TODAY'S FORECASTS

Portland and vicinity—Tonight and Saturday fair, northerly winds. Oregon—Tonight and Saturday, fair north west portion; probably rain or snow south west and east portions; colder tonight east portion; moderate northerly winds. Washington—Tonight and Saturday fair; cooler tonight east portion; fresh northerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The season is moderately low all the coast of California and also off the New England coast. The remainder of the country is covered by two great high pressure areas, one central in the lower Mississippi valley and the other in the southern Alaska. Except for light precipitation in a few western sections the weather has been mainly fair. The temperature is somewhat lower east of the Mississippi and in parts of the southern provinces and is generally higher over the remainder of the country, the rise having been greatest here. It is now about normal in most of the Pacific and Rocky mountain states and below normal elsewhere. The temperature trend from Minnesota to New York.

Men's Resort Concert—A concert will be given at the Men's Resort Saturday at 8 p. m., for the benefit of Hillcookburn, the Men's Resort farm. The Yvonne concert trio, composed of Mrs. Annie Lord Hinson, pianist; Mrs. Margarette Owens, violinist and Mrs. A. W. Claxton, soprano, will give musical numbers. Other singers will be Lillian Batesman, Mrs. Klein, Mrs. Etta Morse, Ella Hoberg, Fred J. Desmond. Pictures of Hillcookburn will be shown and explained by the Rev. Levi Johnson.

Forest Fire Reports—All forest fires will be reported by lookouts direct to the supervising office rather than to the ranger station this summer, according to a new arrangement decided upon at the meeting of supervisors at Baker, so as to facilitate fire fighting work. Men attending the meeting from the Portland office of the forest service, returned this morning. They are: W. B. Osborne Jr., A. O. Waha, M. L. Merritt, Fern Talbot, E. N. Kavanagh, Adam Wright.

Accused of Assault and Robbery—Herbert Orwig was arrested Thursday on a warrant charging assault and robbery of Charles P. Stuart, 306 1/2 First street, last June. Bail was set at $200 pending preliminary hearing in the municipal court. Stuart alleges that Orwig and a companion named Glen Bailey accompanied him to a room in the United States hotel, where he was held and forcibly robbed of $35.

Burke Held to Grand Jury—Bartholomew Burke, an employee of the P. R. L. & P. Co. at the Piedmont car barns, was held for grand jury investigation by Judge Rossmann in the municipal court Thursday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Bail was set at $1000. Burke was arrested on complaint of Mrs. G. W. Toberin. The name of 7-year-old girl is mentioned in the complaint against Burke.

Fined for Stealing Wood—P. Peterson was fined $25 by Judge Rossmann Thursday on a charge of larceny, following complaint of W. E. Janssen, 501 East Folk street, who accused Peterson of stealing wood from the latter's woodyard near the plant of the St. Johns Co-opeage company. The court remitted $10 of the fine. Olei Akeson and A. Lecluse, arrested at the same time on a similar charge, were both released.

Alleged Traffic Violators Released—Out of 52 alleged violators arrested Wednesday by the police, 27 escaped penalty in the municipal court.

Thursday. The judge fined 21, three failed to show up for trial and the remaining cases were set over until a later date for trial. Forty-two of the arrests were for operation of an automobile without proper headlights. In almost every case the driver pleaded guilty, giving defective wiring or a burned out globe as an excuse. The court accepted the excuses. The 21 persons fined paid $110.50 into the city coffers.

Portland Scenes Featured—The April number of the Crescent, the official publication of the Shrine, is to be devoted entirely to Portland and the national convention in June. A letter received from Harry Lewis, its editor, by the general committee, said the cover design was being done by a Portland firm and was a combination scene featuring Mount Hood, the Columbia river highway and other scenes, with Shriners frolicking over the landscape.

Dr. Robbins Speaks on Arbitration—The public will be welcomed to the north gallery of Central library tonight at 8:15, when Dr. E. C. Robbins will be given under the auspices of the Portland Federation of Churches by Dr. E. C. Robbins on "The Pitfalls of Industrial Arbitration." At the conclusion of the lecture there will be a discussion presided over by Otto Hartwig, president of the Oregon State Federation of Labor.

Lesson in Political Economy—The regular lesson in the course of political economy given by the United Labor and Labor league under auspices of the State Federation of Labor, will be given in the Study Hour room of the library tonight. The subject is to be "How Shall We Guarantee Permanent Employment?" A lecture will be given by P. E. Coulter, followed by questions and answers.

Traffic Duties to End—Notice has been received from the railroad administration by the Portland district freight traffic committee, that the committee will cease to function with the return of the roads to their private owners. W. Robinson is chairman of the committee.

Lecture on Birds—Herman T. Bohlin will give an illustrated lecture on birds before the Oregon Audubon society next Saturday night at 8 o'clock in Library hall. His subject will be "The Birds of Crater Lake National Park." The public is invited.

Laborer's Foot Crushed—J. N. Cline, 5822 Eighty-fourth street Southeast, a laborer employed by the Eastern & Western Lumber company, was struck by a piece of falling timber Thursday, his right foot being crushed. He was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital.
