

Social Quietude Becomes Greater As Easter Nears

By Helen H. Hutchison

IN the spring the maiden's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of many pleasant things, mostly, perhaps, at this time, to the frolics and furbelows for the coming Easter parade, and in the meantime social frivolities, which are always few in Lent, suffer a noticeable lapse. The past week, however, has been unusually gay considering the season, because of the opening of the Arcadian gardens at the Multnomah hotel. On St. Patrick's day in the evening society was most enthusiastic in its response to the invitation to play, under the influence of the bright lights and music again. Supper parties by the dozen, large and small, testified to the popularity of the "new place to dance" in the city.

The community clubs, Portland Heights, Rose City Park and Laurelhurst, have added their quota of functions to the list of dances during the past week, and the Drama League lectures given by William Butler Yeats, the Irish poet and dramatist, on Friday evening, brought forth a representative assembly of Portland folk.

Plans for the Easter vacation days and the entertainment of the college folk who will be home in a short time, are already looming large on the social horizon.

Little Barbara Koehler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Koehler, was honored at a birthday party Monday, guests including ten young mothers and their babies, who spent the afternoon at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cook are expected to arrive in the city from the South this week. Mr. and Mrs. Cook have been visitors in San Francisco and have been motoring through Southern California.

Miss Charlie Fenton is spending the week in Portland at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. R. Fenton, at the King Hill apartments. Miss Fenton is alumni secretary at the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foster Metcalf (Dorothy Parsons) of Danville, Ky., are visitors in the city at the home of Mrs. Metcalf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Seely Parsons in Council Crest Drive.

Mrs. Guy M. Standifer and daughter and Miss Gertrude Klotzner, who have been sojourning in California for a number of weeks, returned to Portland Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Kerr and their daughter Isabel have returned to Portland following an extended trip to Australia, where they visited Mrs. Kerr's parents at Sydney.

Mrs. Harry Keyes Brooks, who has been a frequent visitor in Portland, has been seriously ill in a hospital in Philadelphia but is now convalescing at Atlantic City, N. J.

Miss Genevieve Thompson, who has been in San Francisco for some months, expects to leave for Southern California this week to spend some time before returning to Portland.

wha Williams and John E. Tucker was quietly solemnized just before high noon Wednesday at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Tucker, in Hoyt street. Covers were placed for eight guests at a table decked with yellow jonquils. Guests for the affair were Mrs. Youmen, Mrs. A. L. Fraxey, Mrs. Charles L. Bose, Mrs. Frederick A. Kribb, Mrs. Harry Donovan, Mrs. Ward Bowles, Miss Hanita Mayer, Mrs. Abe Tichner and Mrs. Benjamin F. Weaver.

Miss Pauline Wolfard, whose marriage to John Mortimer Bruhn will be an event of the near future was the guest of honor at an informal tea for which Miss Gladys Yoe was hostess Friday afternoon. Guests for the affair included a group of the school friends of the bride-elect.

Mrs. Alice Benson Beach expects to leave Portland in a fortnight for San Francisco to visit her young son, Benson, who is in school there. Mrs. Beach will be accompanied by her little daughter and will spend the Easter holidays in the South.

Collegiate Dance Party Planned Easter Monday To Very Eagerly To Be Big Event

MEMBERS of the younger school set are looking forward with interest to the collegiate dance to be given at the Multnomah hotel Thursday evening April 1.

Presidents Anderson and Teutsch of Oregon and O. A. C. student bodies anticipate a large informal dance which will tend to bring the college folk of those institutions and the high school students of Portland in closer touch with each other, and promote a better acquaintance among the college and high school students.

A member of each high school will be chosen to assist the committee and together with the representatives of the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural college, University of Washington and Stanford university, will be in active charge of the dance and will serve as a reception committee.

Something unusual in a specialty number will be introduced on this occasion. President Kerr of O. A. C., President Campbell of the University of Oregon and Mayor George L. Baker have been invited to act as patrons for the affair.

Mrs. H. C. Wortman was guest of honor at luncheon Wednesday for which Mrs. L. Van Duyn was hostess. The table was centered with yellow jonquils and greenery in artistic arrangement. Guests included Mrs. Wortman, Mrs. Charles E. Wolverton, Mrs. Charles E. Curry, Mrs. George Lawrence, Mrs. Frank Van Duyn and Miss Ella Stevens.

Mrs. Warren E. Thomas was hostess for an informal tea at her home in North Twenty-fourth street Thursday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Wortman, who left Saturday evening to sail for the Orient. Guests included only a few of the close friends of the honor guest and members of the board of the MacDowell club, with whom Mrs. Wortman was associated. Mrs. Dent Mowrey presided at an informal tea at her home in Trinity Place apartments Sunday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Wortman. During the afternoon an informal program was given by Dent Mowrey and Miss Margaret Ames of Seattle, who is a visitor in the city. Mrs. Edwin Seely Parsons presided at the tea table.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Leiby, who have been in California for the winter, are in Portland and will spend several months with their son, Erwin G. Leiby, before returning to their home in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. John Manning and family have sold their home in Irvington and are domiciled in Trinity Place apartments.

THE post-Lenten party to be given on Easter Monday by the Catholic Women's league, assisted by a number of the other prominent Catholic organizations of the city, gives promise of being one of the largest and most delightful affairs of the spring. The entire mezzanine floor of the Hotel Multnomah has been engaged for the affair. A large number of card tables will be arranged in the hollyhock room and in the peacock room and both "500" and bridge will be played and handsome prizes will be awarded.

Dancing will be enjoyed in both the ballroom and the assembly room, two orchestras having been engaged. Refreshments will be served in the tea room. Prominent women will act as patronesses and a number of attractive girls will serve on the reception committee to welcome and introduce everyone, thus insuring all a good time.

Following are the committees from the various organizations that are interested themselves in the success of the party: General manager, F. J. Hanley; secretary, A. B. Cain; treasurer, Daniel Maher; committee from Catholic Women's league, Mrs. J. C. Costello, Mrs. Frank F. Harter, Mrs. Daniel Maher, Mrs. J. E. Forestel, Mrs. Helen Jackson Banghart, Mrs. B. Gildner, Mrs. F. L. Benedict, Mrs. Nell Sullivan, Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. J. D. Sullivan, Mrs. J. N. Cagay; Knights of Columbus, Patrick Bacon, Frank P. Harter, H. P. Brennan, C. Bauman, Frank Schneider, P. J. Vogl, Z. J. Foeller, Miss J. Sweeney, Barde Coffey; Daughters of Isabella, Miss Genevieve Ryan, Mrs. J. J. Burke, Mrs. Frank W. Clifford; Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, Mrs. W. J. Kelly, Mrs. Thatcher, Mrs. G. M. Hawes; Catholic Order of Foresters, M. J. Malley, L. P. Morrow, R. W. Lane, A. C. Greenwood, J. P. Miller; Ancient Order of Hibernians, M. J. Driscoll, John B. Coffey, J. E. Forestel, F. Mallon, R. Magulgan, F. Rice; Ladies auxiliary of the Hibernians, Mrs. E. H. Deery, Miss Anna Kearns, Mrs. Della Lillis; St. Marys alumnae, Miss Mazie Murphy, Miss Florence Sullivan, Miss Margaret Casey, Miss Goulda Goulet, Miss Hermine Albers, Miss Catherine Meagher, Miss Loretta Chapman.

Mrs. F. C. Norris left Portland on Saturday for California to spend about two months. She will spend the first few weeks of her visit in the South with her sister-in-law in San Francisco, later going to Southern California to visit friends.

Colonel and Mrs. William Ellis were hosts for a birthday party at their home in Alameda Park, honoring their young son, William, who celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary on Sunday. Guests for the occasion included six of his little playmates, among whom were Warren Erwin, Jack Bold, James Caris, Robert Wiley and John Erwin.

Easter Fashions

Depicting Spring's Most Charming Modes

Throughout the entire store you'll find evidences that the Emporium is prepared for Easter. Displays of ready-to-wear apparel are complete in variety, style and quality—splendid values representing real merchandising achievement.

Of First Importance Is the Easter Suit

Varied Style and Fabric at $49.50, $59.50, $69.50

Tricotine is the favored material, especially in navy blue, for it combines smartness with serviceability. Men's wear serge, jersey and velour are also good. These suits invite attention by ripple jackets, tucked backs, distended pockets, fancy vests, trim, youthful lines.

A Noteworthy Selection of Silk Frocks

$39.50, $47.50, $59.50

Taffeta is prominent, of course, either alone in its crisp daintiness or combined with filmy figured georgette. Crepe de chine, crepe meteor and tricolette are included. Modes developed along straight lines or wide at the hips, with drapery pleating or ruffling.

Tricotine Frocks for Street Wear

$39.50, $49.50, $59.50

Interesting style departures and novel trimming of braid or embroidery stamp these frocks as the latest mode. For bright spring days one increases their usefulness by discarding the coat and adding a chic fur neckpiece. (Yes, we have fur scarfs, also.)

Only two weeks until Easter, and here are helpful suggestions for new wearables.

Short Coats Are in Vogue
$35.00 $45.00 $55.00

Coats on sports lines, modishly styled and of comfortable weight. Polo cloth, jersey and velour are well liked materials. Tuxedo or throw collars of angora distinguish some, while smart belts of leather or cloth are ever present.

Select Your New Blouse From This Display

New Hip-Length Blouses of Printed Georgette $19.50	Crepe de Chine Blouses $5.95 $7.50 $8.95
Dainty things in delightful color combinations, collarless, short-sleeved, tying at the hip in sash ends.	Heavy quality crepe leagues itself with clever styling. Modified tailored modes. White, flesh and colors.
Georgette Blouses White and Flesh $17.50 $19.50 $21.50	New Smocks and Casques $4.95 $5.95 $6.95
Real filet lace or hand embroidery lends a touch of elegance to their simplicity.	Gaily colored garments of LINON resembling WONDERLIN, closely resembling linen. Roseda, cherry, open, rose, leather, salmon and white are the hues, offset with striking designs in wool yarn embroidery.

Hats—Good-Looking and Modestly Priced

$7.50, $8.50, $10.50, $12.50

A wonderful variety of clever styles at these small prices is shown on the third floor. Shining straws, lustrous braids and brilliant flowers are a part of their charm—developed by artist-designers along style tendencies. With so many modish hats bidding for favor it is a delightful task to choose between them.
