MAYOR BAKER HOLDS DAYLIGHT SAVING IS MUCH NEEDED HERE

City Commissioners Agree That It Is Good Plan; Difficulties Realized, However.

Mayor Baker and city commissioners are heartily in favor of a return to the daylight saving program that was in vogue during the last two years.

"I'm for the scheme—I always have been," said Mayor Baker. "It was a mistake for congress to repeal the law. In starting work an hour earlier every man is given a chance to enjoy an hour more of daylight at the close of the day's work."

"I'm an early riser and I hope we return to daylight saving during the summer months," said Commissioner Pier. "In these days of high prices daylight saving will give the poor man a chance to save a little by putting in a garden during the late afternoon."

Commissioners Barbur and Mannlike favor the scheme of starting work an hour earlier, appointing only those deputies to serve under him who are of proven qualification and efficiency.

Prospectors for Oil Lease 3000 Acres of Land in Lane County Eugene, March 20.—Leases on more than 3000 acres of land have been filed for record within the past few days in what is known as the oil district of Lane county, about seven miles south-west of Eugene.

While there is no special building activity in Eugene, building permits show that the season has now commenced. The past week work began on the Oeburn extra story, 110 cost about $30,000 and yesterday L. G. Hullin of Springfield announced that work would begin at once on the erection of a one story hollow tile building in the business section of the city to cost $10,000.

Valuable Orchard In Medford Section Sold for $45,000 Medford, March 20.—The second big sale of orchard property here this week has just been announced in the purchase of Brookhurst, the orchard north-east of Medford, formerly owned by Dr. E. H. Pickett of this city.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE IS CHIEF CAUSE OF WOMEN TRODDING WRONG PATH

Women's Protective Bureau Report Shows 185 Cases Were Disposed of.

Even though February is the shortest month of the year the work of the women's protective bureau was as great as that of other months, according to the monthly report of Mrs. G. J. Frankel, filed with the chief of police. The report shows that 185 cases were handled during the month by the 10 workers.

Nineteen of the women and girls were taken before the domestic court of relations, 41 were given advice and not punished, 17 children were taken home and given another chance, 26 are still held under investigation, five were taken before the municipal judge and five before the district attorney. The balance of the women have been placed with charitable institutions or in hospitals.

The cases are grouped as insane, in-ferrible, immoral, sick, runaway, theft, feeble minded and domestic trouble. The workers find that the last named is responsible for a great part of their work. Parental neglect also exists in many cases where runaway girls are arrested by the workers.

A few of the cases handled by the bureau are pitiful. Mothers with a large family and a cruel husband will appeal for protection. A home is found for the children during the day, while the mother goes out and earns a living. Parents die and leave children orphaned. The workers see that a temporary home is furnished until the court finds a permanent home for the unfortunate ones.

The workers visited 134 homes, 29 offices and hotel rooms and 74 public places. They furnished 104 meals and lodged to eight persons. The dance industry working out of this office, gave permits for 240 public dances and eight free dances.

Merit of American And English Heavy Guns Is Discussed The naval officer of the navy recruiting station at Third and Washington streets, points out that the relative merit of English and American large caliber guns has occasioned much discussion in naval circles.

The 14-inch guns of the California are superior to the 15-inch guns carried by the H. M. S. Queen Elizabeth, he says. One phase of the argument points out that the extremely high muzzle velocity which gives the 14-inch guns superiority is too great to be of practical value and as a consequence the guns might prove short lived in an engagement of only great length. In the future our capital ships probably will mount 16-inch rifles, he says.

The guns to be carried by battle cruisers and battleships Nos. 43 to 54 will be 16-inch 50 caliber as originally intended. The muzzle energy of these guns will be 115,000 foot-tons, and 190 of these guns are to be manufactured. The projectile fired will weigh 2100 pounds and the entire number will be capable of firing nearly 200 tons of metal at a time. In order to do this, 125,000 pounds of smokeless powder will be burned in one twentieth of a second, and the energy thus expended would be capable of lifting the U. S. S. New Mexico to the top of the Washington monument.
