

ENGLAND ASSUMES BETTER ATTITUDE TOWARDS SOVIETS

Conservative Opinion Aligns Itself With Progressives; Soviet Principles Not Brutal.

By Edward Price Bell
Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.
(Copyright, 1920, by Chicago Daily News Co.)
London, England, Feb. 12.—In a cable sent November 6 I pointed out the gradual consolidation of British progressive opinion against further warfare of any description with soviet Russia. Much conservative opinion is aligning itself with the progressives. J. L. Garvin, editor of the Observer, for example, demands peace with Russia in order that Europe may have the peace it so sorely needs.

NORTHCLIFFE DISSENTS

Lord Northcliffe continues to combat the idea of any relationship with the soviet government and is throwing the whole strength of his newspapers into the fight Winston Spencer Churchill among the statesmen in the hope that line and seems to have the support of the chiefs of the army and the navy. Just what these gentlemen want is not clear. Even the boldest of them hardly would advise a great war against the soviet. They cannot be blind to the fact that such a policy would be repudiated by the overwhelming mass of British citizens with organized labor at their head. It is asked on every hand today: "Is the coalition government breaking up? Is it hopelessly at loggerheads?" And the answer commonly returned is: "No, this effect." If Prime Minister Lloyd George's official family is harmonious within it certainly shows amazing signs without. The fact appears to be that Lloyd George himself has been favorable for months to seeking peace with Russia but has feared to make a definite move lest his government go to pieces. It is also probable that he shrank from the concentrated fire of the Northcliffe papers. In a well informed quarter this morning I was told:

PLAYS BIG BLUFF

"Though it is only conjecture, I think that Winston Spencer Churchill, General Wilson and Admiral Beatty and the rest have had a shot at bluffing. They raised a roar over the sudden wide spreading of the Bolshevik peril and did their best to make the flesh of the nation creep. Then they rush in a body to Paris seemingly in the hope that they would sweep Premier Lloyd George and the supreme council off their feet. Their scheme, if this be an accurate description of it, seems to have proved a fiasco all around. They did not stampede anyone on either side of the channel."

The average person here is coming to the view that revolution in Russia, however bloody and atrocious may have been its methods in the past, is now disposed to stop slaughtering and try to construct a civilized state. Level-headed observers believe that if the Russian people can find the means of a tolerable life within their own borders they will have little inclination to venture upon bloody enterprises outside. Such observers also think that it would be possible by denying Russia peace to drive her into what she would regard as a holy crusade against her enemies.

SWISS WOULD REWRITE PEACE TREATY BEFORE ENTERING THE LEAGUE

Executive Says Neutrality Must Be Preserved and Country Would Not Fight With Allies.

By Leo Frankenthal
Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.
(Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

Bern, Switzerland, Feb. 12.—Giuseppe Motta, president of Switzerland, has made a long declaration before the Swiss congress explaining the attitude of the executive council concerning the question of Switzerland's entrance into the League of Nations and the diplomatic action already taken. His statement confirmed my cable sent January 13.

"The neutrality demanded by Switzerland," said President Motta, "means military neutrality with the following consequences: First, Switzerland will not participate in any war—not even the wars designated under Article XVI of the covenant of the League of Nations. Second, Swiss territory remains inviolate and Switzerland is ready to make any sacrifice that may be necessary to defend such inviolability. Switzerland cannot suffer the passage of troops through or any military preparations on its territory. If any doubt arises concerning the purport and significance of Switzerland's military neutrality her people would rightfully be quieted and irrespective of language or race would refuse to exchange their traditional neutrality for a neutrality which is new, unsettled and imperfect. Competence to settle various Swiss contentions has been removed from the conference of ambassadors to the council of the League of Nations, which is expected to meet in London February 11. Provided the United States has not acted upon the question of joining the league by that time Switzerland's adherence will not be declared without calling an extra session of the Swiss parliament to pass upon the matter.

to buy at former reduced prices than will prevail on the new stock when it arrives. Owing to considerable rise in the cost of factories for material, workmanship, and owing to coal shortage, eastern factories were closed down for several months. Consequently prices will go much higher on all new shipments.

SCIENTIFIC BAKING

Our bread is baked by scientific rule, not guesswork. The full time required to bake properly each "batch" is exactly calculated—bread baked too quickly is not good. Our new mammoth automatic traveling oven bakes 4000 loaves an hour. This oven is the only one of its kind in the Northwest. The bread enters one end, travels slowly the length of the oven, and comes out at the other end, baked just right.
