AUTO OWNERS ARE JOLTED BY BOOST IN GASOLINE COST

Motorists calling at Standard Oil filling stations this morning for their daily supply of gasoline were surprised to see the price of the fuel had advanced overnight, retailing at 27 cents a gallon, the highest level it has reached yet in the history of coast fuel price fluctuations. Warning that this raise impended was given exclusively in The Journal five days ago and the information enabled many to purchase a season's supply at the old figure of 24 cents.

Late last night the Standard Oil company (California) received authority to make a raise of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline in all territory supplied from the California oil fields, 2 cents on distillates, 1 cent a gallon on all refined oils and 25 cents a barrel on fuel oil. The company also offers crude oil at the well at an increase of 25 cents a barrel for all grades.

INCREASE IS EXPLAINED

In accounting for the raise in prices, K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil company, says that the rise is purely for protective reasons, to guard against bulk shipments of products from California to the Atlantic seaboard, where prices prevail that would make it extremely profitable for speculators to buy the oil in the Southern state at reduced figures, ship it to the East and sell it at Eastern market figures. Such a practice, in the opinion of Kingsbury, would tend to cause a want of fuel here on the coast. The new price, he declares, will have a retarding effect on this practice.

Whether or not other oil companies will make a move to follow the lead of the Standard or whether they will fight the new price is not known. Austin D. Parker, manager of the Associated Oil company here, when asked concerning what plans his company might make, declared that no advices regarding a rise in the price had been received by him, and declined to hazard an opinion as to the effect the Standard's move would have on his company's price lists.

C. H. Fisher, manager of the Shell Oil company of California, is in Seattle today, but members of his staff in the local offices said they had as yet received no word at all from headquarters of their company regarding the increase. Victor H. Kelly, manager of the Union Oil company, declared that conditions all over the country undoubtedly warranted a rise in the price of fuel products and that while he had not received authority to make an increase or any information at all on the move made by the Standard, he was of the opinion that his company would announce similar rises within a short time.

The rise comes as no surprise to those who have been watching the market over the country for the past few weeks. Prices for crude oil of all grades at the well reached high figures two weeks ago.

ANOTHER RISE LIKELY

Whether or not the new price will have the effect claimed by the Standard Oil company's president is a matter of conjecture, but from all information available it seems likely that the 2 cent rise is merely preliminary to a greater increase within the next three months.

The differential in price between Oregon filling stations and those in other states in the West and Northwest continues to hold, owing to the law in this state requiring a gasoline of 56 degrees gravity. A road tax of 1 cent per gallon is also added on the price here to account for the 2½ cents difference.

TITANIC CLASH FOR CONTROL STIRS BERLIN

may sweep Von Kapp out of power and spread over Germany before Ebert can regain his former control. These fears were increased by reports of Bolshevist disturbances in South Germany.

"I am confident that President Ebert will finally be victorious, but it may be preceded by violent fighting," said Herr Mayer. "This would not only cripple Germany, but the allies as well, since it would weaken Germany's ability to pay indemnity."

FIRING HEAVY IN BERLIN; 10 MORE KILLED, MANY HURT

By Frank Mason

Berlin, March 16.—(Midnight)—(I. N. S.)—Firing has continued in many sections of Berlin. The shooting was especially heavy in Potsdamer Platz, Alexander Platz and Hallenghe Square. It was officially announced that 10 more persons have been killed and many wounded.

The revolutionary government fears to withdraw its troops because of the threat of the Spartacists to occupy the city. The Spartacists are constantly receiving reinforcements of armed workingmen.

The communist leader, Herr Levi, is reported to have been shot.

The real crisis is believed at hand and conservative leaders express the belief that it will require the cooperation of the revolutionary government and the old government of President Ebert to prevent Bolshevism.

The government continues to threaten public utility strikers with death.

It is reported that severe fighting continues at Kiel.

(A wireless press dispatch from Berlin on Monday reported that German war craft in the Kiel harbor was bombarding parts of the city held by the armed workmen.)

At Hanover the reichswehr is said to have joined the armed workers and agreed to support the new government.

The food situation is hourly becoming more dangerous as a result of the railway strike.

All of the Americans have now left the Adlon hotel because of the exposed position of the building in the event of heavy fighting in the city and also because of the strike of employes.

Crowds of foreigners stood for hours today before the restaurants that are still serving food. Most of the restaurants were closed.

BERLIN COLD AND HUNGRY, DARKENED AND UNBATHED

By Karl H. Von Wiegand

Berlin, March 17.—Berlin got up this morning cold, hungry, thirsty, tired, unbathed, unwashed after a night which for many was sleepless and black except when the darkness was rent by rifle fire in various sections of the city.

Many went to bed last night without dinner or even a cold snack. More got up to find there was no chance for breakfasting and little opportunity for washing. I paid $2 for enough water to wash in. In many respects, hotel guests were worse off than private families, because practically all employes have left them to shift for themselves.

The weather is mild today, which is fortunate because of the lack of heat, but intensifies the sanitary situation.

"Berlin stinks not only politically but actually" is the way one disgusted person accurately put it.

Hospitals are especially hard hit by the lack of heat, water and light. Delicate operations are rendered difficult. The hotels in the center of the city, especially the Adlon and Kaiserhoff, which are in the very center where the heaviest fighting may take place, are partly disorganized. Iron gates are up and screens cover the glass doors so that those who pass by may not look in.

I was up till towards morning. The streets were enveloped by complete darkness, intensified here and there by dim reflection in windows by flickering candles, the heavy tramp of occasional patrols, or the thundering of motor trucks filled with soldiers or armored cars dashing through the blackness.

Putting forth tremendous efforts the new government succeeded in getting a number of dynamos into operation in three power stations in the residential sections, but Berlin proper remains without light, without food and to a large extent, without water.

Kapp Holds Assemblymen

London, March 17.—(I. N. S.)—Officials of the German national assembly in Berlin were prevented by Von Kapp's army officers from leaving the city to attend the meeting of the assembly at Stuttgart, said an Exchang Telegraph dispatch from the latter city today. When the officials sought to leave Berlin they were seized by soldiers and held to prevent their escape from the city.

Soviet Is Attempted

London, March 17.—(I. N. S.)—Violent agitations for the establishment of a soviet republic at Berlin have been started by the Independent Socialists and Communists, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from the German capital this afternoon. The dispatch added that "the indignation of the Berlin masses against Von Kapp and his followers is growing beyond control."

Resignation Denied

London, March 17.—(I. N. S.)—Wolfgang von Kapp, chancellor of the revolutionary government at Berlin, had not resigned, but was still in control this morning, although his authority was hourly growing weaker, said official dispatches from Berlin to the foreign office at 11 o'clock.

Kaiser Has Callers

The Hague, March 17.—(U. P.)—Several prominent Germans arrived in automobiles at Amerongen yesterday for a visit to the former kaiser, according to advices here today. They were not admitted to see the former emperor despite repeated attempts.

Soviet Established

The Hague, March 17.—(I. N. S.)—A soviet has been established by the workers in Rhenish Prussia, but the communist movement at Dresden and Saarbruecken is said to have failed, according to late news from the German border today.

Seventeen More Killed

Copenhagen, March 17. — (I. N. S.) — Seventeen persons were killed or wounded in another burst of fighting between Spartacists and German troops at Hamburg, it was learned from that city this afternoon.

Noske Takes Munich

Commission in Silesia

The Hague, March 17.—(I. N. S.)—An autonomous communist state was proclaimed in Upper Silesia late Tuesday, but the supporters of the movement were overpowered by Van Kapp's troops, according to news from Berlin today.

Workers to Give Battle

Soviet Proclaimed

London, March 17.—(I. N. S.)—A soviet has been proclaimed in the suburbs of Berlin, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris this afternoon.

SIMS WANTED ALL NAVAL AFFAIRS IN HANDS OF BRITISH

Washington, March 17.—(U. P.)—Rear Admiral William S. Sims urged that entire control over naval operations during the war be turned over to one of th. allies, the others to put their resources at that nation's disposal, he disclosed in testimony before the senate naval affairs committee today.

Although he did not suggest that Great Britain was the nation to assume this unrestricted control, he pointed out to the navy department that she was bearing the brunt of the war and that London was the logical center for directing all allied naval operations.

The navy declined to take this view.

Sims declared he was denied such a staff as any business concern would have provided, that troop shipments were endangered because his staff was too small to handle necessary details, that repeated requests for extra help were ignored by Washington and that he was compelled to take commanding officers from destroyers to do office work necessary to protection of troops.

'I AM NOT CANDIDATE,' DECLARES W. J. BRYAN

theory that the Democratic party will not repudiate the principles on which it was built and on which it makes its appeal to the public.

"Democracy is a very old word and a word well understood all over the world. We sacrificed more than a hundred thousand precious lives and spent over $20,000,000,000 to make the world safe for democracy. To make our own senate safe for democracy is as little as we can do.

"If the Democrats in the senate, after fighting for the treaty for some eight months, now join the 'irreconcilable' enemies of the treaty to defeat the will of a majority, after that will has been emphatically expressed, we might as well go into involuntary bankruptcy.

DOESN'T LOOK POSSIBLE

"But I will not believe such a thing possible unless it is actually done.

"The Article X reservation was adopted by 56 to 26—that is four more than two thirds. If we subtract the votes of the 13-socalled 'irreconcilables' from the 56, we have 43 votes left—17 more than the 26 minority votes.

"All the reservations have been carried by a majority and most of them by two thirds. What moral influence can we hope to have in support of democracy in Europe if we are not willing to acquiesce in the will of the majority here?

"If the Democratic party thinks the senate made a mistake, it can appeal to the people to reverse the mistake at the polls, and instruct those elected this fall to restore any of the conditions stricken out if the people want them restored.

PARTY CAN'T AFFORD IT

"But the Democratic party can't afford to resist the application of its principles unless it is ready to go out of business and forfeit its right to a name which implies rule by the people."

Bryan will leave Washington tomorrow night for New York, after which follows a tour on the stump which will carry him into Nebraska before the April primaries. Here, in his home state, he is expected to have one of the hottest local fights of his life against the friends of Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, administration leader in the senate, and President Wilson's generalissimo in the treaty fight.

Inspectors Destroy Deviled Olive Relish In Cans at Yakima

Yakima, Wash., March 17.—Will H. Adams, state food commissioner; Mrs. Jessie Persels, city food inspector, and J. R. Elmore, sanitary inspector, destroyed 609 cans of deviled olive relish here. The cans had been on the shelves of local groceries here since August and were removed by Adams a week ago following advices from California that a woman had died there of poisoning from deviled olives.

Eight shipments of this product, the authorities found, came to the state of Washington. Eight cases were distributed by Yakima dealers and two cases divided between grocers in Buena, Mabton and Cle Elum. The last of these shipments was burned on the city dump here. The cans were split open and the contents burned with kerosene. Many of the cans exploded when punctured.

CAUSE OF LAWYER'S DEATH IS SOUGHT

was of the opinion the first diagnosis, that of acute heart disease, would stand.

Sinnott died at the family residence, Trinity Place apartments, at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening following an acute attack of heart disease.

Born at The Dalles, Or., on July 15, 1872, Sinnott was 48 years old at the time of his death. He had been a resident of Portland for nearly 20 years, practicing law here throughout that time, chiefly as a member of the firm of Sinnotot & Adams, with offices in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Sinnott was about town on Tuesday, although he had been ill for several days, to consult his physicians. When he returned home he complained of a weakened condition and died a few hours later, unexpectedly.

Sinnott was city recorder at The Dalles for some time following his graduation from Notre Dame university, and then came to Portland to practice law. Here he became a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the University club and was active in civic affairs throughout his career.

The attorney's parents were Nicholas Byrne and Bride Mary Sinnott, well-known early residents of Wasco county. His widow, Gertrude L. Sinnott, survives. Mrs. Sinnott was at her husband's bedside at the time of his death.

Patient of Early Day Praises Work Of Dr. Mackenzie

Vancouver, Wash., March 17.—E. J. O'Connell, secretary-treasurer of the Clarke County Farm Loan association, mourns the death of Dr. Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie as the passing of one of his dearest friends.

Between the ages of two and seven years O'Connell was operated upon by Dr. Mackenzie 14 times successfully for talepese varis. This was shortly after 1886, when Dr. Mackenzie began his career in Portland.

O'Connell has been used as a subject for lectures before clinics by Dr. Mackenzie many times. On one occasion, when the doctors of the entire Northwest were gathered in convention, a Dr. Phelps of New York city, skilled in that special kind of surgery, was giving the lectures.

O'Connell, then 15 years of age, was examined and Dr. Phelps congratulated Dr. Mackenzie highly on the success of his work.

None of the 14 operations performed on O'Connell cost O'Connell's parents a cent. They were in rather poor circumstances and Dr. Mackenzie made no charge.

President Submits To Camera for First Time Since Illness

Washington, March 17.—(I. N. S.)—President Wilson submitted to the photographers today for the first time since his illness. The president went for an automobile ride and agreed to allow photographers to take his picture as he drove from the White House grounds. Police officers have driven photographers away from the entrances of the grounds when the president was leaving heretofore. The presidential chauffeur was ordered to drive slowly for the benefit of the photographers.

New Recorder Named

Freewater, March 17.—The city council has named George P. Sanderson city recorder to fill the unexpired term of Ed Mason, who has moved to his ranch.

SAVE MONEY ON MEAT WEEK TO OPEN MARCH 29

"Save money on meat" week will begin March 29 in Oregon, Washington and California, the department of justice today announced after a nation-wide survey of the high cost of li.'.g.

According to official announcement, every effort will be made to reduce materially the prices of cuts of beef, pork and lamb, now in heavy demand, by showing consumers the advantage of turning to those cuts which are equally nutritious but less costly.

The announcement says:

"On each day of 'Save Money on Meat' week some particular cut or cuts of the inexpensive variety will be featured and will be sold at a low price. Retailers who hitherto have not carried in stock some of the less costly cuts because their customers did not ask for them, intend to lay in adequate quantities of such portions of meat. If the consumers will take advantage of the highly nutritious and palatable pieces of meat which are relatively inexpensive, the saving effected will be tremendous, and the slackened demand for the cuts now popular will result in lower prices thereon.

"Under present conditions the price of the choicest cuts are in extreme instances 50 or 60 cents higher per pound than the price of other good, wholesome meat from the same animal."

AUTO TOLLS SHOW DEATH STILL LURKS

law, have not always been arrested for failure, and very frequently citizens who witnessed collisions or were parties thereto, failed to testify against the violator of traffic law. If the damages are paid, the man responsible for a collision seldom goes to court.

The vigilance committee began work about February 1. Fewer than 20 reports are submitted daily by 250 men. A single motorcycle officer working all day, will often bring in that number.

The traffic committee of the safety council held three or four meetings and considered one way traffic. When that measure was beaten in the council by Commissioners Mann, Bigelow and Pier, the committee ceased to convene.

DELIVERY IS DELAYED

Captain Lewis of the traffic bureau has requested more men and additional motorcycles. The men were to come when the motorcycles were delivered. The council authorized the cycles about two months ago. They have not yet been delivered to the traffic bureau by the purchasing department of the city government.

A committee from one civic club made the following recommendations:

"Repeal all traffic ordinances that it is not intended to enforce, and enforce the balance to the letter. Get enough men.

"Make traffic regulations applicable to bicycles and pedestrians in the congested districts. Fine jaywalkers in the congested district for each offense.

"Educate the public by short crisp statements thrown on the screens of picture shows.

NEW LAWS URGED

"Make it legally possible to punish serious traffic violations by temporary confiscation of the machine.

"Have business houses agree to discharge employes for traffic violations.

"Take policemen from all unnecessary special assignments and put them on duty where they can enforce important ordinances."

No traffic ordinances have been repealed, and in comparatively few instances have they been enforced to the letter. Two speed officers have been dtailed to the traffic bureau since the campaign opened. One has been in the hospital for several weeks and is not yet on duty again.

Although traffic regulations already apply to pedestrians no jaywalkers have been arrested, and few, if any, warned.

Lieutenant Ervin of the traffic bureau is now throwing moving pictures on screens at schools, but no pictures have been displayed at the movie houses. A driver's license law was passed at the recent special session of the legislature.

Business houses, in most instances, are cooperating with the police department.

A very few officers have been transferred from other details to traffic.

The following organizations have declared by resolution and otherwise, that they want traffic laws rigidly enforced and are in favor of reducing the toll of acidents:

Portland city council, Portland Ad club, Rotary club, Realty board, Chamber of Commerce, National Safety council, Portland Housewives, Garage and Repairmen's association, Ministerial association, Business Women's club, Parent-Teacher association, City club, Civic league, Collegiate Alumnae, Kiwanis club, Federated Union of Women's clubs, Portland Women's club, Greeters of Oregon, East Side Business Men's club, City and County Medical association and Portland Research club.

It is the duty of the public to fully support the police and other agencies in fearlessly applying the law, and the right of the public to demand that the law be fearlessly applied as a means of arresting the careers of those who by violations of the law and failure to control their machines cause accidents and their aftermath.

Of the president's party, one was killed and another seriously injured while in Portland. Many wonder if gloom is to be thrown over the great Shriners' convention by similar accidents.

John A. Jeffrey Is Out for Office of District Attorney

Salem, March 17.—John A. Jeffrey, 414 McKay block, Portland, today filed with the secretary of state's office here, his nomination petition as a candidate for the Democratic nomination as district attorney for Multnomah county. Jeffrey declares that he is "independent of all cliques and factions" and promises to "fearlessly and honestly enforce the law."

Elwood Washington of Hammond, Ind., intimation of whose desire to serve as vice president of the United States was received in a letter to the secretary of state's office several days ago, today filed his formal nomination petition as a candidate for the Republican nomination. Washington's campaign card declares that his is the first of his name to be presented before a national political convention since the first president of the nation.

Other candidates filing today were.

W. H. Brooke of Ontario, Republican candidate for delegate to the national Republican convention from the second congressional district; Brooks declares for a return to the "principles of Washington, Lincoln, McKinley and Roosevelt."

P. J. Gallagher, Ontario, Republican candidate for reelection as representative from the twenty-seventh legislative district.

Noble Andrews, Myrtle Creek, Republican candidate for nomination of representative from Douglas county.

Deal for Leasing Hawley Paper Mill To Hearst Is Off

Oregon City, March 17.—W. P. Hawley Sr., president of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, upon his return this week from San Francisco announced that all negotiations for the lease of the big Hawley paper mill in this city to the Hearst interests has been definitely abandoned. Hawley had gone to San Francisco, accompanied by his attorneys, to hold a conference with the Hearst representatives, two of whom were in Portland a week ago. The Hearst people had originally planned upon an outright purchase of the mill at a price of $440 a share, but this fell through, and then the lease plan for a term of 10 years, with the option of buying, was taken up, only to fall through also.

Second Inquiry of Dempsey's Record Is Before Jurors

Mrs. Dempsey, who is here, admitted today that she knew Beulah Taylor. Mrs. Dempsey had expected to go before the grand jury today, but was not called.

Dempsey and Jack Kearns, his manager, will be arraigned in federal court Saturday on charges of conspiring to evade the draft.

Sentiment Is Strong For Bonus, Convill Will Assure Legion

Overwhelming sentiment of ex-service men in Oregon for beneficial legislation will be reported by James O. Convill when he attends a conference of American Legion leaders next week in Washington, D. C. He left Tuesday night.

According to a census among members of the 80 American Legion posts in Oregon, most of them favor a bonus, either in bonds or cash, equivalent to $50 for each month spent in service, or home aid. Eighty per cent of them desire enactment by congress within 60 days of the home aid bill, which allows loan of $4000 to ex-service men for a number of years.

While in Washington, Convill will also confer with the Oregon congressional delegation and advise them that Legionaires in Oregon are dissatisfied with the preferential rights granted them for filing on the Oregon and California land grant.

Grand Larceny Is Charged to Man From Walla Walla

Eugene, March 17.—W. E. Carter of Walla Walla is held in the Lane county jail on a charge of grand larceny preferred by Walla Walla officers. While in Eugene he posed under the name of W. A. Shortridge and was preparing to go extensively in the wool market business, with another man furnishing the money.

L. A. Overton, colored man, in whose fish shop was found 27 bottles of "near beer" that tested 3½ per cent alcohol, pleaded guilty and was fined $100.

A district internal revenue office will be established in Eugene April 1 and three men will be detailed to this district, which includes six counties in the Southwestern part of the state. The city gives free office rent and business men have agreed to furnish the rooms.

Postmaster P. L. Campbell announces that beginning May 17, the three rural mail carriers out of Eugene will be placed on a regular schedule.

No; we won't say that Schilling Tea makes 300 cups or 400 cups to the pound. We could say more, and could say less.

We don't know how large your cups are, nor how strong you like your tea, nor what flavor you like—for instance: Ceylon-India makes many more cups than Japan.

When we say a thing, we like to know what we're talking about.

But we will say this: a pound of Schilling Tea makes so many more cups than a pound of common tea, that it is really cheaper per cup.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon-India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchmyn-lined moisture-proof packages. At grocers everywhere.
