room, 25 courthouse, when 10 new members were added to this thriving club. After a short business session the comrades of Over the Top post No. 81 were in- vited to take part in a community sing conducted by Mrs. Mabel Renshaw. Im- mediately following the entertainment refreshments were served.

Dr. K. A. J. MacKenzie presided over a dinner on Thursday evening preceding the performance of "The Master of Bal- lantyne" with Walker Whitehead in the lead, at the Hellig theatre. The party included Mr. and Mrs. William D. Wheel- wright, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler, Miss Jean MacKenzie and August Berg.

Mrs. Finley Is Honored on Eve Of Departure

MRS. WILLIAM L. FINLEY has been the guest of honor at a num- ber of social functions planned for her pleasure by her friends during the past two weeks prior to her departure on Wednesday for the East with her hus- band. Mrs. Finley will give a number of lectures on the bird life of Oregon before Smithsonian Institution and other schools in the East. One of the important func- tions of the past week planned for the Portland matron was a tea for which Mrs. H. B. Van Duzer was hostess at her home on Jackson street on Tuesday. A group of the close friends of Mrs. Finley called during the tea hours. Pre- siding at the tea table for the occasion were Mrs. Harry Beal Torrey, Mrs. Ed- ward Kingsley, Mrs. Jay Smith and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Fin- ley will be absent from the city a num- ber of months.

The Young Peoples' society of St. Stephens Pro-Cathedral served supper to the new members and friends in the parish house last Sunday evening. About 40 young people sat down to tables that were loaded with good things to eat. The supper was followed by the regular meeting, at which Miss Edna Moore pre- sided, and to make everyone feel more at home, the chairs were arranged in a large family circle. Community sing- ing was a feature of the evening and the old parish house resounded to the strains of the beautiful old hymns as never before. Dean Hicks was the prin- cipal speaker of the evening and his stir- ring address on "The Objects and Aims of the Society" was an inspiration to all. He was followed by W. A. Moore, who spoke on "The Need for Closer Co- operation With Other Bodies of the Church," and Goodrich Hayes, who gave a talk in welcoming the new mem- bers and friends, which received a re- sponse from Mr. Travis. Then followed 15 minutes for a social gathering to get better acquainted, then the dean pronounced the benediction, thus bring- ing a delightful evening to a close.

Mrs. J. C. Costello presided over a delightful luncheon on Friday at her home in Irvington honoring Mrs. Oliver of Chicago who was before her marriage Miss Katherine Ridgely of this city. Mrs. Oliver is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. James Clarkson for a short time. Valentine favors decked the table for the occasion with a centerpiece of crimson carnations. Guests for the affair included Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Clark- son, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Charles Aber- crombie, Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. J. D. Leon- ard, Mrs. Charles L. Boss and Mrs. Thomas M. Joyce.

All arrangements have been com- pleted for a social to be given by the Improvement club of Blessed Sacrament parish Tuesday evening at Hibernian hall. Good music will be furnished for the evening and for those desiring to play cards, a special room will be re- served.

Mrs. Ottorino Donnatella Ronchi of San Francisco, who has been a visitor in the city at the home of Mrs. J. G. Mack for a short time, has returned to her home in the South. During her stay in the city Mrs. Ronchi was much enter- tained.

Receptions Are To Be Given at Reed College

OF UNUSUAL interest is the an- nouncement that a series of recep- tions will be given during the next three weeks at Reed college for which the wives of the professors, the women of the faculty, the wives of the regents and the undergraduates will be hosts. These functions will be open to all friends of the college throughout the city and will offer an opportunity to persons who have not become acquaint- ed with the college to visit the library, the memorial chapel, the laboratories and gymnasiums of the institution. Special features of interest will be offered for the entertainment of guests in dif- ferent departments of the school. The first reception of the series will be given on the afternoon of February 11, similar functions to be events of Feb- ruary 18 and March 3. The hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Cars bringing visitors to the school will be met by motors to facilitate transportation. Those who have been asked to pre- side at the tea tables for the first reception include Mrs. William T. Foster, Mrs. T. L. Elliot, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Mrs. W. B. Ayer. The receiving line will include Mrs. Lawrence Selling, Mrs. James B. Kerr, Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Mrs. A. A. Knowlton, Mrs. William Conger Morgan, Mrs. Harry Beal Torrey, Dr. Bertha Stuart Dymont, Miss Bertha Young and Miss Compton.

Miss Mabel Myers became the bride of Henry Sorenson on January 21 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Myers, in East Twenty- second street. The Rev. Mr. Ineson performed the ceremony. Mrs. Ella B. Jones played the bridal music for the ceremony. Pink carnations with Tube roses and ferns were used about the rooms for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson will make their home in White Salmon, Wash.

Winslow Meade circle No. 7, Ladies of the G. A. R., will hold its regular business meeting on Monday at 1:30 o'clock in room 520 courthouse instead of room 525, owing to the work of re- pair now going on in the clubroom.

Of unusual interest in musical circles of the city is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Marian Elizabeth Ashby to Robert Louis Barron of this city. Miss Ashby, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Ashby, is one of Portland's charming young singers, and has been studying for some time with John Claire Monthelt. She was gradu- ated from Jefferson high school, and has made a wide circle of friends in the city. Mr. Barron is the son of Mrs. Mary L. Barron of Portland. He is widely known in Portland and in Oregon as a violinist of unusual attainments. During the past year he was a director of the viola department of the University of Oregon and con- ductor of the violin symphony of that institution. He was graduated from the Sherwood School of Music in Chi- cago, and was for five years a member of the faculty of that school. He is now an active member of the Portland symphony orchestra, and has his own studio in the city. No definite announce- ment has been made of the date for the wedding, but it will probably be an event of the early spring.

Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Schreiner of Se- attle announce the engagement of their daughter, Gertrude Mary, to Samuel J. Robinson, formerly of Portland.

Miss Schreiner was graduated from the Forest Ridge academy and the Uni- versity of Washington and during her last year at the university edited the Tye. She is a member of the Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism so- ciety. Miss Schreiner spent several years abroad, two of which were spent in study at Munich. She is an expert tennis player and has played in most of the coast tournaments the last couple of years.

Mr. Robinson attended the University of Oregon and is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. During the war he was in the United States aviation service, receiving his training at Riverside, Cal. The wedding will take place in early spring.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Linn and David R. Erwin was quietly so- lemnized Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Erwin, the Rev. W. T. McKelven officiating. The bride is a former resident of Honolulu and made a brief visit to Seattle some three years ago. Since that time Mr. Erwin, who is a special writer for the Seattle Times, has been in service overseas for two years. The bride arrived in San Francisco Wednesday from the islands and met Mr. Erwin in Portland Saturday.

Mrs. F. A. Greatwood left Portland last week for the East and will go abroad to visit relatives in England. Mrs. Greatwood accompanied her son, Lieutenant Hugh E. Greatwood, who has been a visitor in the city on leave from India, where he is in service with the British army.

Mrs. Erle V. Hauser and her daugh- ter, Mrs. William T. Farley of St. Paul, were guests of honor on Saturday after- noon at an informal tea for which Mrs. Coe A. McKenna was hostess.

Mrs. Nora E. Hagen and daughter, Lula Love, returned from Pendleton, accompanied by Miss Ruth Searcy, who will be the house guest of Miss Hagen for a couple of weeks.

Drama League To Offer Third Program Feb. 19

THE Drama league announces its third program of one-act plays to be presented at the Little Theatre February 19, instead of February 20, as originally announced.

This series of plays is being directed by Miss Gwladys Boyen, who has se- lected for her program Sir J. M. Bar- rie's ever delightful comedy, "The Twelve Pound Look," "The Campden Wonder," by John Masefield, which will be the tragedy of the evening, and is founded on an historical legend of Glou- cestershire, England, and "Gretna Green," a most delicate eighteenth century episode by Constance D'Arcy Mac- kaye.

The keenest sort of rivalry is felt that each succeeding series of one-act plays may equal the last and the casts of these plays are working wholeheartedly. Those taking part include Marian Voor- hies, Sarah Sablin, Lenore Thomas, Mrs. Richard Case, Robert MacGill, George O'Neil, David Lloyd Stearns, Forrest Carter and Andrew Mace.

Miss G. Louise Slocumb, who recently came to Portland from the East, has re- turned from a month's visit at the Ray- mond hotel in Pasadena, where she was joined by her brother, Joseph P. Slo- comb, a sports writer at Harvard col- lege. Mr. Slocumb came West traveling with the Harvard team. He is better known by his pen name of "Billy Blue," and at the present time is registered at the Multnomah hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Silverstein have just returned from an extended motor trip through Southern California. While in Hollywood they were the guests at the home of Jesse Laskey, vice president of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, who is a cousin of Mr. Silverstein.

Mrs. William T. Foster presided over a tea at Reed college Friday afternoon, January 24, honoring the women of the faculty. George Warner, a student at Reed, who has recently returned from Y. M. C. A. service in India, spoke briefly on his experience.

The marriage of Miss Fannie Gettle- man and Nathan V. Sanford, which was to have been an event of Wednesday, at the Portland hotel, was postponed on account of the illness of the bride's mother.

Mrs. M. E. Farley left on Friday even- ing for Southern California. She will make her home for the next two months in the South, but will return to Port- land for the summer.
